From Ms. G to You!

Dear Class of 2014:

This has been the first chapter of your journey. As each of you goes on to your future endeavors, I am sending you out into the world, ready to meet the challenges of a demanding family life, busy work schedules and/or college. As you move forward you can look back on taking and passing the HSPA, running to class before the hall sweeps, the friends you've made, working the concession stands, Snickers, Pop Tarts, parties, prom, GradNite -- All the good times and the bad! Remember our discussions, things you've learned and the art of compromise. All of which will take you far. I expect nothing but great things from the Class of 2014 and live your life like a room without a roof #Happy!

One last thought - - Education is what survives when what has been learned has been forgotten. - B. F. Skinner
