Norma Diaz
Senior Class Advisor

Class of 2017,

Thank you for this opportunity to be your advisor for the past three years. It has been a memorable journey! I've watched you learn and grow, seen you mature, and now look on with pride as you graduate. But I am more than proud — I am also thankful to have high quality young men and women like you to teach.

After four years of successes along with some failures, it's time for you to begin your pursuit of the American Dream. Not everyone will choose the same pathway to success. You should choose the path that will best enable you to utilize your God-given talents.

It's a great time to be a senior isn't it? I know how you feel!

For many of you, college is the next destination. College is expensive as you know, but the returns on this investment last a lifetime. You will have better career options and, of course, greater income potential. But as you consider your career choice, think of your interests and passions, not just the salary. Being in a highly paid occupation is clearly worth a lot, but the opportunity to get up every morning and make a living doing something you truly love, well that is priceless. So choose wisely. Use your brain but also follow your heart.

Remember to count your blessings and happiness will surely come your way. If I may paraphrase Shakespeare, "true happiness is not about the destination, it's about the journey."

Seniors, now I must say congratulations and farewell. I hope the rest of your journey is a good one — and may God be with you every step of the way.

SENIOR COOKOUT

CANDID CAMERA!

JAGUAR ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The football team had a winning season in head coach Al-majid Hutchins' second year. The team went 5 and 2 in conference play, and they had an overall record of 6 and 4. They were seeded 4th in the playoffs, but were ultimately beat out in the first round by Elizabeth. The annual Thanksgiving rivalry with Barringer was a nail biter. The lead flipped back and forth in a tight game, but the Jaguars eked out a win by one point - 23 to 22.

SOCCER

The boys soccer team had a banner season - closing out with a 6-1 conference record and first place in the Colonial division. They were 12-2-1 overall. The team was seeded into the state tournament, but they lost in the first round to Dickinson.

For the first time in Campus history, the Jaguars fielded a girls soccer team. The team struggled in its inaugural season, but the girls played hard. With a young team full of returning players, they will no doubt build on this experience and be more successful in the 2017 season.

CROSS COUNTRY

The cross country team raced through Branch Brook park each week throughout the fall, and they bundled up to survive a late fall day at Brookdale Park for the championship meet. Senior Nathifa Williams came in third place in her race at the Super Essex Conference Championships.

CHEERLEADING

The cheerleading squad supported the Jaguars both on the field and on the court. They bundled up to survive the cold, rainy days on the sidelines of the football field, and they traveled with the girls basketball team into the post-season.

BOYS BASKETBALL

The boys basketball team went through a rebuilding season this year. Coach Joe Jordan, formerly of Newark Tech, took the reigns of the Jaguar team for his first season as head coach. Ironically, one of the wins they notched in the regular season was over Jordan's old school.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The girls basketball team built on its history of success with another solid season in 2016-17. They finished the season with a 17-9 record, and they went deep into the post-season. With a lowly 11th seed in the state tournament, they won a series of tight games to advance to the sectional finals. Morristown, the #1 seed in the bracket, edged out the Jaguars for the championship.

INDOOR TRACK

The Jaguar track team, under the leadership of Coach Lance, had a breakout season in the 2015-16 school year. 2016-17 was no different. The boys dominated local contests on their way to repeating as North Jersey Section 2 Group 4 champions. The team can be seen here pictured with Principal Hasan and Superintendent West (right page).

VOLLEYBALL

The girls volleyball team finished the season with a winning record - 11-10. They advanced to the third round of the Essex County Tournament before being knocked out by Columbia. Jamilah Stevenson and Irianah Robinson were named to the first team of the Colonial Division Super Essex Conference All Stars.

The boys volleyball team finished out the year with an unbelievable 16-4 record. They dominated in the regular season and made it to the quarterfinals of the Essex County tournament. They earned a rare berth to the state sectional tournament, in which they were knocked out by Livingston.

BASEBALL

The Jaguar baseball team did alright this year, finishing in the middle of the pack in their division. They notched victories over University, Golda Och, and Weequahic.

SOFTBALL

The Jaguar softball team closed out a winning season with a record of 14 and 8 and a second place finish in their division behind Technology. They managed to beat Tech in their second meeting of the season, but they finished two games behind them in the standings. The girls advanced to the state tournament, where they were ultimately knocked out by Kearny.

TENNIS

The tennis team notched a few wins this year, defeating Shabazz both at home and away. Here they can be seen defending their home turf on the tennis courts outside STEM.

OUTDOOR TRACK

The track team's dominance continued into the outdoor season. The boys brought home a first place trophy from the Essex County Championships and they ultimately finished in second place at the statewide Group 4 championships. The team had a second year of success at Penn Relays, where their 4x400 relay team was the lone New Jersey team to qualify for the Championship of America race.

STUDENT LIFE

The fall sports season kicked off with an exciting pep rally. The ROTC presented the colors and showed off their drill skills, and the cheerleaders also put on a performance. The coaches of the fall sports introduced their teams, and everyone was sent off with a rousing ovation. The seniors turned out decked out with school spirit, with a huge "Class of 2017" banner dominating the senior seating section.

FALL PEP RALLY

Julius David, a member of the Social Studies Department, continued to bring rhythm to East Orange Campus this year with his annual Afro-Cuban Dance assembly. He and his dance partner performed in front of the crowd, and they taught the students and staff a few dance steps. Mr. Sneed provided some musical accompaniment on the piano, and Mr. Miller led a contingent of drummers.

AFRO CUBAN DANCE

BLOOD DRIVE

Since 2008, East Orange Campus High School has hosted an annual blood drive. This year, Mr. Rock and the National Honor Society partnered with Community Blood Services to host two blood drives at Campus. Crystal (top right), Reynault (center right), and Oswald (center right) can be seen in the process of donating. The students received gift cards as a thank you for their donations (top center).

Each year, the Campus community dresses in pink as a show of support for those who have battled with breast cancer. Featured here are a collection of both staff and students who donned their pink attire for breast cancer awareness.

PINK FOR BREAST CANCER

Homecoming was a city-wide affair this year, with students from STEM, Cicely Tyson, and Campus High. Last year's homecoming queen, Jazmen Pagan, returned to crown her successor - Hadiyah Hassan (left page, center). Principal Hasan of Campus High School crowned the new homecoming king, Rekesh Luke. A host of other dignitaries were on hand, including Mayor Taylor and his wife Bibi (left page, bottom left).

HOME- COMING

Cory Poole had an outstanding career as a track athlete in East Orange, helping the team bring home a number of county and state championships. His history of success made him a top tier recruit for college track teams, and his teammates cheered him on as he signed a letter of commitment to the University of Florida. He'll be a proud Gator come September, and he will no doubt go on to much success both on and off the track in his future.

CORY POOLES SIGNING

At the end of the first quarter, a Jaguar Achievement event was held to honor all of the students who made it to honor roll. The band performed, and the Superintendent came to Campus to say a few words of congratulations. Students received certificates and/or shirts to recognize their accomplishments.

JAGUAR ACHIEVE- MENT

The Campus Choir put on a dazzling performance for the winter concert - full of holiday carols and melodies. At the end of the show, some of the staff also joined in the fun and came on stage with the choir.

WINTER CONCERT

Campus celebrated the holidays the way they do every year - with gifts and music abound. Mr. Pullins donned his Santa Claus outfit and handed out gifts to some of the children from the community. The choir serenaded everyone with holiday carols, and the band accompanied them. The national honor society volunteered to support the event and keep things running smoothly.

HOLIDAYS AT CAMPUS

A second pep rally was held to kick off the winter athletic season. The indoor track team took center stage as they prepared to attempt a repeat as state champs. The ROTC presented the colors as usual, and the cheerleaders put on a show. The tech crew manned the DJ booth and made sure everybody's energy level was up.

WINTER PEP RALLY

STAFF AND STUDENT PANEL

In the fall, the Campus leadership assembled a panel of staff and students to speak about issues that matter to the student body. After the panel made a few opening remarks, the students were allowed to ask questions.

A group of Campus alumni were assembled to share their wisdom with the graduating seniors of the class of 2017. Dr. West was on hand for the event, and the choir kicked things off with a song. A number of the alumni who participated have also gone on to become staff members at Campus High School.

ALUMNI PANEL

Faculty, staff, students, and parents came together for an evening of data over dinner. Ms. Broadway, the data coach at Campus, presented data about student attendance and achievement. Afterwards, Baruti Kefele spoke some inspirational words to the audience. He had initially been invited to speak to the parents, but seeing that there were a number of students in the crowd he modified his remarks to speak directly to them about how to take hold of their future and be successful.

DATA OVER DINNER

Every year, the National Honor Society hosts a ceremony to induct new students into its ranks. The existing members of the NHS are dressed in black and lead the ceremony, while the new inductees wear white. All of the participants process in and out of the auditorium by candlelight. This year, Dana Williams, a 2012 graduate of Campus and a 2016 graduate of Howard University, returned to speak to the inductees about the principles of the NHS.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

EACH ONE REACH ONE

Mr. Miller leads the Each One Reach One male mentoring group. A group of male staff members - including Mr. Hasan, Mr. Muhammad, Mr. Amarikwa, Mr. Oliver, and Mr. Miles - meet with the students throughout the year to help support them through their time at Campus.

The mock trial team competed at the Essex County Veteran's Courthouse. Some of the team members are featured here with Mr. Ozello (bottom right), while the rest of the team was in another courtroom serving as a jury.

MOCK TRIAL

Students put on an exciting assembly in honor of African American History Month in February. The Sankofa dancers and the Jaguar Steppers lit up the stage, while the Campus Choir serenaded the audience. The band performed as well, and a number of students read poetry. Ms. Richardson, the Social Studies Department Chair, closed out the event.

AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY MONTH

GUEST SPEAKERS

Throughout the year, a number of guest speakers came to Campus High to meet with the students. The CTE department brought a group of stars in to perform and inspire students to pursue a career in the arts, while Councilman Mustafa Brent was invited to speak about the importance of voting and to encourage students to register to vote. Dr. West visited Campus as part of a listening tour that he initiated in his first weeks in office as the Superintendent of East Orange.

The social studies department sponsored a number of different projects during African American History Month. These projects were assembled into a museum at the end of February. A veteran of the Tuskegee Airmen also visited Campus and spent the day in the media center speaking with students and staff about his experience in the war.

AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY MUSEUM

At the end of the second quarter, a bigger and better Jaguar Achievement ceremony was held. Students were again recognized for their success. They were also greeted by a guest speaker, the choir, and a corps of drummers.

JAGUAR ACHIEVE- MENT

Mr. Barone tapped into the "March Madness" frenzy to enliven a debate that he held in class. The students from his various classes were broken down into teams and matched up in a tournament bracket. They faced off, debating the effectiveness of the New Deal. The final round, pictured here, was held in the amphitheater. Jamilah's team (left page, center right) emerged victorious, although the scoring was extremely close. Mr. Ozello (left page, top left), Mr. Watkins (right page, center), and other teachers volunteered to serve as judges.

MARCH MADNESS DEBATE

After the success of the African American History Month program, Ms. Richardson decided to organize a Women's History Month program as well. The Sankofa Dancers and the Jaguar Steppers both took the stage to perform. A number of seniors recited poetry as well, and both the band and the choir performed.

WOMENS HISTORY MONTH

A group of Campus seniors worked with Ms. Allen to host a "Super Hero Day" at the East Orange Public Library as a community service project. Both the little kids and the big kids came dressed up as their favorite superheroes. The kids had fun drawing and they enjoyed dinner at the event. There were face painting stations set up as well.

SUPER HERO DAY

Students in Mr. Menzel's science class turned their experiments into a science fair in the media center. Students manned their booths all day, describing their findings to passers-by and answering any questions they had. Visitors to the science fair graded each student with whom they spoke and gave them feedback.

SCIENCE FAIR

Campus celebrated Haitian flag day in style this year. A group of Haitian students worked with Dr. Fortun to put together a show featuring the history of Haiti, dance performances, rap performances, and a fashion show. The Board of Education President, Bergson Leneus, stopped by to enjoy the show. Municipal judge Sybil Elias also addressed the audience.

HAITIAN FLAG DAY

The band and choir wrapped up the year with a great performance in their spring concert. Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Sneed accompanied the band with their trumpets. Ms. Gopal led the choir in a performance featuring a number of soloists. Shortly after this concert, the choir would travel to Six Flags and sweep the awards at the choir competition in which they competed.

SPRING CONCERT

The students and staff at Campus faced off in their annual basketball game. Along with the basketball teams, there were competing cheerleading squads. Ms. Richardson led the staff squad on to the court. Marquise Kindell returned to Campus and narrated the game from the sideline. Mr. McGee donned his referee's uniform and made sure everyone played by the rules - mostly.

STUDENTS VS STAFF

Each year, the AFJROTC cadets face off in a drill competition in the courtyard. Each flight took the drill platform in turn and demonstrated what they had learned throughout the year. This year, the judges were all Campus staff or alumni who have served in the military.

Hunter S. Thompson suggests that a life lived to the fullest, risking uncertainty and perhaps experiencing hardship and failure would be more fulfilling than a life spent in security. Thompson grew up in poverty without a father, was arrested as a teen, never finished high school, and joined the US Air Force before becoming an author and traveling the globe. For better or worse, he certainly did not stay "securely on shore." Perhaps each of us should consider (not quite to Thompson's extent) the benefits of braving the storm of life in our search for adult happiness.

Congratulations on the wonderful accomplishment of graduating high school. In your not too distant futures you will look back on the past four years with great satisfaction. Hopefully you have grown academically, socially, emotionally, and spiritually and hopefully you will continue to grow and become successful and significant adults.

Congratulations from the East Orange Central Administration and the East Orange Board of Education to the graduating Class of 2017. We are proud of you, and may you have the best of luck as you leave the security of the shore to brave the storm of life!

Best wishes to the Class of 2017!

Abdulsaleem Hasan
Principal

As you graduate, remember that the road you take in life will never be easy. It will have twists and turns. It will have ups and downs. Remember that you can conquer any challenge that comes your way. With hard work, commitment, and dedication you will find success in all of your endeavors.

It gives me great pleasure to hand you your diploma on graduation day. It is tangible proof of everything you have worked so hard to accomplish. While graduation is a wonderful day to celebrate the many achievements of your Class, to me, it is also a bittersweet moment as East Orange Campus High School sends you off into a world where we wish you nothing but the best.

This occasion does not mark the completion of your education. In fact, it is merely the beginning. Go out there and be great every day. Learn from everyone who shares your company, and from every experience in which you find yourself. Remember, even though your time as a student may have passed, East Orange Campus High School will always be your home.

Congratulations and best luck to the Class of 2017!

Be great every day!

Wanda Davis
Assistant Principal

Your four years of high school at the Campus have been a testament to the saying, "Nothing is constant except change". You have had four different principals and four different assistant principals, and you have done it with dignity and style. It was not an easy journey; it was challenging; but you weathered the storm and you made it to the "Road to Robeson". Congratulations!

I leave you with a charge: You need to find your inner super-hero and commit to using your powers for good! It is very easy to do the wrong thing or take the easy way out, but you must hold on to your integrity and continue to grow and develop into Super Jaguars!

I am expecting great things from you all and I am confident that you will not let me down.

Debra Boone
Assistant Principal

"The key to immortality is first living a life worth remembering." - Bruce Lee

Over the past year I have witnessed the students of East Orange Campus High School exhibit a dynamic combination of academic achievement and extracurricular involvement. Furthermore, our current senior class has displayed a particularly impressive commitment to excellence.

As well-rounded and incredibly motivated students, I believe that the Class of 2017 has boundless offerings they can make to our world beyond high school. I am confident that they have acquired the knowledge, skills and values to make a significant contribution to the future of our world. It is with this faith and optimism that I wish the East Orange Campus High School class of 2017 a lifetime of success and happiness. Godspeed!

Damein Phoenix
Assistant Principal

Jaguar Excellence!

We say this at every one of our events. Whether it's an award assembly or sporting event, "Jaguar Excellence" exudes from our students, faculty, and community stakeholders alike. "Excellence" can be partially defined as an outstanding feature of quality. The East Orange Campus High School community strives to make this a reality everyday.

Knowledge is the key to success. As our students reach high to attain their goals, we continue to support them in their endeavors and push them to become life-long learners. As you embark on your journey to adulthood, be sure to practice the skills and traits attained throughout these pivotal years at the Campus. With a clear vision and perseverance, anything you set your mind to will be possible. Remember, success is based on your ability to recognize choice, rather than succumbing to your circumstance. You will always be a part of the Jaguar family.
