EAST ORANGE, NEW JERSEY 07018

copy 1

TO the Board of Education, to the faculty, to the alumnae and alumni, to the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Eight, and to the rest of the student body, we present this volume of the SYLLABUS in the hope that years from now, as you linger over its pictures or read again the old familiar names, it will bring you fond memories of your happy experiences and many friends in East Orange High School.

PRESENTATION

To Miss Lilla R. Birge

in sincere acknowledgement of our deep indebtedness to her for her devotion to the students of this school in all their activities, for her constant interest in their progress, and for her willingness to share with them her own cultural attainments we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Eight, dedicate this volume of the SYLLABUS.

History of the

OUR class entered the High School in a particularly confused state, bewildered by the size of the building and the rush of activity. We were further bewildered by trying to choose from the maze of clubs, plays, and sporting events which crowded upon us from every side.

This, our freshman year, was an especially active one for clubs. The Scribbler's Club, the Creative Writing Club, and the Cinematography Study Group were just swinging into stride; and we answered the call of every extra-curricular activity from astronomy to pawn-pushing.

Late in the year the High School News, which had been published previously as a page in the East Orange Record, made a reappearance as a separate publication.

The play, Big Hearted Herbert, given by Buskin and Brush, was enthusiastically received, and the Glee Club concert carried off honors.

The year in sports was marked by the defeat of Barringer in the great Turkey-Day classic; the score was Barringer, 12; East Orange, 19.

Sophomore

President	ROBERT WILSON
Vice-President	WILLIAM CARROLL
Secretary	VIRGINIA LEE

Feeling quite at home and very superior to the new freshmen, we moved into our sophomore year, a most active one. The social life began to ensnare new victims from among us, as well as the many clubs, the News Board, and Buskin and Brush.

The high point of the year on the stage was the production of the student-written musical variety-show, Stuff'n'Nonsense, in which members of every class, as well as many teachers, enthusiastically participated. The Bishop Misbehaves, the annual full-length play, was also a great success.

Many new students entered from Junior High School to swell the ranks of our class and to provide us with new friends.

The fencing team had a banner year, defeating Barringer and becoming well known not only in our own locality but also throughout the country. The track team won the state championship, and both the basketball and the football teams made fine records. We really consider our sophomore year a success.

President	ROBERT WILSON
Vice-President	VIRGINIA LEE
Secretary	JOSEPHINE MCCLAVE

Probably the most interesting and the most delightful year of our high school life, our junior year, found our class enjoying its position as a member of the upper classes. One regrettable incident of the year was the disbanding of the Astronomy Club, a veteran among E.O.H.S. clubs; but new organizations, including the Opera Club, the Tropical Fish Club, the Library Club, and the Stamp Club, sprang up in its wake.

Again the auditorium took the spotlight with the all-student talent reviews which were arranged with Nutley High School as goodwill exchange programs. From the music department Mr. Jones and Mr. Herfurth brought the capably directed operetta, the Pirates of Penzance, in which two juniors took leading parts. Buskin and Brush produced Rossum's Universal Robots, a play which used much junior talent.

The fencing team again out-did itself with a wonderful performance, standing high in national interscholastic competition. When we look back on this, our first year as upper classmen, we shall certainly have many pleasant memories.

Senior

President	DAVID HEALY
Vice President	DONALD ADAMS
Secretary	VIRGINIA JORDAN

Our Senior year was a memorable one, despite the prospect of leaving the school in which we had had so many good times.

The music department followed last year's musical triumph with De Koven's Robin Hood, in which three of our class played important parts. At Christmas time the Glee Club concert, in which Coakly's cantata, When the Christ-Child Came, was sung, was hailed enthusiastically.

Buskin and Brush produced Mr. Simpson's Castle, a short one-act comedy, and a full length play, The Late Christopher Bean, in which several members of our class took main parts.

Also we accomplished many other things. Our athletic teams did well; our social committee gave two enjoyable dances; our News was a great success; and our Student Council succeeded in publishing the E.O.H.S. Handbook.

At the end of the year some sad faces were seen, but they were soon lost in the whirl of graduation excitement, and our high school days ended in a burst of celebration and anticipation.

I cut these out to send to our Alma Mater to show how famous the class of '38 has become - how indispensable we are now.

Still a highlight at the Hotel Twickenham's Bubble Room are the Three Dukes, Kurtz, Gibbins, and Decker, whose unusual renditions of Life Is Bliss bring the patrons to their feet every night. The Three Dukes have received numerous offers from Hollywood, singly from the Goldsmiths.

At Pete Sundheim's Baran grill, the popular eating spot on Broadway, the Rothlisberger Broadcasting System honored their president and also Kathleen Cowles, who won the Schliemann medal last year for her scripts for children's programs. These scripts were later bought for some huge sum by Poston's Toastons, the breakfast food for children. Present, much in evidence, was the new Rothlisberger find, the crooner Billy Costelloe. Crooner Costelloe's voice is heard nightly in the Sosna Stocking Hour.

It was Vermilyea, buyer for Hinman and Haldeman, New York's largest credit department store, who was responsible for introducing to New York the Shoe Hat, which is so popular in Paris. This shoe hat is very likely to become the latest feminine rage, as was the Ducky Rain Coat featured last year by Ruth Hindenlang. Soon we shall see shoes of all kinds gracefully inverted on the top of all the otherwise demure young women.

It was Warren Collins, the new Parks Commissioner, who was indirectly responsible for the changed appearance that the Mulligan Street dump has assumed—that of a beautiful park with young recreational facilities for young and old alike. Much credit goes to Collins' secretary, a certain Miss Bissell, and the energetic social worker, Dorothy Kast. These two appeared in person at Boss Mulvihill's private office. The fight for funds—the drive for the new addition to the City Center Hospital, headed by Doctor William G. Slocum, was aided by a contribution reputed to be in five figures, given yesterday by Donald Adams, renowned steel magnate, who recently went into partnership with Bisgeier and Company, manufacturers of pipe connections. The new addition will house the numerous

The new women's magazine, the Baroness, edited by Elinor Dickie, and now vying with the nation's best, features this week an article by Hinman and Haldemann's personnel director, Jane Ballard—Nice Work and You Can Get It—on how to get a job in the business world and keep it. The cleverly drawn jackets for the Baroness are those by Jack Kiernan, the illustrator, now so popular with the vixens. The last cover smooth.

The opening night of the Metropolitan, even better attended than before, brought forth the customary array of sables, ermines, and glittering jewels. Heading the gathering of feminine pulchritude, was Claire Kaysel, newly returned from Paris, and Virginia Lee, who recently inherited the Sutter billions. The young lady refused to divulge her plans as to how this money would be spent, but it is common talk that she is interested in starting a racing stable. The much discussed opera Feuer Fresser, by James X. Blish, was vividly presented with a superb cast featuring, in the leading roles, Doris Biela and Audrey DuPont. On hand as always was the Metropolitan's famous doorman, Bobby Eklund, who has now become a tradition in the musical world. Manager William Stewart announced that Curtis Peckovitch had thoroughly lived up to their expectations of him as the fiery orchestra leader. Peckovitch is known to stop suddenly in the middle of a stirring passage at rehearsal, and light a cigar. "Now, boyiss, ve do dis right or not," he shrieks and

Controversy is still going on in educational circles over Professor A. Lupia's new book on student life in American colleges. Lupia made some rather startling statements and condemned some of the well-known colleges for their social programs. Barbara Dunlop of the newly established Keats College, and the noted woman educator, Wilma Fahr, are foremost among those opposing the publication. This is the second time that the dynamic

That energetic fellow, the bombastic labor leader, Hilbert U. Fierstman, held another of his gigantic rallies last night at Madison Square Garden. Hilly astonished everyone by passing out all-day suckers to the kiddies present. What does this signify? They say the U. in his name is for Union or else.

In behalf of women presiding a violent demonstration was held at the City Hall by the Women's Political League headed by Louise Ormond and Jean Shrader. These two recently gained the support of the famous criminal lawyer, Joan Weir, and the district attorney, Robert Walker. The league last week succeeded in putting before the Assembly the bill

Recently called to Washington for conference with the President were Robert Wilson, famous brewer head, and John Burke, manager of the Leahy-Valley Railroad System. These two are regarded by the President to be representatives of the business world.

Everyone who has visited Palm Beach this year still talks of a certain life guard who holds the beach record for saving drowning admirers. The name is Healy, they say. But even more striking than his brilliant aquatorial prowess is his pair of bright yellow trunks (not to mention the tattooing on chest).

A biography of the scientist by Arthur Johnson, recently compiled by Arthur Steger and Johnson's secretary, Eileen Hauck, will be featured in the Science Notebook of this month. Johnson discovered several new elements and thus blasted name, and that of Andrew Martin, eminent chemist, now recuperating in the City Center Hospital from an explosion, were mentioned in regard to the annual award of Much ado arose about something which Alexander M. Bell on the nightly news program said concerning Senator Schaefer and his fiery speech against monopolies. Close friends of the Senator said that Bell exaggerated many of the Senator's statements. His secretary, Joan Judd, hinted that the Senator would sue the Burns Birdseed Corporation, which is sponsoring Bell's broadcast. Bell has been sued many times during the last year, lately by the former Barbara Carman, now wife of the billionaire

A certain Bobby Phair holds one of the queerest jobs we have heard of yet, that of general receptionist and interpreter at Yosha's, the city's finest importing company. At Yosha's, one finds not only the elite of imported goods, silks, teas, rare wines, carvings, but the elite of the foreigners. Daily, Miss Phair meets short dark Italians, wide Chinese, lanky Swedes, precise Frenchmen, and helps to get them exactly what they are looking for. When asked if she would spend her next vacation abroad, she mumbled some unintelligible words under her breath, and then said, "Isn't it enough that I hardly remember how to talk some good straight American?" So we'll probably see her at Coney Island next July. Manager Lowell Bennett is generally seen serving claret to all the Frenchmen. We went up and said "We parles la French"—And he showed us the nearest exit. But we do

That bank teller, Ray Mercy, who last week foiled a burglary attempt at the City Savings Bank, received we hear, some five thousand dollars for his quick-wit. Mercy threatened to kill him at the least movement; Miss Rosemary Vittel, stenographer, gives a thrilling verbal picture of Mercy's gallantry, and an admirable imitation of the gunman's "I'll drill you chock full of holes, lady"

At the Sugar Cane Club, students from the Duffield Dancing School have been demonstrating the new dance craze, the Honeybear Hop. Leading this group were two talented lasses, Marge Klein and Martha Gerstung. The Club, one of the most exclusive of the many here in town, still retains its wide reputation for maple sugar dishes of all kinds and crepes suzettes. The head waiter, known as Garcon Hurlburt, has excellent taste and is much liked by all the patrons for

The Shakespearian actor, Robert Hamilton, again startled the men's fashion world here by appearing at Miss Shirley Pratt's Charity Ball, in a red and blue football jersey under his impeccably tailored tuxedo. Last spring, Mr. Hamilton, while here with Amy Granger for their performances in The Taming of the Shrew, appeared at the Sugar Cane Club in this same jersey with grey flannels. Hamilton wears tennis shoes to all rehearsals and his seven or eight tennis shoes

Jo McClave arrived here yesterday from Hollywood before going on location for her next picture. She is staying at the Twickenham Hotel, whose chef, Billy Bingham, recently became famous for his new dessert, Phosphate Pudding. In the hotel's renovated Bubble Room, newly decorated by Jan Smith, Steve Dunton and his band are swinging, and Ellen May Carlson is singing Dot Lewis's newest song hit, Life Is Bliss. Class Will

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT

• We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-eight, being now of as sound mind and memory as can be expected after our recent four years of torturing labor, and in view of our certain departure from this form of life into another, do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last Will and Testament in manner and form following:

First:

To our dearly beloved Alma Mater we do give and bequeath our profoundest love and deepest gratitude for all that she has done for us in shaping our character and preparing us for our future life.

Second:

To our eldest successor, the class of nineteen hundred thirty-nine, we give and bequeath the responsibility of upholding the good name of East Orange High School and the privilege of lording it over the younger members of this institution. We do caution this class also to bear itself in such a way as to be worthily entitled to the respect due it as the eldest and wisest.

Third:

The class of nineteen hundred forty we do admonish to obey and coöperate with the class of nineteen hundred thirty-nine in all particulars. We do likewise give and bequeath to the class of nineteen hundred forty our most precious red and blue pins—this bequest only to be carried out on their having proved themselves worthy of such honor.

Fourth:

We give and bequeath to the class of nineteen hundred forty-one the unduly arrogant conceit which comes of having at least one class beneath it, and the pleasure of feeling grown up and worldly.

Fifth:

To the infant class of nineteen hundred forty-two, we give and bequeath our most sincere sympathy for the bewildering life it will lead as the youngest of the family and the butt of many tricks. We do also leave a number of lipsticks to be proudly applied to hundreds of little cupid bows and a number of shiny razors to be gingerly scraped over sundry tender, little faces.

Sixth:

We bequeath likewise several other gifts, in manner and form following:

- (a) To the teachers of E. O. H. S. we return the patience which we made them lose so many times during the past four years.
- (b) To the flagpole of E. O. H. S. we bequeath a new red, white, and blue flag.
- (c) To the new coach we leave the hope and prospect of a new set of eleven stalwart specimens.
- (d) To the eleven stalwart specimens, we bequeath the E. O. H. S. pigskin in the hope that they will carry it to a glorious victory over our rival, Barringer.

In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our name and affixed our seal.

(Signed) THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED THIRTY-EIGHT

Signed and published in the presence of us who now subscribe our names as attesting witnesses to the above Will.

Student Council

THE Student Council started its 1937 and 1938 activities by approving for Corridor Patrol duty the lists of boys and girls submitted to it.

Next the Council, at the suggestion of Hilbert Fuerstman, decided to bind the News in forty volumes. It also planned for a sum to be put aside each year to pay for the binding of that year's volume, so that in the future the series might be kept up to date.

The Council arranged for an exchange program with Nutley, too, but gave to the Class Councils the responsibility for the development of the program itself.

The most important work of the year was that of completing the E. O. H. S. Handbook, a desire of student councils for some years. The contents include the E. O. H. S. Creed, the staff and foreword, general information, student government organization, extra-curricular activities, and the system of honors and awards. The Student Council believes that in the completion of this book, it has fulfilled a positive need of the student body.

Senior Class Council

BECAUSE of the popularity of the Variety Show given last year in an exchange program with Nutley High School, the Senior Class Council undertook to arrange another one for this year. The first step in the preparations was to consult with other class councils. It was finally agreed that each class would develop a class program, from which the best talent would be selected for the Nutley Program.

From the programs presented by the four classes, the most talented performers were chosen, and then trained for the exchange program, which was first presented here. As a very colorful background for the performance there was the newly organized Red and Blue Orchestra, a group selected from the high school musicians. This year the organization was outfitted with smart-looking cream-colored jackets; and new, brightly painted music stands were supplied them.

It is generally conceded that this year's Nutley Exchange Program was the best ever, and the Senior Class Council thanks all the other class councils for their hearty coöperation.

THE Girls' Court, with four senior and four junior judges, holds jurisdiction over all types of offenses committed in school. Two of the eight judges meet each of the first four days of the week, and on Friday the entire court meets to discuss difficult or interesting cases, which may have come up during the week.

The procedure of the court is as follows: the C. P. states the case, the defendant is then permitted to state her case; after this any witnesses are heard. The senior judges do the interrogation; the junior judge is permitted to question. Then the C. P., witness, and defendant leave the room while the judges deliberate and after the deliberation they are recalled for the sentence.

THE Boy's Court has just completed a very successful year under the leadership of its seven judges. These include three senior judges and four junior judges. At the beginning of the school year, his colleagues elected Fred Brown to the position of chief justice.

The Court's cases ranged from smoking on the school grounds to being off-grounds during school hours. The court follows stern procedure in dealing with its cases. The C. P. who issued the summons states the case as he sees it. The offender is given an opportunity to defend himself, and then the judges make their decision. The customary penalty is detention, although in extreme cases the defendants are referred to the school authorities, who determine the penalties.

ACTIVITIES

Dramatics

School Dramatics—(a laughing youth in a multi-colored costume)—Pray tell me, father, what will those of future years have to say about the dramatics of 1938?

Father Time—(the gray-bearded gentleman with the scythe)—They will speak with awe and admiration of your manifold accomplishments, my son. Especially will they praise the fine production of The Late Christopher Bean, the full-length play which was so admirably directed by Miss Jeanette Bjorneby and which had such a worthy and efficient cast.

School Dramatics—Yes, indeed, that was a triumph.

Father Time—Nor will they speak slightly of nor soon forget the success of that one-act novelty, Mr. Simpson's Castle, which was so ably acted by Marion Phillips, Phyllis Boarman, Amy Jane Granger, Nan Blair, Theodore Watson, George Wakely, William Berner, and Robert Hamilton.

School Dramatics—And surely, Father, they will not overlook The Grand Cham's Diamond, that mystery drama given under the spirited direction of Mr. Lawrence B. Goodrich and skillfully acted by Gertrude Thomson, Guy Turner, William Cronk, Charlotte Clutton, Helen Beal, and William Davis.

Father Time—Indeed, not, my son. And there was also Buskin and Brush's inimitable performance of The Red Lamp.

School Dramatics—Yes, and do not forget that The Red Lamp was also given for Nutley High School.

Father Time—At Christmas time there was a tableau presented at the Glee Club's Christmas Concert.

School Dramatics—Of course, Gertrude Schongar, John McGahey, John Barone, William Conkling, William Cronk, Harlan Husted, Harry Taylor, Joel Balsam, Kirtland Flynn, and William Raub were in it. It would appear that we of 1938 shall rank with the best of years.

Father Time—Quite true, my son, quite true.

Glee

ON December of 1937 the combined Glee Club, A Cappella Choir, and Spirituals Choir presented a Yuletide Concert which included a Christmas tableau and the Cantata, When the Christ Child Came. The group also made its annual caroling trip through the community and participated in the carol service at the City Hall. In April with the assistance of the High School Orchestra, the Physical Education, the Sewing, the Art, and the Dramatic Departments, the Glee Club staged Reginald DeKoven's well-known operetta, Robin Hood.

During the year, the Spirituals Choir and the A Cappella Choir also gave several concerts for out-of-school organizations.

This year's Glee Club Officers were Robert Eklund, President; Doris Biela, Vice-President; Alice Peterson, Secretary; Matthew Kurtz, Business Manager; Betty Schrade and William Stewart, Librarians; Ellen May Carlson and Nelma Lindstrom, in charge of the Wardrobe. The officers of the Spirituals Choir were Thomas Greene, President; Doris Cushnie, Vice-President; Pearl Maddox, Secretary; Irma Welch, Librarian; Quentin White and Mabel Gordon, in charge of the Wardrobe.

THE E. O. H. S. Band made its initial appearance at the football field, where it played spirited music. Also, for the purpose of providing additional music for school sports, a drum and bugle corps was organized this year with Jay Cox as drum-major. As yet it is very new, but we expect great things of it in the future.

As usual East Orange was well represented at the All-State Orchestra Concert at Atlantic City. Our delegates were Jeanne Greenan, Mary Dewar, Edith Southgate, Beverly Wilson, Gertrude Thomson, Helen Gitzendanner, and Barbara Corin. The orchestra and band also participated in the Eastern U. S. Band and Orchestra Contest which was held in Albany on May 25th and 27th.

A selected orchestra provided between-the-acts music for the annual play, The Late Christopher Bean, and played for the operetta Robin Hood.

A concerto for piano and orchestra with William Kurzban as piano soloist was the novel part of the program at the spring concert of the band and orchestra. This concert concluded another successful year under the competent supervision of Mr. C. Paul Herfurth.

News Board

THE News Board still keenly recalls how the veterans of '37 bade a hasty adieu and graduated, leaving an announcement that produced many side glances and knowing smiles—namely, that two girls were to take over the editors' positions that two boys had held before them.

The jeers subsided, and the cheers increased as the year proceeded. Piloted by Jean Shrader as editor-in-chief and Ruth Bonynge as managing editor, the News fully lived up to the standard set by the preceding editors. A new kind of type was introduced, which greatly improved the appearance of the paper, and several news columns were added. The Barringer issue, it was unanimously agreed, far outshone any ever published before it.

Louise Ormond, Betty Brann, Irene Lavery, Helen Schauwecker, Barbara Rogers, Steven Diliberto, and Irving Pape, board editors, showed splendid coöperation; but the resignation of two editors during the year was a great loss.

Hilbert Fuerstman, advertising and sales manager, conceived the idea of binding the News in volumes, and he worked most diligently gathering together long-lost issues. With the aid of his staff, he held the circulation well up to the level of the previous year, in spite of a decrease of 500 students in the school.

Safety Council

THE Safety Council was organized to reduce and prevent accidents through a better understanding of their causes. It is a member of the National Safety Council and is coöperating with the national and local organizations in their efforts to educate the student in those habits of courtesy, common sense, and care in daily life that will tend to reduce and prevent accidents. This Council is composed of 120 students supervised by an executive committee of 12 students and 12 teachers. The students are juniors and seniors who are divided into the following committees: automobile, school patrol, street patrol, shop, sports, fire prevention, speaking, first aid, home, poster, and publicity.

During the year talks and motion pictures on safety were presented under the auspices of this Council. Students who drove cars to school were required to have parking permits issued by the automobile committee. With the co-operation of the mathematics department the school patrol conducted a survey of such school hazards as running in the halls and bursting through doors. Small signs were placed conspicuously on both sides of all the doors in the building reminding people to push, pull, or open slowly. This year our Safety Council was one of the most active in the state.

Social Committee

SOFT lights and swing music were the rule for the dances of 1938. The active social committee was composed of Chairman Bob Wilson, Virginia Lee, Stewart Hurlburt, Patricia Barrie, and Bill Graham.

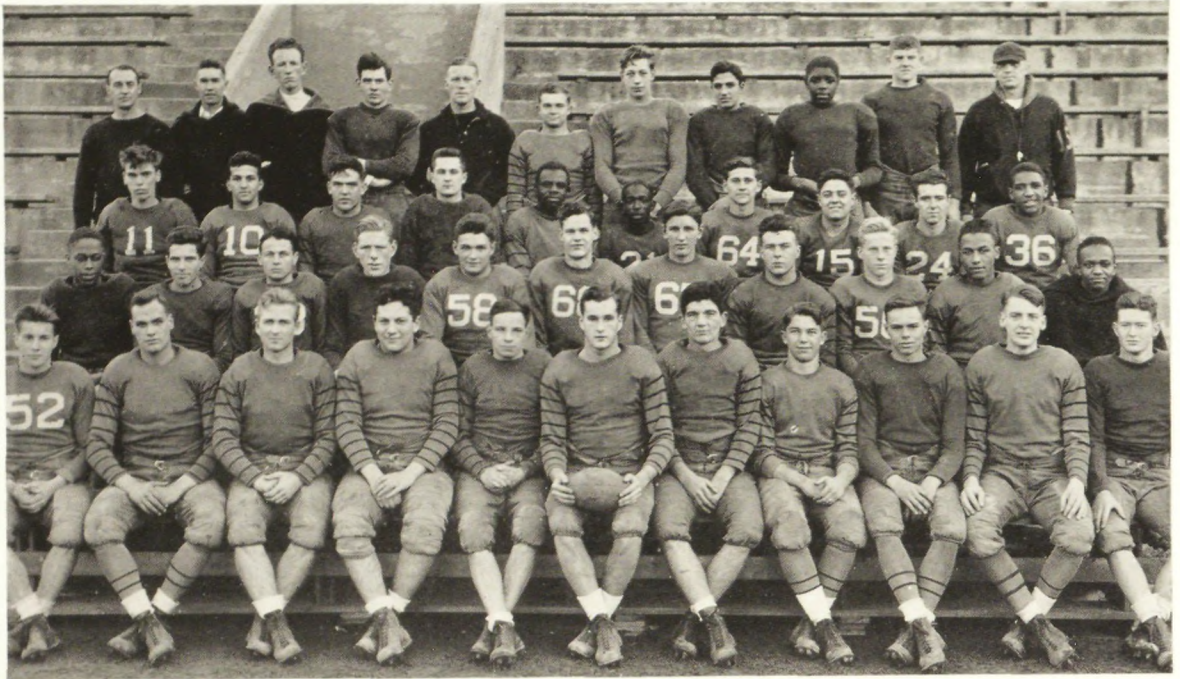

The season for the school dances started rather late in the year with the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held on the evening of January the 22nd. The girls' gymnasium was filled with a capacity crowd; but the fine music of the Princetonians, the sweet songs of Betty Myers, a '37 graduate, the extremely attractive decorations, and the fancy lighting effects more than compensated for the lack of space. All reports indicated that the Prom was both a social and financial success:

The annual Grad Dance was held late in the spring. It was the second and final dance of the year. Many of the lower class students attended in addition to those of the junior and senior classes.

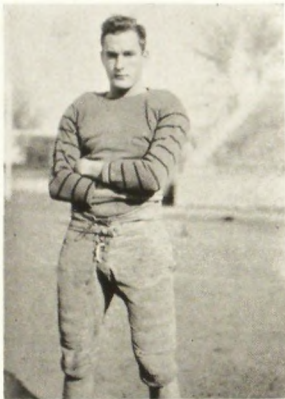

Although there were only two dances this year, they were both so successful that our social season was one of the best ever. Orchids to the Social Committee!

CHEERLEADERS

Football

THE 1937 football season was not a very brilliant one, the final record of the team standing at four games won, four lost, and two tied. Having lost most of last year's regulars, Coach Harold P. Wasson had to start a fairly inexperienced eleven against Cranford as the season opened. As the season progressed, however, the team gained the needed experience and was soon turning in creditable performances. In the opener with Cranford, East Orange, although badly outplayed, broke a scoreless deadlock with a pass from Curry to Burke in the last two minutes of play and won the game, 6-0.

The next Saturday, their playing with West Side was very erratic, and the decision was lost by the score of 12-0.

Then Morristown came to Ashland Stadium, and, upsetting the proverbial apple-cart, handed a fighting East Orange team a 7-0 upset.

The next visitor to Ashland Stadium was West Orange, who defeated the Red and Blue decisively, 21-0; but three weeks later, because of the ineligibility of a West Orange player, East Orange suddenly became the winner.

The succeeding game was played at Plainfield, where East Orange twice came from behind to tie up the score, and ultimately to win by one point, 13-12. Curry and McManus scored the two touchdowns, and Moore caught a pass from Curry to provide the winning point.

The Montclair game was postponed because of rain, and the following Monday saw an irrepressible Montclair eleven overcome a seven-point lead to tie East Orange at 14-all. Sundheim fell on a blocked punt in the end zone, and McManus took a lateral from Curry and ran 65 yards, to furnish the two touchdowns. Moore won the two extra points by dint of two perfect placement kicks.

Probably the best game of the season was played against the highly favored Nutley team, which was repeatedly outrushed by the Panthers and barely managed to break through in the last five minutes of play to win 12-7. East Orange scored on the opening kickoff when McManus threw a lateral pass. The ball bounded past Olcott and was picked up by Captain Healy, who scored.

The following Saturday, after outplaying the Orange team, East Orange left the field on the long end of a 6-0 count, by virtue of Costelloe's touchdown upon picking up a fumble.

Another game was postponed, this time with Columbia. The two teams met at Underhill Field the following Wednesday, and Columbia emerged the winner by the score of 25-0. The game was well played by East Orange in view of the fact that its team was considerably outweighed.

The traditional Barringer game on Thanksgiving day was played at Ashland Stadium and resulted in a scoreless tie. The Blue was favored to win and almost scored a touchdown toward the end of the second period. Because of a fumbled kick, Barringer received an opportunity to score and immediately did so, but the play was nullified and Barringer penalized. Then on the one-yard line, with goal to go, the Big Blue shot one play at the center of East Orange's line, which was piled up; and before they had another chance, the gun ending the half was fired. During the second half the two teams pushed each other back and forth, neither side gaining the advantage. The starting lineup for this game was as follows: Olcott and Costelloe, ends; Lown and Lunger, tackles; Honigfeld and Sanders, guards; Healy, center; Moore and Curry, half-backs; Hundley, quarterback; and McManus, fullback.

Honorable mention should go to Olcott, Lown, Honigfeld, Healy, Sanders, Lunger, Costelloe, Sundheim, Rothlisberger, Doudt, Mauriello, Hamilton, Files, Duffey, and Burke for a grand bit of offensive and defensive work on the line throughout the season; to Moore for his sensational kicking and pass receiving; to McManus and Hundley for their hard line plunging and great defensive work; to Curry and King for their brilliant passes; to Wilson, Brown, Johnson, Mulvihill, and Brodbeck for some excellent backfield duty; and to Hinman and Manitz, the two managers, who carried on behind the scenes and did as good a job as the players themselves.

Although the record does not seem very impressive, it is no indication of a poor season, for the 1937 eleven, led by Captain Dave Healy, played excellent football, each senior who played twenty quarters receiving, in commendation for his good work, a gold football.

Basketball

THE 1937-38 basketball season began for East Orange with a loss to the Alumni team by a margin of one point, 20-19. The quintet, however, defeated the next five opponents: Nutley, 33-24; Verona, 44-19; Orange, 33-27; Irvington, 39-33; and Nutley again, 38-22.

After losing the seventh game to Montclair, 28-26, and the eighth to Columbia, the Red and Blue were victorious over Madison with a score of 40-22. Then Orange snowed the Panthers under, the score being 34-25, and Montclair took its second game of the season, 29-23. The team now won over West Orange, 21-19, and then defeated Kingsley, 28-24. Next Bloomfield, last year's Group 4 champions, submerged the Red and Blue beneath a landslide of 40-24.

Because of the exacting toll of a strenuous 15-game schedule, the team was not permitted to participate in the state tournament; and its hope of winning the Inter-Oranges Championship vanished when West Orange won the final game, 26-22, despite East Orange's brave attempt to hold its early lead.

Outstanding performances were given by the entire team and those who relieved them at various instances. Captain "Happy" Lieder's consistently versatile playing, "Red" Herdic's record of over one hundred points during the season, Sandy Sobel's and Jack Scott's fine defensive and offensive work, and Bob Duffey's aggressiveness deserve mention, as does the able relief work of George Olcott, Bill Carr, and John Josephson, and the excellent work of Alexander Bell as manager.

When the season is taken in retrospect, there is no cause for criticism; rather, high commendation should be given to those boys who, in playing their first year of varsity competition, have left such a good record behind them.

Baseball

ALTHOUGH the team went through the 1937 spring campaign with a record of but four victories as against eight defeats, when one considers the lack of a proper training field, the inadequate pre-season practice, and the gruelling schedule which the team played, the Red and Blue squad performed remarkably well.

Having opened the season auspiciously with an unexpected triumph over West Side, the Griffin-coached nine then proceeded to lose the next two contests to Barringer and Nutley, spotty fielding proving costly in both games. "Happy" Lieder, pitching in his usual effective style and ably supported by his team-mates, especially Joseph Fitzgerald, who hit a prodigious four-bagger into deep center field, subdued a highly favored Orange nine, 5-4. He fared worse, however, against Verona, to whom he dropped a nine inning 1-0 thriller. Both Bloomfield and Columbia took the measure of our skidding team in extra innings before "Butch" Fierro applied the brakes with a 3-0 shut-out of Montclair. Shortly following this, however, Orange and St. Benedict's applied the humiliating whitewash brush, and a 3-2 victory over Kingsley proved our last, as the second season of revived baseball at E.O.H.S. ended with a disastrous 9-7 conquest by Verona.

It was certainly a discouraging season for the boys, but they showed fine spirit, and the following ten of them were awarded their letters: Joe Moore, catcher; Fred Fierro and "Happy" Lieder, pitchers; Tom Riley, first base; Nate Johnson, second base; Angelo Piccirillo, third base; Joseph Fitzgerald, shortstop; Frank Sharkey, Johnny Bellina, Bill Hance, Bill Virtue, and David Resnikoff, fielders.

We hope that the future teams will become better and better as the sport becomes more firmly established in our athletics and that they will win a name in baseball for East Orange High.

Soccer

THE 1937 fall campaign saw the East Orange Soccer Team play a ten-game schedule with a record of five victories, four defeats, and one tie. The 1937 season brought with it a drastic change in timing: the elimination of quarters and the substitution of two thirty-minute halves. This change had a sad effect on the Red and Blue in their first Verona game, which they lost, 5-1.

Although they lost to a fine Montclair team, 1-0, they won from St. Benedict's by the same score. Then the Cougars defeated Summit, 2-0. On the return engagement with Montclair, the Griffin charges fared worse, this time losing the contest by the score of 2-0; St. Benedict's, however, again fell victim to East Orange, which won, 4-2. After the smoke of battle had cleared in the next game, Verona, hitherto undefeated, found its record spoiled by a 1-0 score.

A strong Kearny outfit clearly outclassed the local team, and except for Lieder's able goal tending, would have administered a sounder trouncing than the 3-0 score indicates. The only tie was that resulting from the Chatham game, in which East Orange was handicapped by the loss of Pat Morano. The Summit game, the season's last, was efficiently captured by a score of 2-1.

"Happy" Lieder, Pat Morano, and Charles Anderson were the team's stars; Morano was high scorer. Charles Anderson, Don Adams, Jack Burns, L. Ciasullo, Gratio Roselle, Russ Jensen, James Hamilton, Howard Steckroth, Stewart Hurlburt, and "Happy" Lieder were the other seniors who played for East Orange. Coach Stanley Griffin is certainly to be congratulated on his team's fine showing for 1937, and "Success!" is the wish for the future.

EVER since 1908, when Edgar A. Clark was captain of the first Red and Blue tennis team, we have been near tops in scholastic tennis, first under the able coaching of Mr. Royal A. Grosenbaugh and then under the brilliant guidance of our late beloved George Henckel. Now Mr. Frank E. Davis has efficiently filled Mr. Henckel's post, and the Red and Blue is still to be reckoned with in tennis competition.

The captain of the '37 team, Alan Fleming, who starred in '35 and '36, was ably supported by James Singon, George Hill, Robert Wilson, Richard Bederski, Arthur Brienza, and Harold Force.

The team began its season with a victory over St. Benedict's. Montclair succumbed once, but then Fleming suffered his only defeat, losing to E. Walton Ayers of Montclair, who was later declared ineligible. Singon and the two doubles teams, however, again brought victory to E. O. Following this came five successive victories over Weequahic, Columbia, St. Benedict's, Bloomfield, and Barringer.

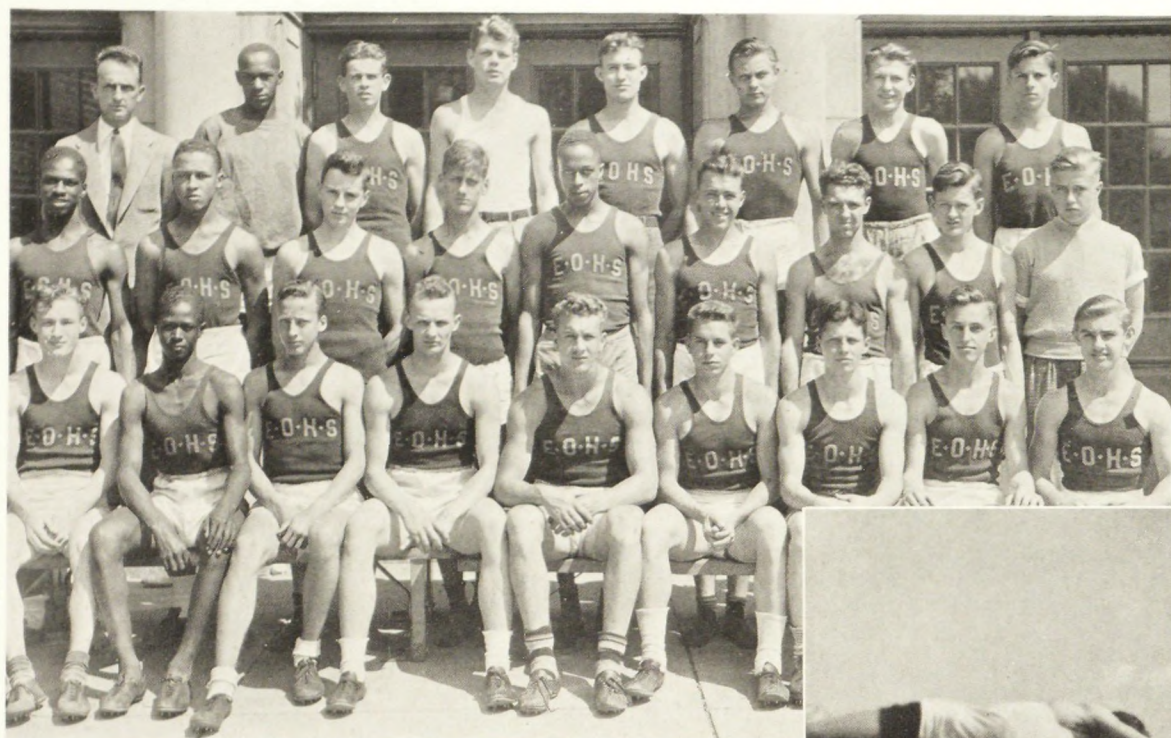

With only four matches to play, E. O. seemed headed for the New Jersey Group Four title. Unfortunately, however, in the next tilt with Montclair, when the matches stood in favor of E. O., Fleming asked to be excused; and, with the picture bright, Coach Davis assented. Then Wilson and Bederski, after taking the first set, lost their match; Brienza and Hill dropped theirs too. This loss eventually cost us the title, for though we beat the Plainfield team, Columbia, and Kearny, the championship went to an undefeated Passaic team.

Track

THE first meet of the season, the N. Y. U. meet, saw Hansen and Ackerman as the only East Orange entries. Hansen took a fourth in the shot put, and Ackerman won the high hurdles in record time.

When East Orange did not figure in the Newark Open Meet, a disastrous season was predicted. Nor did the chances look too bright when the Red and Blue captured only a third place in the Montclair Invitation Meet.

Then Hansen and Ackerman gained 19 points between them in a tie for third at the Princeton Interscholastics on May 8. Hansen won the shot and discus, and Ackerman won the high hurdles and took a second in the low hurdles.

The season ended with the State Meet in Montclair, which East Orange, although conceded only an outside chance, unexpectedly won, thus climaxing the 1937 season by successfully defending the coveted Group 4 title for the second consecutive year. Led by Captain Norm Hansen, and by Jerry Ackermann and Ernie Fellows, the Red and Blue nosed out Montclair by a score of 27-25. Ed Jagger, with a fifth in the pole vault, and Bill Taylor and Ames Betts, with a tie for third in the high jump, also contributed to the final scoring.

Moreover, the dual meet was kept spotless for the fourth consecutive year after victories over West Side and South Side, thus giving to East Orange a much better record than anyone had expected.

Fencing

ONCE again the East Orange High School fencing team has achieved a formidable position in Eastern interscholastic team and individual foils competition, and in so doing, has terminated a season in which we may all take great pride.

This year's team, coached by Arthur Federick and managed by Gerald Kalb, established a string of fifteen consecutive triumphs in dual meet competition before bowing to Barringer's championship team in the last engagement of the season. Earlier in the year, however, the Cougars had handed the Big Blue a thrilling 5-4 setback. In this contest, as in almost all the others, Captain Peter Milone and Al Sully figured prominently. Up to the last meet of the season Milone had compiled a record of thirty-four straight dual meet triumphs. His outstanding accomplishment, however, was winning the New Jersey interscholastic individual foils crown.

East Orange also defeated the Alumni and Snyder, once each; and Lincoln, Bloomfield, Abraham Clark, South Side, New Brunswick, Thomas Jefferson twice each. In addition, East Orange competed for the Biddle trophy, but was eliminated in the quarter-final round by Stuyvesant High of New York.

Peter Milone and Gerald Kalb will graduate, leaving Al Sully, Jules Batlan, Roy Hatchman, and Sheldon Siegel to form the nucleus of next year's squad.

GIRLS'

THE Girls' Athletic Association was organized to raise the standards of physical and mental efficiency and to develop through activity ideals in sportsmanship and health. The requirements for joining the Association include membership in the G. O. and participation in after-school activities.

A Leaders' Club was formed this year for upper-class girls who wish to be leaders in those activities which they have chosen from the required work in Physical Education. The aim of a leader is to develop and utilize her energies in beneficial channels; to learn coaching methods, to referee, and to take charge of groups in a responsible, dignified manner; and to develop poise, self-control, initiative, and responsibility. A leader assists the instructor in routine matters, helps teach skills in activities or sports, and launches projects that pertain to Physical Education. Experience as a leader is invaluable to the students' educational development.

The organization is controlled by an advisory board and the faculty of the Physical Education Department. The board consists of the captains and managers of all sports, of representatives from the other activities, and of the officers of the

Girls' A. A. Board

G. A. A. The board has charge of all the social and athletic activities, it passes on all new amendments to the Constitution, and it establishes procedures in the giving of awards.

The annual social events consist of a "new girl" party at the beginning of the year, a dance, an alumnae basketball game and tea, and, for all G. A. A. members, two parties at which the awards are presented.

The after-school activities sponsored by the G. A. A. include tennis, hockey, golf, swimming, basketball, baseball, horseback riding, tap dancing, modern dancing, and badminton, which was added to the list this year.

The old point system has been discarded in favor of the following cumulative system of awards:

First honorbeing chosen for a groupchevron
Second honortotal of 5 chevronsE. O.
Third honortotal of 10 chevronsstar
Fourth honortotal of 15 chevronsstar
Fifth honortotal of 20 chevronsstar

The winners and runners-up of the tennis and golf tournaments will be given an insignia.

Boys' A. A.

DURING the past year, as in previous years, the East Orange Boys' Athletic Association was comprised of the captains and managers of the seven recognized varsity sports: football, basketball, soccer, baseball, fencing, track, tennis. Mr. Ernest Benatre, Head of the Physical Education Department, was the adviser.

The chief functions of this organization are to award all varsity letters, by means of a majority vote; to make regulations concerning athletic participation in varsity sports; and to further the spirit of good sportsmanship among participants.

The president is elected the previous Spring and is chosen from one of the Junior members. He serves in the capacity of vice-president until the office of president is vacated at the end of the year. The president calls all meetings of the A. A., usually one at the close of the season of one or more varsity sports; and on these occasions letters are awarded and various other business is attended to.

This year Fred Brown served as both president and vice-president and Henry Sale as secretary.

Managers and captains of the seven varsity sports who thereby qualify for membership are as follows:

FOOTBALL—William Hinman and Walter Manitz, Managers; Dave Healy, Captain

BASKETBALL—Alexander Bell, Manager; "Happy" Lieder, Captain

SOCCER—Pat Morano, Captain

FENCING—Gerald Kalb, Manager; Peter Milone, Captain

TRACK—Robert Kahn and Mark Sanders, Managers

BASEBALL—Donald Leinbach and Richard Lumb, Managers

TENNIS—Henry Sale, Manager; Robert Wilson, Captain.

You Can't Stand Still

"All that is human," said the great historian Edward Gibbon, "must retrograde if it does not advance."

Further, if you don't keep up with the procession you lag behind; so that slow forward motion may leave you in a relatively backward position.

The lesson is obvious.

Be prepared to maintain your place in the march of progress.
