EAST ORANGE HIGH SCHOOL

East Orange, New Jersey

● To the parents of the graduating class, to the graduating class itself, and to the entire student body we take pleasure in presenting the 1940 SYLLABUS. May we express the genuine wish that it will mean as much to you as it does to those of us who have prepared it? In this, our last contribution to East Orange High School, we have tried to include the dignity of our school hours as well as the informality of our recreation. We hope that in the years to come you will look through these pages and let the photographs and the informal pictures, the pet sayings and pet ambitions recall to you the happiness of high school days.

Presentation . . . . .

..... Dedication

● To Royal A. Grosenbaugh, the genial friend of all, the Class of 1940 dedicates this SYLLABUS with gratitude for his sincere interest in our activities and his constant encouragement.

Those who have known him as a teacher will remember with great admiration the wisdom and humor that enlivened all his classes. We also appreciate the enthusiasm which he, as former football coach, has always shown in the field of sports.

When we recall our days at East Orange High School, our friendship with "Grosie" will be one of our most cherished memories.

Henry E. Kentopp

Uncovered: The Secret Diary

● At last it has been revealed: the one and only diary of Ferdinand Forty, Sr., in East Orange High School, containing all the lurid details concerning the Class of '40, has been opened to public gaze. Mr. Forty died a peaceful death as the clock struck midnight on June 27, 1940.

Now it can be told!

For the year 1936-1937:

The doors open wide to a class green and scared, and slightly damp behind the ears. For a few months the most gullible continue to thank the upper classmen profusely for directions to the elevator, and eagerly buy bargain tickets for spots on the gym floor. We have all listened in mature and righteous pleasure to the excellent productions PIRATES OF PENZANCE, presented by a proud Glee Club, and R. U. R. That year the stalwart eleven are worshipped by some 500 freshmen, despite a Barringer victory of 6-0. The Cinematography Club presents NICKELODEON NIGHTS and the track team retains its crown. G. O. officials who have held down the seats of fame are R. Lunger, President; T. Meeker, Vice-President; and B. Meyers, Secretary.

For the year 1937-1938:

Oh, heaven, will it ever be thus? We are sophomores! Now we are wary, still not completely dry in region of ears but gaining in confidence and poise. We hold dear to our hearts three officers, elected amid much strife, confusion, and glory: President, C. Roberts; Vice-President, W. Conkling; Secretary, E. Granger.

We are establishing ourselves more surely in active high school life, in clubs and on teams, and taking part in the try-outs. Some of us are, to our joy, given parts in MR. SIMPSON'S CASTLE, THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN, and ROBIN HOOD, noteworthy productions of a memorable year. A Christmas concert is held by the Glee Club, with many of our lusty young voices heralding the glad new year. The Student Council comes forth with its "Obra Maestra," the EOHS Handbook. We were loyal—now they are souvenirs. The G. O. has voted funds to bind back issues of the NEWS in 40 volumes for posterity, and in the fall we bade adieu to Miss Lilla Birge, already beloved by some of us. The year ends in a burst of glory when the E. O. orchestra and octet win first place in the state contest at Albany.

History

of Ferdinand Forty, Sr!

For the year 1938-1939:

Some 80% of us are completely and thoroughly dry. This is a triumphant year, for we take our place with the Highest Order, fully established and accepted. Some of our members take leading and active parts in the much-heralded TEMPEST, in THE NIGHTINGALE, and HOLLY AND CYPRESS. The Speech and Dramatics Department comes forth with PIERRE L'AVOCAT on a silver tray. IN LITTLE OLD NEW YORK comes from the faithful Cinematography Club, and all the teachers move in on and completely put out one issue of the NEWS. Mr. Shotwell has taken charge of a glorious eleven, matching brawn with brain, and coaching us on to victory, while for the class as a whole the guiding lights of the year have been Charles Roberts, William Conkling, and Bette Poston, President, Vice-President, and Secretary respectively.

For the year 1939-1940:

The morning sun shines brightly—Can it be that we are finally seniors? For a few weeks smugness sits contentedly on our features, and then the novelty begins to wear off. After a bit we are bored with life and routine. Then, bang! PAT STANDS PAT in magnificent triumph,—a smashing, two-day success—a musical comedy replete with chorus, Ozzie Porter, and songs! Life leans toward the brighter side—our football team is covered in shining glory—eleven,—er, twelve little halos and a trophy. Oh, yes, they'll remember the Class of '40! We enter rather half-heartedly into a Citizenship Essay Contest, sponsored by the NEWS and won by Jean Gillette, and cheer wildly when THE DOUBLE DOOR opens.

Then our basketball team finishes the year in triumphant victory, winning the Inter-Orange League Championship for the second successive time and the State Championship for the first time in the history of the school. On the following Monday at a special assembly each member of the team is awarded a gold belt buckle, and the trophy and the basketball used in the winning game are displayed.

The climax of our social life comes in the Grad Dance, held on April 27. Then we settle down to the last burst of studying with no more merry-making until after we have received our diplomas.

(And it was the strain of these last hectic days that caused the demise of Mr. Forty, as explained in the Foreword.)

Class

● Imagine, please! It is the year 1960. The world has made prodigious strides in the fields of science and industry, and "goodwill toward man" is the slogan of the decade.

A score of years have taken their place among the pages of history books since 1940, but not before each one had given its gift to mankind. The Ultra-cosmic Audiopenatoscope is a newly completed invention which enables one to see and hear what is happening at any place in the world by means of a cosmagnet which is placed at the scene. This attracts the cosmic rays, the fundamental device by which the machine operates.

This huge machine stands in a dimly lit laboratory of Lobdell and Huston, Inc. The E. O. H. S. alumni of 1940 have obtained permission to conduct the initial trial operation of the invention. They have decided to attempt to find out the "what and where" of the E. O. H. S. graduating class of 1940. With generators humming George Reiter stands at the latitude-longitude switchboard while Robert Hanle is operating the viewplate controls.

FIFTH AVENUE: The Mecca of the world's smartest women glows on the viewplate: Madame Miller's House of Beauty. Outside are noise, startled daylight; inside, soft lights, music in the background. In an upstairs office the president and founder of the establishment dictates to her pert, sought-after private secretary. Once we called the charming executive Arlean; and her "That will do, Miss Callen" recalls a winsome "Peggy".

On another floor of the famous salon, the staff is set for a widely acclaimed event. Schiaparelli, Jr., revolutionizing the fashion world, is holding the annual, breath-taking showing at the House of Beauty. The cosmagnet shifts to the scene of action. Dazzling sets on a revolving stage, designed by Rosemary Grella, confront our eyes, and the select group of fashion buyers and artists present sit in awed silence. Lord and Taylor's buyer is there—chic, blond Ann Ford. With her are the store's fashion artists, sketching busily; Edna Frick and Marian Osborne are sketching their way to the top. Among the dreamy-eyed models who show exotic apparel are Jean Eurich and Gloria Melillo.

INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING CO.: The scene changes to a studio of the International Broadcasting Company. Announcer Jack Pennstrom has just finished a commercial on Gawley's Gooley Gumdrops; and Hollywood's ace director, Ted Watson, takes over as master of ceremonies. The evening's performance is adapted from the screen version of "IT HAPPENED ONE AFTERNOON", and the leading roles are played by beautiful Isabel Olesky and handsome Donald Huber, celebrated cinema stars. If you look in the glass-walled control room you will see Guy Nooney operating the main control-board and Edward Schiller taking care of the sound effects.

POWERS' AGENCY: Thick carpets, soft-hued walls, magnificent simplicity; a placard on the desk reads: John Powers, Jr. (He is head of the world's most famous model agency, which he inherited from his father.) The quiet eloquence of beautiful women shines from the walls. Pictures of the famous Georgia Carroll Haines, Gloria Vitello, Phyllis Boorman make us breathe softly in wonder—once WE knew these women.

TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK: Busily tapping away at the keys of a typewriter in the editorial room of the New York TIMES we find none other than golden-haired Jean Gillette, who heads the staff of the TIMES editorial writers. As the viewplate is focused to another part of the building we see John Archer, lost in deep concentration. On his desk there is a little sign which reads "Advertising Manager". In the sports department we see Milton Sapir writing an article headed, "Bellina signs season contract with Yanks." In another part of the building, star reporter Ralph Bowman is just starting for the Floyd Bennett airport.

BROADWAY: Into the daytime emptiness of Broadway's beloved Longacre Theatre we flash the cosmagnet. Balcony, pit, orchestra are deserted, but on the stage the confusion of rehearsal reigns . . . HAMLET opens tonight . . . Maurice Evans, Jr. is discussing the script with his feminine lead—a slim blonde young woman whose smile is familiar (THE TEMPEST, THE DOUBLE DOOR come back to us across the years); Ophelia is played by Gladys Keeley. Another young woman with light brown hair and efficient staccato heels seems everywhere. On the programs will appear: Doris Adams, Director.

Prophecy

NEW GENERAL HOSPITAL: The deft, nimble fingers of a world famous surgeon have just completed a delicate brain operation. The anti-peritonitis ray, invented by Joseph Padalino, is turned off by nurse Lenore Edwards. All equipment of the huge hospital was installed by the E. Riker Company. In the main office is a televisaphone which will get a view of any room in the building for the convenience of caring for the patients. The instrument is now focused on the hospital laboratory, a chemist's paradise, where the world's best scientists work . . .

We see test tubes, rack on rack, bottles of chemicals, culture media. Bent low over a microscope is Joseph Gruber, minutely making notes—a young man whose name promises to live in the annals of science. Among the laboratory technicians deftly preparing serums are Doris Jorgensen and June Boyle.

After showing scenes in New York, Reiter and Hanle focus the machine to contact their men in other parts of the country.

NIAGARA: Down the icy shutes glides Perry Stone to a new world's record in skiing. World Championships and official records are now decided at the Annual Olympic Games, where all sports and athletics are included. Ruth Bennett has won world-wide acclaim for her fancy figure skating while Helen Schifano has been crowned Queen of Acrobats. William Conkling has captured several titles for championship swimming. Walter Weller received laurels for his tennis abilities and Rufo has fenced his way to the number one position.

CHICAGO: "Turmoil" is the word which best describes the after-dinner scene of the Big Business Men's Convention of 1960. Seated at one of the tables, steel magnate Donald Bishop seems to have enjoyed his meal. Hiding behind a smokeless, odorless, cigar is Joe Lynch, a "big boss" of the largest women's hosiery manufacturing company in the world. Sidney Foster, who has made his fortune in the manufacture of automatic meal servers, now emits a genuine Edward Arnold chuckle, as he listens to a joke being told by Charles Graham, purchasing agent for New York City's leading department store, Hendrick's. A recordogram has just arrived from David Howie, proprietor of a large printing establishment, and the business men now hear him express his apologies for not being able to attend the convention. As we scan the large dining room we see many more familiar faces. There is Edgar Miller, oil king; Wayne Yelverton, real estate agent; and banker Dale Whitesell. Guest speakers were Robert Duffey, football coach at Notre Dame, and James Herdic, basketball coach at New York University.

ANNAPOLIS: Crash! A bottle of champagne has just been broken over the bow of a streamlined, rocket-powered, land, air and sea liner by Helen Brew, christening it the SHIP OF PEACE. Nearby stands its admiral, Frank Schettino, who is planning to conduct the ship on a good-will tour which will include every important city in the Federation of the World. (All the countries joined to form one large federation in 1958. This was partly a result of Ambassador Robert Williamson's brilliant efforts to create international good-will.)

EAST ORANGE: Many of the 1940 alumni have remained in East Orange, where they are leading happy, normal lives. Supersalesman Finley Haiman gives a triumphant grin as he closes another big deal for the Drury Diesel Company. The old high school is replaced by a new modern building, with escalators and elevators. In the office Eileen Simpson is televising Room 912 to see if George Black, Jr. reported to nurse Selma Haines. In the girls' lounge (which replaces the old-fashioned study halls) a student is busily reading AMELIORATION OF CONVERSATION by Eleanor Gruber. As the 'scope is focused on Room 409, we see Edward Hofgesang teaching history to a class of eager freshmen, while in Room 102 Edward Buhrer cleverly fights the battle of Latin versus spring fever by slipping a joke or pun in here and there.

The Last Will and Testament of Ferdinand Forty

• I, Ferdinand Forty of East Orange High School, having successfully completed the four stages of servitude (freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior) required of a student at East Orange High School, and declaring myself to be in as sound a state of mind as could be expected of a senior, do hereby proclaim this to be the final draft of my will and testament. I do hereby publicly announce the bequeathment of all my possessions, both tangible and intangible, with the exception of the cherished memories of my high school days, to my rightful successors as is stated in the following paragraphs:

FIRST—To the entire student body of East Orange High School of the year 1940-1941, I transfer the great task of upholding the school's honor, prestige, and reputation so arduously built up by students of past years; the privilege of producing an annual play and operetta which live up to the high standard set by those of the past; the masterpieces carved permanently by skilled and nimble fingers into the top of every desk, which range from the delicately curved line to the broad, bold initials and short, snappy sayings, and which inevitably catch your pencil in the middle of an exam; also I leave the helpful translations written in diminutive, yet dynamic handwriting above the more obscure words in every language book; and last but not least I leave the familiar portals of 228.

SECOND—To my immediate and eldest successor, Frederick Forty-one, I reluctantly consign the sacred, most honored position of a student of East Orange High School—the twelfth grade, accompanied by the esteemed title, 'senior.' With this position, however, I willingly transfer the numerous obligations and responsibilities of a senior which deal mainly with setting the pace, styles, and examples for the underclassmen to follow. I also issue the challenge to make as good a record in the realms of athletics as I have, and the austere command to beat Barringer for the third consecutive year in football, so as to 'even up' the old feud, leaving a clean slate for Franklin Forty-two.

THIRD—To my third heir, Franklin Forty-two, I leave the long sought title, 'upperclassman' and the privilege of going about school with your nose in the air and a 'chip on your shoulder.' I leave also the honored privilege of attending assembly with the seniors and of participating in C.P. duties and school enterprises.

FOURTH—To my fourth heir, Freddie Forty-three, I leave my heartiest congratulations on your being graduated from the lowly rank of freshman. I also leave you the prerogative of explaining to the freshmen that there really are no elevators or left-handed monkey wrenches and that they do not have to have a pass in order to enter the gymnasium.

FIFTH—To the incoming class, Future Forty-four, I leave my deepest sympathy and a bit of advice—when in the depths of despair, remember that one day you too will be a senior.

SIXTH—To the teachers I leave a few more tons of papers to correct; the hope of getting an ideal class; and a few more gray hairs (or if it runs in the family, a few hairs less).

Signed, in behalf of the class of 1940:

Student Council

● The most important of all school organizations, the Student Council, was headed this year by Charles Roberts, with Mr. Russell Fraser as adviser. As usual, the Council began its work for the year by approving a list of names recommended for the Social Committee, the Student Courts, and the Corridor Patrol.

On November 2, ten members of the Council, together with Mr. Fraser, attended a student council convention at Trenton High School, where representatives from schools all over New Jersey gathered to discuss the various problems confronting every student council. There were many meetings held at the convention, and, as each of the ten went to a different meeting, a wide range of problems was covered. Our representatives were proud to report on their return home that our school government compared very favorably with others in New Jersey.

The Council's next project was writing a new School Creed which would express the ideals and traditions of the school and would be hung in the main office.

The chief work for the year, however, was the revision of the Constitution of the General Organizations and the publication of a handbook, two projects which went far toward keeping the school up-to-date. The list of clubs and organizations and the clause concerning the meetings of Class Councils were eliminated from the Constitution. The new handbook contained enough information about the school to satisfy any freshman. One feature was a diagram of each of the two main floors of the school, to help newcomers find their way around.

The Council ended a particularly busy year by selecting the editor-in-chief and business manager for the next year's SYLLABUS.

Safety Council

● In this, the third year of its existence, the Safety Council has firmly established itself in the school as an organization worthy of much praise. With Bill Conkling as president and Mr. Lewis as faculty adviser, the Council opened the year with a drive on safety in the halls, and, with the co-operation of the C.P.'s, was able to cut down much of the unnecessary running and pushing, thus avoiding many accidents.

In addition to the safety stickers on the doors, an idea which proved useful in other years, the Council put out new safety signs for car windows. These signs proved a great success, for cars all over the town were soon bearing the red-and-blue reminders for safe driving. To help promote safer conduct in the halls, the Council had yellow lines painted on the floors by the doors of both the girls' and boys' gymnasiums. These lines were of special use during the lunch periods, when dancing was held in the gymnasiums.

To end a particularly successful year, the Council sponsored a Professor Quiz program, given during an assembly period. The questions, submitted by the students, were answered by the members of the Council, who acquitted themselves with admirable skill.

ACTIVITIES

The Orchestra

● The Orchestra has always been a popular activity and also a popular organization with the other students because of the concerts it presents. Under the direction of Mr. C. Paul Herfurth, it has provided many pleasant musical moments for us, ones which we all enjoyed thoroughly. The Orchestra's first appearance this year was with the Glee Club in a joint concert given during an assembly period. Featured in this concert were songs from RIO RITA, and especially good was a trombone duet by Armand Tarjarin and Robert Hendriks. A joint concert with the band was the Orchestra's next contribution to the entertainment of the school.

A second program given with the Glee Club ended its activities for the year and completed a very successful season.

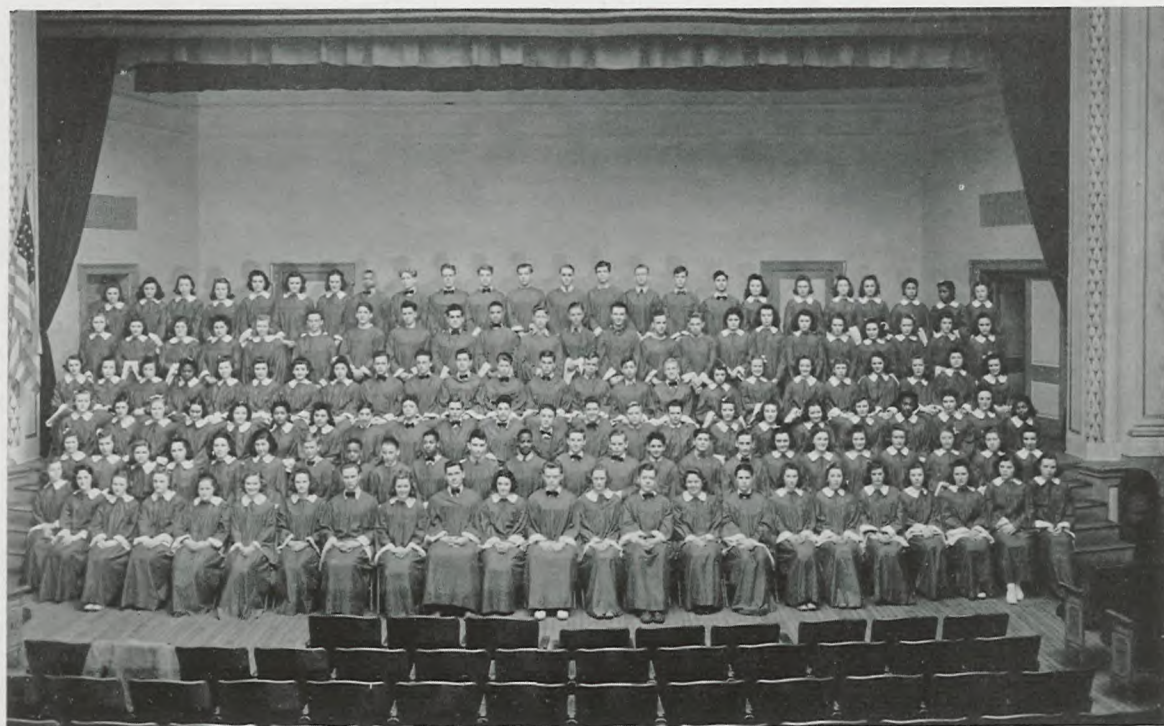

● The Band this year again kept up the high standards of playing that Mr. Herfurth has set for it. As usual we first saw the Band at the football games, where, as the Marching Band, under the able guidance of David Jones, drill-sergeant, and Duane Ellingham, drum-major, it helped with its rousing marches to spur our team on to victory. This Marching Band is an inseparable part of all our football games, and deserves much praise for its hard drilling and its strict demerit system. As in other years, the Band co-operated with the Orchestra in presenting a highly successful concert near the end of the year.

The Band

The Glee Club

● The Glee Club started its activities for the year with a happy bang when it produced PAT STANDS PAT in cooperation with the Dramatics Department. This three-act musical with its modern catchy tunes and its breezy lines was as huge a success this time as when produced several years ago, and provided quite a change from the usual operettas. The tunes and the clever dialogue were very ably taken care of by Ed Rustum, Marjorie Hall, Ozzie Porter, Janet Lees, Raymond Deyo, Phyllis Boorman, and Ted Watson, with a chorus of twenty dancing girls and two hundred other Glee Club members to furnish background. The songs proved so popular that a number of them were repeated in an assembly program given jointly by the Glee Club and the Orchestra.

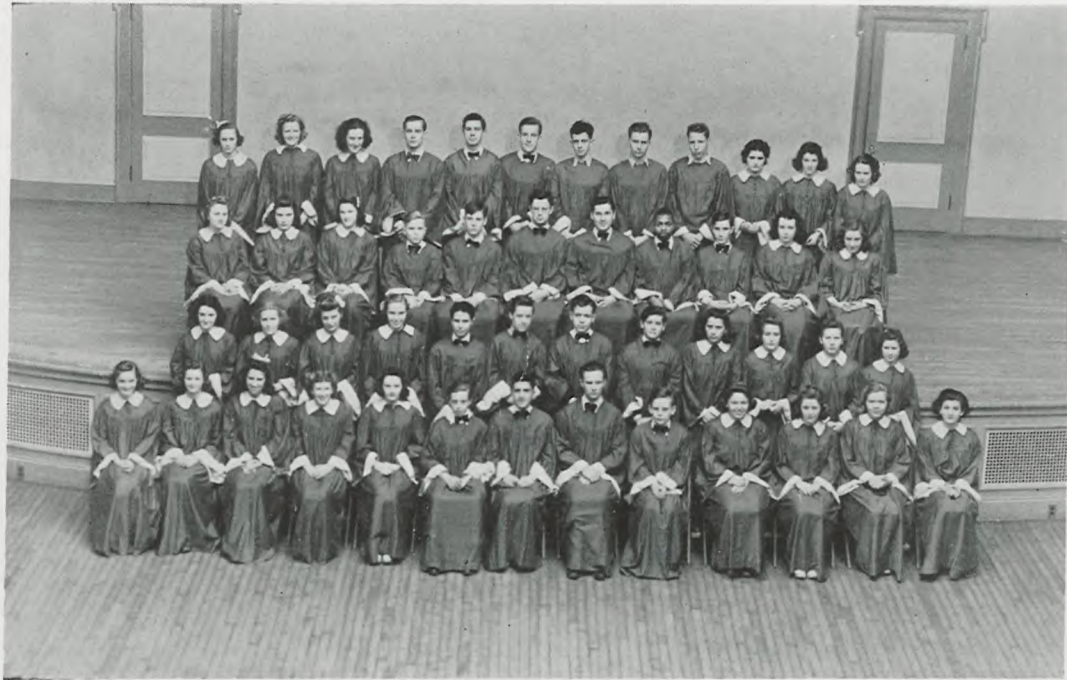

On March 21, twenty-six members of the Glee Club sang at the Mosque Theater in Newark as part of the Essex County Chorus, and, as usual, the high school was well represented. Other activities at that time included a concert, given at the end of March, and another program given with the Orchestra in May.

The Spirituals and A Cappella Choirs were fortunate enough to attend the Annual State Choral Festival at Trenton, May 16, and the year ended for the Glee Club with the annual outing at Green Pond in June.

A Cappella Choir

Spirituals Choir

● This year the Social Committee consisted of Jeanne Ragsdale, Bob Files, Bill Conkling, Alan Harris, and Marjorie Hall, with Mr. Fraser as faculty adviser. They provided two excellent evenings of fun and dancing for us and helped to make our senior year very pleasant.

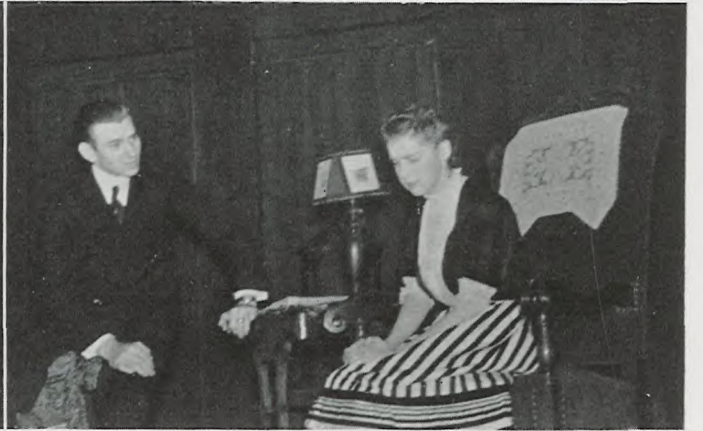

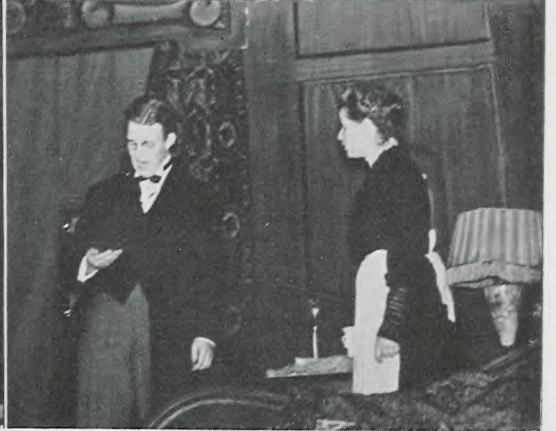

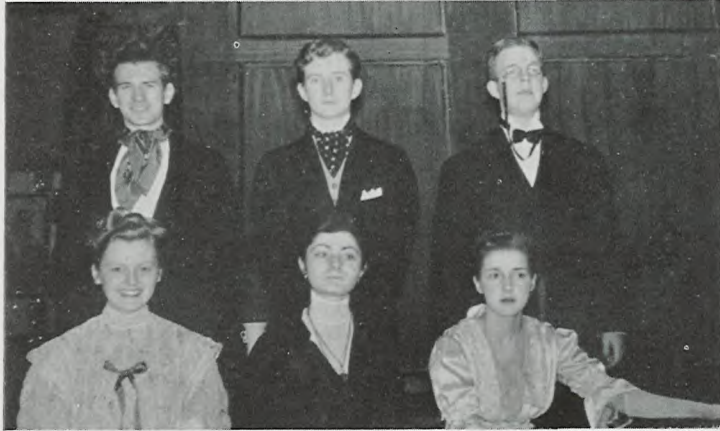

On January 27, amid much gaiety and hullabaloo, the Junior-Senior Prom was given. For this occasion the girls' gymnasium was transformed into a veritable ballroom through the efforts of hardworking committees. The introduction of Carl Kroll's orchestra and the singing of two very talented members of the student body, Betty Poston and Edward Rustum, made the dance one of the most successful ever held. In years to come, aged E.O.H.S. graduates can look back to this occasion and murmur, "That was the dance when the famous pair of Poston and Rustum got its start."

On April 27 the Social Committee presented the Annual Grad Dance, which, as the final social affair of the year, was also a great success and added greatly to the enjoyment of our last school days.

Dramatics

● In the opinion of everyone the productions of the Dramatics Department have been unusually successful this year. Under the expert guidance of Miss Jeanette Bjorneby and Mr. Laurence Goodrich, several outstanding plays were given, furnishing much enjoyment for the students and uncovering talent heretofore unnoticed.

Early in November, two one-act plays, THE LOST ELEVATOR and PYRAMUS AND THISBE, provided much amusement for the upper and lower class assemblies. Outstanding in the first were George Corrin, as the elevator boy, and Alister Cameron, as an old crank, with Wayne Ross, Trudy Erb, Eugene Gorlick, David Holland, Alan Hall, Marilyn Meyer, Arleane Miller, and Doris Smith in supporting roles. The second play was remarkable for its dramatization of the wall superbly done by Willard Pierson, and for the acting of those in the title roles, George Bisgeier, Arthur Henderson. Others in the cast were William Goldfarb, Donald Huber, Doris Adams, George Rowe, Ellen Tamor, Alan Ofner, and Hazel Space.

EAGER HEART was chosen for the annual Christmas pageant, and Isabel Olesky was especially good in the title role. On the nights of February 1 and 2, the High School production of PAT STANDS PAT was presented in cooperation with the Glee Club.

The yearly full-length play, DOUBLE DOOR, a melodrama with more than a touch of humor, was remarkably well-done, and much credit should be given to its leading players, Arleane Miller, Gladys Keeley, Donald Huber, Doris Adams, and Edward Albretsen, for their splendid portrayals and the naturalness of their acting.

News Board

● The NEWS celebrated an unusually successful year, and for the first time in several years had the distinction of making a profit on the Barringer issue. At the start of the year the Board underwent a slight reorganization: associate editors were dropped, and the copy desk editors, Jessica Bradt, Eleanor Gruber, and William Spaar, were placed directly under the capable editor-in-chief, Robert Specht. The other editors, Lucille Cantarella, Gladys Keeley, Isabel Olesky, Olga Polvere, Margaret Williamson, William Lynch, and George Tuttle, all worked hard to make the paper the success that it was.

On December 9, a group of five from the NEWS Board and their adviser, Mr. Theron Coffin, were able to attend a conference in Montclair at which representatives from all the high school papers in New Jersey were present. Here various group discussions and meetings were held in which the different aspects of newspaper work were talked over.

Another conference, annually sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, was held March 14, 15, and 16. Ten members of the Board, accompanied by Mr. Coffin, were fortunate enough to attend it. At this time, newspapers from all over the country are rated, and representatives from papers as far away as California come to compete. As in other years, the NEWS was high up on the list of papers.

The final issue of the NEWS was prepared by the 1940-1941 staff, in honor of the graduating class.

Football

● For two consecutive years the East Orange football team has ended the season with outstanding records. Undeclared in 17 games, the team has been second in the state for the past two years under the Colliton System of rating the New Jersey high schools, its only defeat last year being that by West Side.

The Panthers began the 1939 season with the traditional game with Cranford. As in the previous year, their first game was replete with errors, though the team won a two-point victory over the Cranford squad. Muddling their only chance to make a touchdown by a poor pass from center, the Red and Blue lost the one real offensive thrust of the game. The score came by a safety made in the first few plays.

This unimpressive showing looked bad for East Orange, destined to meet a very strong West Side team the next Saturday. Coach Shotwell drilled his men so stiffly on the field that the Panthers defeated West Side 7-0 at Ashland Stadium, out-playing the Green in every phase of the game. Driving from the 40-yard line, after a West Side fumble recovered by Joe Digiore, the passes of Brodbeck to Duffey and runs by Bennett and Grecco brought the ball to rest on the one-yard line. On the next play George Bennett plunged over the line for the score, after which Frank Schettino converted the extra point.

The team next met Morristown, and by capitalizing on the enemy's every mistake, the Red and Blue scored a 20-0 victory.

In the annual meeting of East Orange and West Orange, the Panthers struck off by a seven-point margin the first of the contenders for the Inter-Oranges League Championship. In the first half the team made a mighty drive towards the West Orange goal only to lose the ball on a fumble. In the second quarter a blocked kick by Bob Duffey on the 44-yard line gave the team another chance, but they met strong opposition and lost the ball on downs. After this setback the team again passed and ran its way to the one-yard line, only to have the half end before they could score. The check to these disappointments came when George Bennett streakd 85 yards in the last minutes of play for a touchdown. Frank Schettino converted and the game was over, East Orange winning 7-0.

East Orange then overwhelmed Plainfield by the second largest score of the season, 27-0. The Red and Blue proved to be too strong for the Plainfield eleven, who struggled vainly against the East Orange second and third string varsity. Cortez and Whitney, reeling off the yards behind efficient blocking, were the Red and Blue's main threat throughout the game.

Meeting a strong Montclair team, the Panthers upset them by sixteen points. Bob Files, who was unable to see action in the West Orange game, played his usual brilliant and hard fighting game against the Mounties. Because of a broken leg, Jim Collins was unable to play during the remainder of the season.

A capacity crowd filled the Ashland Stadium to witness one of the best games of the year, that between East Orange and Nutley. The two teams met on an equal basis, neither having been defeated or tied. The Panthers, making the first score of the game but failing to make the extra point, were ahead 6-0. Later on a return punt by Nutley, East Orange lost the ball on a fumble, which was recovered by Nutley on the 30-yard line. From there the Nutley eleven marched for a touchdown, but also failed to make the conversion. The game ended in a 6-6 draw.

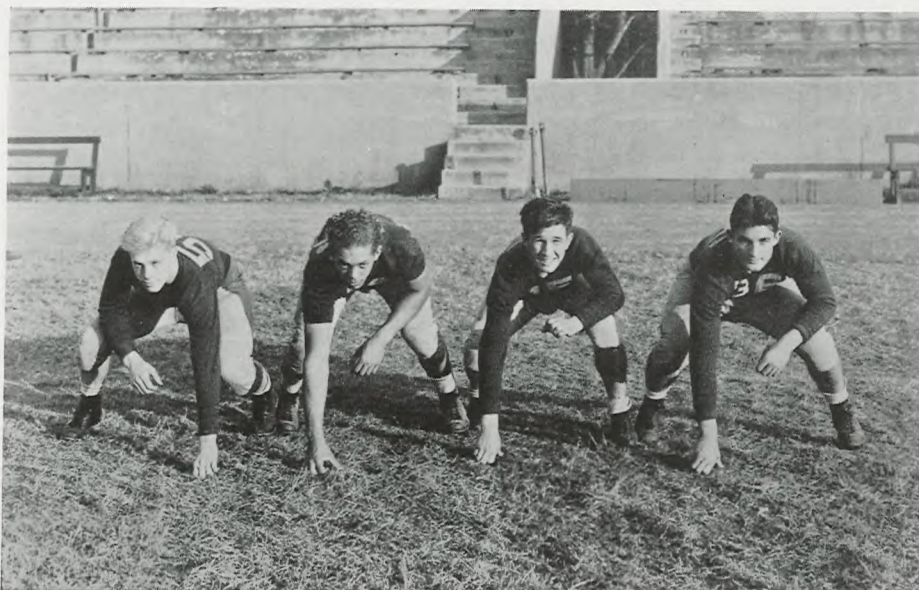

The team next showed their strength by defeating Orange at the Municipal Stadium, Orange. Duffy's snagging of passes, and Bennett's superb running piled up the largest score of the season, 34-7.

East Orange handed Columbia its first defeat of the season, and thereby clinched the Inter-Oranges Championship for the first time. Bennett on the opening play tore through a large hole off left tackle and sprinted the length of the field behind excellent blocking for the first score. Frank Schettino converted, and the score stood at 7-0 before anyone knew what had happened. The team then rolled up 19 points to the Cougar's 4.

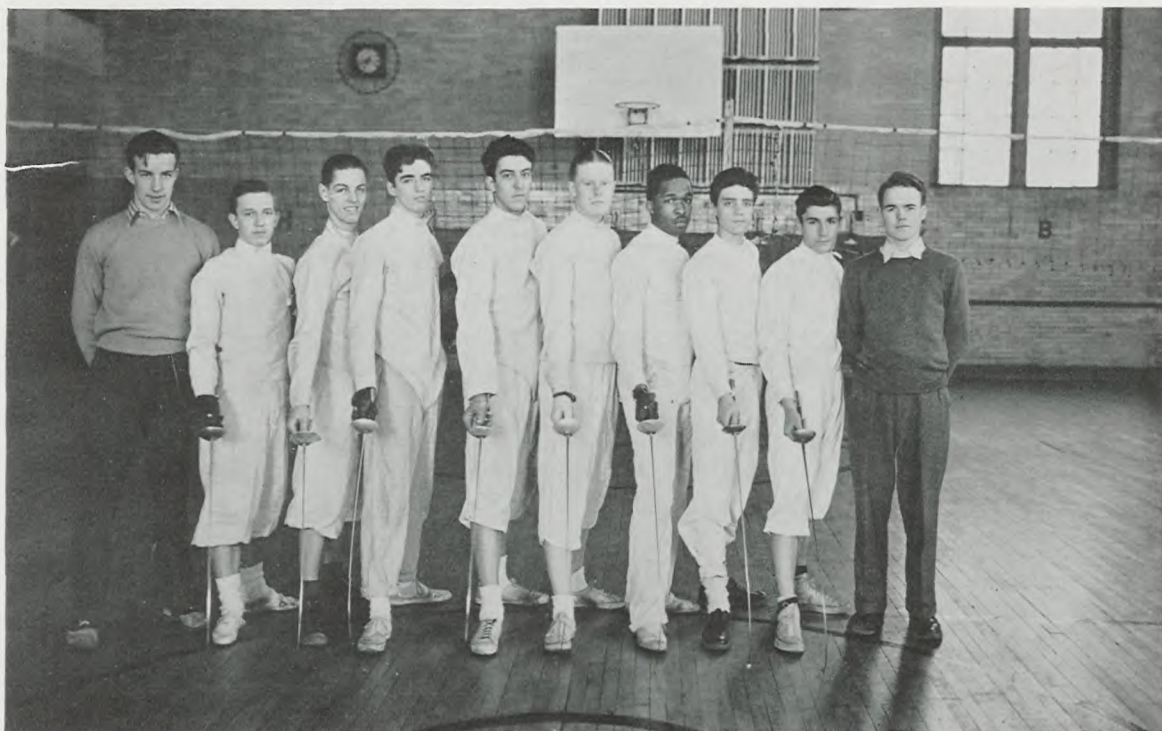

In the annual Turkey Day classic, the Red and Blue rolled up a 14-0 victory over a hard fighting Barringer team. East Orange outclassed Barringer in practically every phase of the game. In the first period the Panthers scored the first touchdown with Frank Grecco plunging over the line. The point after the touchdown failed, and the score remained 6-0 at the end of the half. The Barringer eleven tried vainly to drive deep into East Orange territory, only to be pushed back again and again. The Panther powerhouse in the second half rolled up eight more points before the game ended. This completed a successful season for the Red and Blue.

This success could not have been attained had it not been for the fine coaching of George Shotwell and the Pitt System; for the powerful line, consisting of co-captains Bob Duffey and Mat Mauriello, and George Cross, Joe Digiore, Anthony De Rosa, Ed Eisenberg, Bob Files; and for the brilliant calling of plays by Frank Schettino, and the back field in general.

Next year the only letter men to return will be Ed Eisenberg, George Cortez, Frank Grecco, and Ken Whitney, who will form the nucleus of this squad.

K. Ulmer, A. Lindstrom, T. Garrabrants, W. Wyrrough, R. Sanchez (Captain), C. Brumell, E. Harris, M. Fuerstman, T. Carocci, R. Young.

Fencing

● Although the fencing team felt deeply the loss of last year's captain, Alphonse Sully, the position was very capably filled by the versatile Rufo Sanchez. Under the able guidance of Coach Don Cetrulo, Rufo led the squad through a stiff season of eighteen meets in which the team bowed to four opponents only. This remarkable record warranted the awarding of medals to the squad.

Starting the season, the Red and Blue fencers met Lincoln on the former's home court. Here Rufo captured three matches out of the necessary five. The meet ended, 7-2, in E.O.'s favor. Next they toppled Arts High, 7-2, with Sanchez and Garrabrants winning two matches apiece. Meeting Bloomfield, the E.O. foils men kept their record unmarred by defeating their opponents 6-3. Later the team won over the College High fencers, 8-1, and then over Thomas Jefferson and South Side, 7-2 and 9-0 respectively.

The next meet against Central High ended the long winning spurt with the score 4-5. Rufo Sanchez added two victories, while Art Lindstrom and Eldred Harris each accounted for one. The following meet saw the team win, 7-2, over the Montclair squad. Sanchez again led with two wins; and Art Lindstrom, Edson Garrabrants, Bill Wyrrough, Eldred Harris, and Myron Fuerstein also emerged victorious.

The victory over Weequahic by a 6-3 margin somewhat annulled the disappointing defeat at the hands of Barringer, 3-6. In the meet against Lincoln the team streaked through to win 6-3, and then fell to defeat in the next two meets to Central and Barringer, 6-3 and 5-4 respectively.

Arts High lost 5-4 to the Red and Blue, and in return meets against Weequahic and Bloomfield, the team also triumphed, upsetting the former, 5-4, and the latter, 6-3. Then the team lost, 6-3, the return engagement with South Side; but in the final meet of the season the Red and Blue foilers topped the Thomas Jefferson squad, 7-2.

Next year's squad will feel deeply the loss of Rufo Sanchez. This year's letter men were Will Wyrrough, Eldred Harris, Rufo Sanchez, and Art Lindstrom. Garrabrants, who was out most of the season because of illness, will be back this coming year to form the nucleus of the 1941 squad.

FIRST ROW: W. Meeteer, C. Roberts, C. Herder, J. Herdic (Captain), R. Duffey, G. Gowley, R. Kahn.
SECOND ROW: D. Grahn, J. Saylor, D. Fishbeck, J. Kessock, W. Robbitt, Mr. Griffin (Coach).

Basketball

● In the opening game of the season the Red and Blue cagers, captained by the versatile Jim "Red" Herdic, defeated the Alumni, 38-22; then in the next game they defeated Nutley, 37-27. The team got its first taste of Inter-Orange competition in the game with Columbia, which it lost 21-19. The following game cost Orange its first defeat by a 24-12 margin.

The team met its second defeat at the hands of Irvington, 12-9; but in the return game with Nutley the Red and Blue again won, 42-28. Then came victories over the undefeated Montclair five, 35-29, and over Verona, 46-32.

The following game the team lost to Weequahic, 41-28; their next game against Orange the Panthers won by a one-point margin, 29-28. Then playing the Mounties for the second duel, the team won again, 32-31; this victory was followed by another over West Orange, 38-30, which gave the team the lead in the Inter-Orange League.

At Columbia the Red and Blue assured themselves of at least a tie in the League by defeating the Lions, 41-30. Next came a victory over Bloomfield, 27-21, which raised the team's hope for the coming State Tourney. Except for the State Tourney, the game against the W. O. Cowboys wound up the already impressive season with a score of 32-23 in E. O.'s favor.

In East Orange's first Tourney contest, the team toppled the Paterson East Side five by the score of 43-39. The game was played at the Orange Armory before a capacity crowd, with Duffey and Roberts starting for E. O. In the second battle at the Armory, that against W. O., the team defeated the Cowboys, 44-30; and then on the next Saturday they eliminated Orange, 31-24, thus placing East Orange in the semi-finals.

The defeat of Collingswood High at the Elizabeth Armory, 35-27, made Griff's team the runner-up to Memorial High of West New York; and on the next Saturday the two teams met, again at Elizabeth. At the start the West New York team had the upper hand, and at the half, because of a great advantage in height, it had more than a ten-point lead over the Red and Blue. In the closing seconds Memorial led, 38-37; then came a splendid shot by Duffey and the game was over, 39-38.

For the second successive year the team captured the Inter-Orange League Championship; and for the first time in the school's history it won the New Jersey State Tourney. This remarkable record must be attributed to the able coaching of Stanley Griffin and to the outstanding playing of the team as a whole.

Soccer

● Under the able guidance of Coach Stanley Griffin the 1939 soccer team ended the season with an outstanding record. Winning five games, tying three, and losing two, the team showed plenty of fight and will to win. This year's squad brought forth two men whose names will probably be heard of in seasons to come: Joe Sassano, who played brilliantly on both offense and defense, and Bill Rabbitt, who showed ability in the forward line. Opening the season with a one-to-nothing victory over a strong Verona team, the Red and Blue next battled to a one-to-one deadlock with Montclair. Meeting a hard fighting Summit team, they eked out a one-point victory in the last minutes of play by scoring on a penalty kick. The following game against Chatham, who previous to this time had been undefeated in twenty games, showed an East Orange team that could not be equaled, toppling the Chatham booters two-to-nothing. After this win, the team was defeated by the famed Harrison squad, five-to-three. Playing a return game at Montclair, they won by the two points tallied by Roselle and Modugno. A rainstorm prevailed through the entire afternoon of the scheduled meeting between East Orange and Kearny, Group Four soccer champions. Both teams fought hard on a muddy and slippery home field upon which East Orange was handed its second defeat of the season. Hard as the team fought, the players were unable to shoot the ball past the Kearny goalie. This defeat was reconciled by a three-to-nothing victory over the Chatham squad at their home field. The game stood at a scoreless tie at the half, but in the second half the spectators saw an East Orange team that only time could stop from scoring, with Roselle tallying two of the three points, and Lucas shooting the third. The season ended with games with Verona and Summit both ending in ties, one-all. The Summit game showed Tony Bellina, playing his usual brilliant and hard-fighting game, tying the game with a superb head shot past the goalie.

Though there will be a great loss of valuable men, "Griff" will have those men who did not quite make the varsity this season and Joe Sassano, the only letter man, with which to form the 1940 squad.

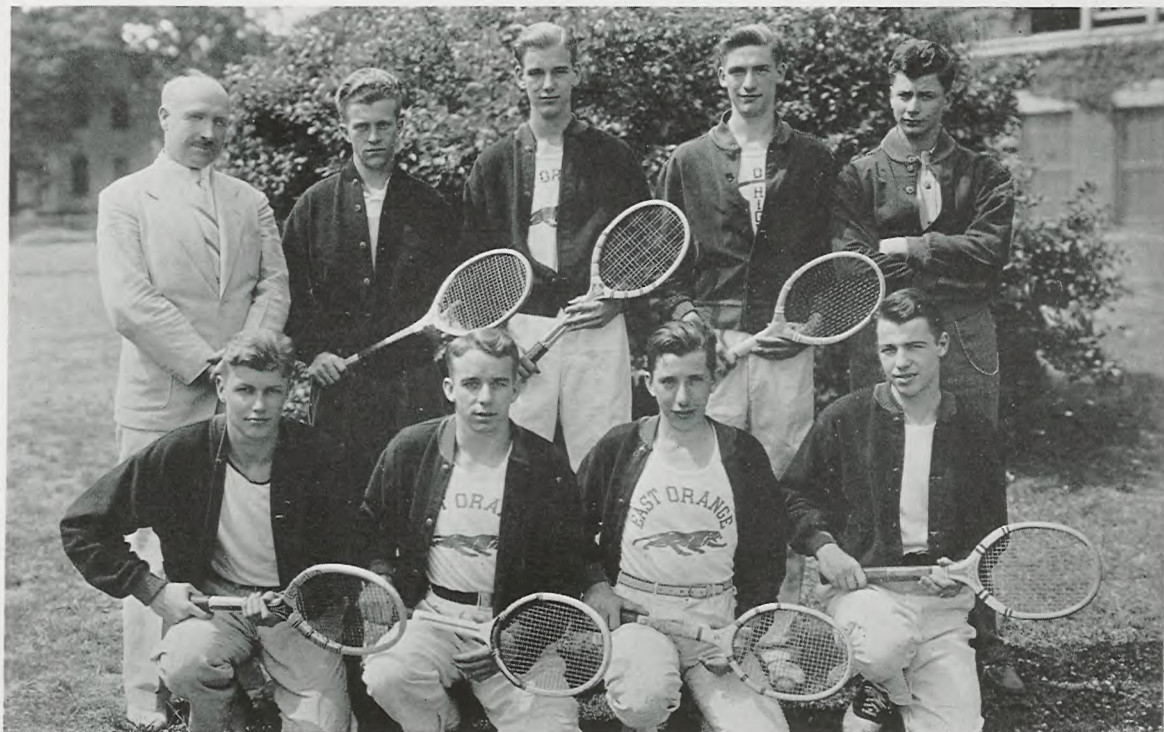

● In the spring of 1939 the East Orange Tennis Team for the third time in as many years was crowned champion of Northern New Jersey by the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association. To achieve this honor the Red and Blue netsters went through their fifteen-game schedule without a single defeat. As a contrast to the two preceding years, when it had been co-champion, the team was this year acclaimed sole ruler of the state interscholastic tennis world.

When the season opened, Coach Davis was faced with the problem of forming a team from recruits who did not include a single letter man. Walter Weller, elected captain, had seen service the previous year but not enough for a letter. From nineteen candidates, John Lowther, Everett Manning, Bill Conkling, Charles Jasik, Douglas Hiley, and Ken Boehm were selected to form, with Walter Weller, the squad which fared so well during its season under the management of Harry Silver. Conkling, Manning, and Weller will return to the 1940 squad with Weller as captain.

Following are the tennis scores, the Plainfield and West Orange matches being the closest:

E. O. 4—Kearny .....	1	E. O. 4—Barringer .....	1
E. O. 5—Bloomfield .....	0	E. O. 3—West Orange .....	2

● Always rated among high schools as a power in track and field events, the East Orange track team lived up to its reputation by sweeping through the season without a single loss in a dual meet. As for the larger meets, the team won second place at the Princeton Interscholastics, third in the Newark Open Meet, and third in the State Meet.

Starting with a win over West Orange in a practice meet, the Red and Blue went on with the same spirit to overthrow Thomas Jefferson, Westfield, and West Side in dual meet competition.

This year the team was especially strong in the pole vault, in which event it had a trio, Jim Kessock, Fred Burley, and Dick Whitehead, who among them captured first in every meet. Bill Booth ran the hundred and the two hundred and twenty-yard dashes. Bob Burke ran the quarter-mile most of the season but switched to the dashes in the state meet. Seymore Hundley, state champion half-miler in 1938, also successfully covered this distance for the 1939 squad. George Wakely received his letter for the mile, and Vernon Doudt got one for the shot put. Rufo Sanchez and Bob Davenport threw the discus. Sanchez also throws the javelin for East Orange.

The 1940 squad will have returning three men who already have letters: Rufo Sanchez, Dick Whitehead, and Bob Davenport, the nucleus of what should prove an equally strong team.

● After an unfortunate beginning the Red and Blue baseball team chalked up a fairly good record for itself, winning two-thirds of its games. Among its more notable achievements was the victory over the Nutley squad, previously unbeaten by an East Orange baseball team since 1923.

The Panthers started the season by dropping four of the first five games. After losses to West Side and Columbia, they made one showing of which they may be proud: they trampled Orange, 8-4. Then returning to their losing ways, they were defeated by Bloomfield, 4-1; and by Verona, 5-4.

After these losses the golden era for the team began. They swept through the remainder of the season without a single defeat, taking seven straight victories: Columbia, Orange, Thomas Jefferson, Belleville, Verona, Nutley, and Barringer in that order.

The men to receive varsity letters in this sport were James Herdic, first base; Frank Schettino, short stop; Nick Mastrodominico, third base; Tony Bellina, center field; Frank Araneo, second base; Art Modugno, left field; Ralph Bowman and Jim O'Neill, pitchers; George Falcon, right field; Nate Johnson and Louis Roselle, catchers.

During the spring of 1940 Coach Stanley Griffin hopes to mold his squad around last year's letter men: Ralph Bowman, Tony Bellina, Louis Roselle, Art Modugno, Frank Schettino, and James Herdic.
