FOREWORD

• The class of 1943 faces a world at war. Liberty, decency, and truth are threatened: democracy finds itself fighting for its very existence.

The Syllabus Board has sought in its dividers to show how our forefathers met and conquered similar challenges to our way of life. What they have done, we too can do. It is our earnest hope that the words and deeds of these great patriots will inspire us to redoubled efforts on our arduous journey over the rough road to victory.

Liberty and Justice for All."*

Messages from Our Principals

Dr. Galen Jones
Principal

To the Class of 1943
East Orange High School

● The theme of democracy is appropriate at any time; for you to have selected it for your yearbook in these critical times is particularly fitting. You reveal, thereby, a sensitiveness to the major issue before our people in these crucial days, and you add another significant feature to an already enviable and noble school tradition.

The cornerstone of a democracy is the inherent dignity of each human being. It is evident that virtually every member of the student body has learned this truth. Respect for individual worth encourages self-control, the assumption of individual responsibility, and the cooperative spirit which are manifest throughout our school.

For these achievements and ideals you owe more than can be estimated to the inspiring leadership of Dr. Ralph E. Files. It is a joy to share with him the privilege of greeting the Class of 1943. I am wishing you Godspeed in the important days ahead.

Appreciatively yours,

Galen Jones

To the Class of 1943
East Orange High School

● Probably few members of a student body realize the interest its teachers and principal have in youth, and their desire to help youth in the solution of youth's problems. So, the letter of your representative brings to me much pleasure. Your expression of friendly remembrance is the conferring upon a schoolmaster a degree, "summa cum laude."

I would not have left you at the three-quarters post had not "Father Time" caught up with me. However, you are fortunate in having Dr. Jones, an outstanding educator and a sympathetic friend, to guide you through your senior year.

It is certain that the members of the Class of 1943, East Orange High School, will function effectively in the affairs of this troubled world.

My best wishes go to each and every one of you.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph E. Files

Dedication

● To Miss Mabel E. Smith, with sincere appreciation for all that she has done for us, the Class of 1943 dedicates this SYLLABUS.

For many years Miss Smith has been Registrar and Associate Principal, and until this year was the adviser to senior boys as well as girls. She has, through her position in charge of programs, made school life easier for all of the students, sparing neither time nor effort to help each individual find a significant place for his special talents.

Her kindness and thoughtfulness, too often hidden by the austerity of the front office, have done much to make pleasanter and more inspiring our American heritage of a high-school education.

★ SENIORS ★

This plaque, on the south wall of the auditorium, was erected in 1921 by the students of East Orange High School. It is dedicated to those members of our Alma Mater, students and teachers, who served in the first World War.

● Excitement is in the air as June 21, 1963, approaches. The entire city of East Orange is jubilant over the dedication of its beautiful, new high school. On this very same day the illustrious class of '43 is to hold its reunion and banquet in the gigantic, glass-walled cafeteria designed by Robert O'Sullivan, world famous architect. The dedication and banquet have been headlined for the last three weeks in Robert Wilderman's paper, the East Orange Times, while the rest of the publicity has been competently handled by George Beekman and Janis Jordan, two of the best known publicity agents in the trade. Invitations were sent out under the careful supervision of Marilyn Friedman, who is known as the "Elsa Maxwell of her day." These were given special consideration by Postmaster General Paul Mack, who made sure each one reached its destination.

Now that all the preparations have been taken care of, the wonderful day finally arrives, and who should be the first to appear but the famous racing pilot, Richard Drury, zooming out of the clear, blue sky in his latest model Sherman and Stewart Super-8-Rocket Speedster. Soon the asphalt landing field on the spacious roof of the building is completely hidden by the numerous rocket cars and planes, which are brought down safely under the able management of Inter-Urban Air Traffic Director Winton Huthwaite. Arriving in a beautiful red, white, and blue rocket ship with a military escort is the President of our country coming to see the most modern high school in our nation and to give one of his Electro-Heater chats. Many other celebrities have also arrived and will be mentioned at the appropriate time.

The escalators are jammed as the alumni pour into the huge, multi-colored corridors. Everyone is busy trying to remember the faces of yesterday or relating experiences of the happy years he spent inside the ivy-covered walls of dear old E. O. H. S.

In the luxurious lounges provided for the students, Governor Louis Faust is in earnest conversation with Rita Leventhal, the famous dress designer of Pierre's, and General Richard Sheridan, hero of the Battle of the China Seas. In another corner are Victor Fucci, the greatest centerfielder the New York Yankees ever had, and Arthur Goodman, the World's Lightweight champion, discussing the splendid playing exhibited by Sue Smith in the National Golf Tournament.

A warning light is seen throughout the school signifying an announcement is going to be made over the Prochazka Public Address System. The pleasing voice of Richard Pennstrom, famed news analyst, kindly asks all those present to step into the corridor and stand on the inner lane, which will then transport them to the auditorium for the afternoon's program. Paul Lochart and John Stokes, co-winners of the Briscoe Scientific Award, invented this ingenious method of traveling from one place to another. As the group reaches the assembly they are handed a program of the afternoon and evening events by a Lupia and Jacobus Automatic Robot. Then they are quickly seated in the immense hall under the guidance of Charles Sauter and Richard Bradford, who are the founders of the American Society for the Benefit of All Red-heads. Great spot-lights are focused on the stage, the audience becomes silent, and the show is about to begin.

At six o'clock the class is transported to the cafeteria for a wonderful meal planned by Shirley Uretzky, the famous dietician, and prepared by John Andrew, head chef at the Meeker Hotel. As part of the banquet various foreign delicacies are to be served. These were sent in dehydrated form by Russell Geiger, Ambassador to Mustangia; Charles Tarino, Chief Justice of the International Court; and Ruth Tilley, star swimmer of the Olympic team.

After eating their fill, the men sit back and puff away on their Macauley Corona-Coronas, while the women who care to smoke are given Smith's anti-nicotine "Two-lip" cigarettes. On the square, polaroid screen devised by Edward Bowser are shown various three dimensional views of what our absent classmates look like and what they are doing. First we see a gigantic football stadium in the Empire City, where the Brooklyn Football Dodgers are handing the Chicago Bears a smashing defeat under the able management of John Lunga with Carl Mosso rolling up 47 points single-handed. Again the scene shifts to an impenetrable jungle, where we see the well-built explorer and engineer, Edgar Lindstrom, directing the construction of a seven-lane highway from Buenos Aires to Vancouver.
The dentist chair next comes into view and who should be using those instruments of torture but Marvin Pinsky with Jo Ann Devane, his efficient nurse. Finally we see Helen Sablom christening the world's largest ship as it slips gracefully into the water bearing the name of East Orange '43.

After it is all over there remain only your two reporters, Clarence "Scoop" Johnson, and Joan Paradies, who wish to sign off with the hope that some day the class of 1943 will again unite.

Class History

Dear Joe,

It was wonderful hearing from you and learning of your experience in the Armed Forces. We all miss you a lot and wish you were graduating with us this June. I bet that when you're not knocking the Jap Navy to pieces or pounding the Germans in Berlin, you often think about the good old days in E. O. H. S.

Remember when we were freshmen way back in '39? I'll wager we were the greenest and most gullible of freshman classes. Will you ever forget the trouble we had finding our rooms the first few weeks? But the upper classmen were so helpful (Bless their little hearts!). And what did you do with that bargain ticket for a spot on the gym floor? We listened in awe to two excellent productions, Pat Stands Pat, a smashing musical comedy, and Double Door. Our athletes were gazed upon reverently, for we captured the state championship in basketball, were second in the State in football, and were tennis champs, too.

We enjoyed our freshman year, but looked forward to upperclass status.

As our sophomore year dawned, we were a trifle wary, but gaining in confidence and poise. We held close to our hearts our three officers, Edgar Lindstrom, President; Dick Pennstrom, Vice-President; and Suzanne Campbell, Secretary. Do you recall the fun we had helping with Ruddigore and What a Life? And what good Thespians we had to be to compete with the teachers who took part? (Between you and me, I think they stole the show.) But they didn't steal our thunder when the A Cappella Choir received first award in the State chorus. What excitement there was when everyone sported the latest in arm decorations—the T. B. patch. Yes, 1941 was a happy and successful year, saddened only by the deaths of our beloved "Grosie," Miss Fryer, Mr. Blom, and Mr. Sawyer.

Remember how outstanding our Junior year was. Our officers remained E. Lindstrom, President; R. Pennstrom, Vice-president; and S. Campbell, Secretary. How proud we were when the Chess Team won the State championship title! We outdid ourselves in acting when we presented Stage Door. One of the biggest events of the year (in your estimation, I bet) was the invasion of 219 by the female of the species. Maybe that's the reason we made such a good showing that year. For proof of this, page the five educators who came to observe our methods, and officially rate us in comparison with other schools. Then came December 7, the date of Pearl Harbor. After that, you recall, the girls' slogan was "Purl Harder" as they picked up their needles and knitted for the Red Cross. We all took first aid courses, and were mighty proud of our certificates. Despite our war work, we still had time for the Spirituals Choir Concert, the Spanish play, and the Variety Show.

Our G.O. officials were Carl Petersen, Al Clay, and Shirley Kolb, president, vice-president, and secretary respectively.

Here we are in 1943, our Senior year. For a few weeks smugness sat contentedly on our features, but we soon settled down to the old routine. Our G.O. president is Edgar Lindstrom, with Louis Faust vice-president, and Peggy Jones secretary; while Al Specht has taken over the job of class president.

The war, of course, has altered our program. Some teachers and students have left already for the armed services. The rest have been called upon to help in many war activities—selling War Stamps, working for the Junior Red Cross, and helping with the rationing of sugar, gas, fuel oil, and Ration Book 2. At the mid-year, the Victory Corps went into effect, and we have all been devoting two extra periods a week to marching and setting up exercises.

But despite this extra work, we still had time for an active year. The football team covered itself in shining glory as co-champions of the State, and the Glee Club presented a fine Christmas Concert. The annual play, I'll Leave It to You, was a great success, and we all enjoyed the Junior Prom and Grad Dance. Now we are all settling down to a last burst of studying before we receive our diplomas.

And now I must bring this letter to a close, Joe. It's been fun reminiscing over the events of the past four years with you. Write again when you have a little spare time on your hands; and, when it's "all over, over there," be sure to drop in on dear old E. O. H. S. and tell the students (particularly the gullible freshmen — remember when?) how you personally won the war.

Yours for longer vacations and shorter periods,

for the people . . . "*

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The monument above, erected to our great Civil War president by the people of East Orange, was dedicated June 14, 1911. Situated at Oraton Parkway and New Street, it has since been the scene of annual wreath-placing ceremonies.

Student Council

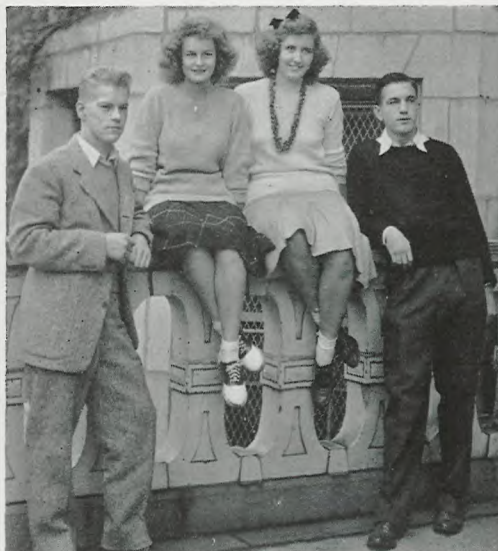

● The Student Council, the most important of all school organizations, was headed this year by Edgar Lindstrom, president; Louis Faust, vice-president; and Peggy Jones, secretary, with Mr. Russell Fraser serving as faculty adviser. The work of the year began with the routine appointments to various positions including the Student Courts, the Corridor Patrol, and the Social Committee.

On November 20 the Council sent nine representatives to the annual convention of Student Councils which was this year held at Rutgers University. Here they attended various conferences relating to common problems of schools in war-time and they returned with many good ideas. They were glad to report that our school government compared favorably with those of the other schools in New Jersey.

One of the principal tasks of the Council this year was helping organize the Victory Corps program in school. The Council acted as liaison between the faculty committees in charge of the Corps and the students, and aided in solving the many problems of the new program.

The Council next undertook the establishing of a school service flag. With the cooperation of the front office and the sewing classes it was finally completed, and was hung in the hall by the Walnut Street entrance.

Other work of this busy year included amending the school constitution, planning dancing during lunch periods, presenting the Variety Show, and choosing next year's editor-in-chief and business manager of the Syllabus.

Safety Council

- The Safety Council this year proved itself an organization worthy of much praise. With Walter Bray as president and Mr. Leeson as faculty adviser, the council has done much to promote safety and efficiency in the school.

The plan of one-way stairways, which had greatly reduced the traffic problem, was again put into practice. In order to relieve the congestion on certain stairways, however, the Council tried reversing the direction of two of them. This proved very successful, and it was made a permanent part of the plan. The Council continued the placing of safety stickers on the doors. With the warning "Open Slowly," these have done much to cut down accidents in the school.

Perhaps the most important and most beneficial contribution of the Safety Council was the selling of War Stamps. Under the Council's direction, salesmen canvassed the school weekly in an effort to bring this opportunity of buying stamps to all the students. A large chart was placed near the Main Office to show the rise and decline of sales.

ACTIVITIES

The memorial above, in Memorial Field on McKinley Avenue, was erected by the City of East Orange to its war dead. It was dedicated November 11, 1932, "To honor those who kept the faith, 1917-1918."

The Band

● The Band, with Robert Hendrick as president, this year kept up the high standards which Mr. Herfurth has set for it. It made its first appearance during the football season, where, under the leadership of Onnik Tashjian and Irwin Hotkin, it added much color and spirit to the games.

Besides assisting in many of the assemblies, the Band, combined with the Orchestra, presented an assembly program of its own, which was well received by all the students.

The annual concert held jointly with Scott, in the Scott auditorium, completed a very successful season.

The Orchestra

● Under the splendid direction of Mr. Herfurth, the Orchestra, although diminished somewhat in size, lived up to its reputation for good entertainment. East Orange was well represented in the All-State Orchestra by Nelson Balsamo, Bertram Kubey, and Laure Down.

During the year the Orchestra played frequently for P.T.A. meetings; and, combined with the band, it gave in assembly a most enjoyable concert.

For the final recital of the year, the Orchestra joined that of Scott, and in its auditorium the two groups presented a superior and pleasing program.

Glee

● The work of the Glee Clubs and Choirs this year deserves unusual praise, especially when one considers the many changes in plans and the various obstacles brought on by the war and by the adoption of the Victory Corps Program.

The A Cappella Choir began its season on October 7 with its annual performance for the P. T. A. On November 24 the group sang before the Sisterhood at Temple Sharey Tefilo in a program that was aimed at establishing closer ties among people of different faiths. The Choir then gave a repeat performance for the P.T.A. on December 8, an informal concert of Christmas music.

The annual Christmas concert was an inspiration to fine musical achievements. The program centered around a type of pageant, A Mystery for Christmas. With the aid of the Departments of Speech and Physical Education, a very impressive performance was given. Unusual talent was displayed by the soloists, Marilyn Lindeman, Harvey Ayres, Allen Burr, Georgine Norcia, Nancy Gray, John Bennett, Morris Tortoriello, and Marilyn Windwehr, all members of the A Cappella Choir. Christine Slade and Lois Brown upheld the honor of the Spirituals Choir by their fine incidental solos.

Clubs

In the attempt to make the assembly programs more varied and of more interest to the student body, the A Cappella Choir sponsored a "community sing" program on January 12. The entire assembly sang popular and patriotic songs; the Choir itself sang three numbers; and Marilyn Lindeman and Marilyn Windwehr sang solos. Another program of the same type was given the following month in which the Choir sang modern songs, and specialty songs were given by Marie Fleisch and by a trio composed of Nancy Gray, Georgine Norcia, and Betty Jane Hoyt.

The annual Variety Show, given at the end of March, featured a new type of program, one with modern songs and "Broadway stage sets." The final affair, a voice recital given each year in June, was the high point of the year, marking as it did the fine achievement of the various voice classes.

● The Social Committee this year consisted of George Beekman, chairman, Janet Lees, Mary Scranton, Robert Twiss, and Eugene Marder, under the supervision of Mr. Russell Fraser, faculty adviser. In spite of adverse war-time conditions, the committee may look back on 1942-43 as a very successful year.

In cooperation with the Student Council and the Junior Red Cross, the committee conducted on the afternoon of January 22 the first dance of the season. The proceeds of this very enjoyable affair went to help finance the activities of the E. O. H. S. Junior Red Cross.

The Junior-Senior Prom came on February 6. Vic Rose and his excellent orchestra added to the fun and frolic of the evening. This dance was the second big success, according to the socially inclined students.

The last major event of the year was the Grad Dance, held on May 21. All seniors who could do so attended this dance, feeling that it might easily be, in the present chaos, the last time that the Class of '43 would meet with any considerable number present.

Dramatics

● Under the capable direction of Miss Jeanette Bjorneby and Mr. Lawrence Goodrich, the Department of Speech and Dramatics achieved unusual results throughout the year. Several outstanding plays were given, furnishing enjoyment for the students and uncovering heretofore unnoticed talent.

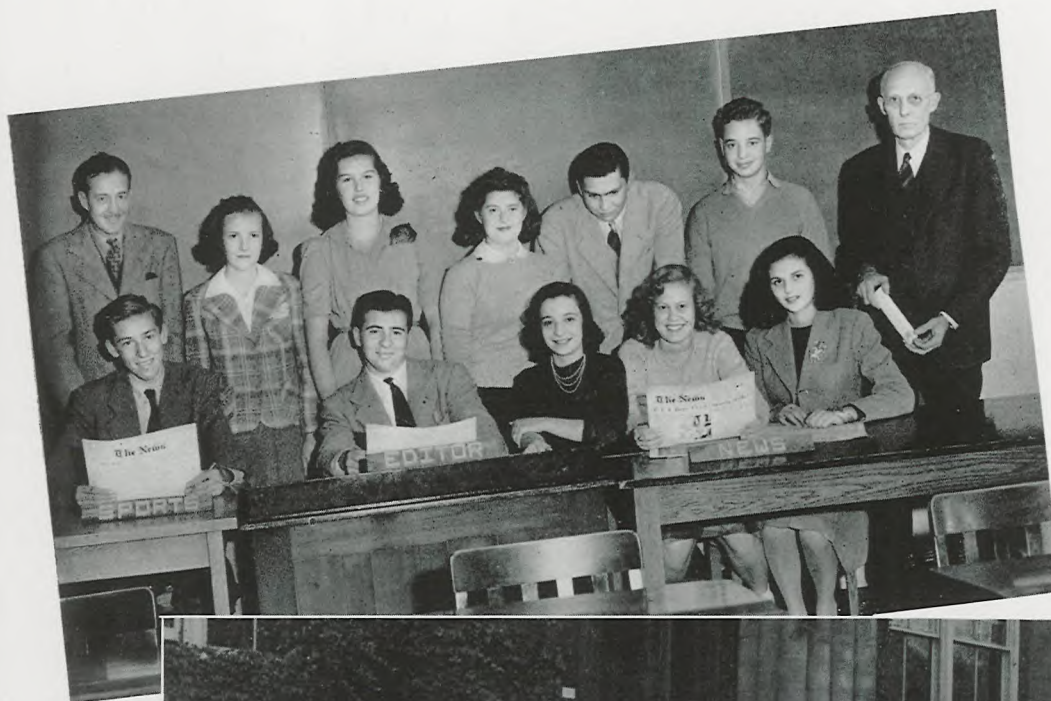

The first production was a one-act play, Overtures, given in assembly. The cast included Geraldine Harrington, Miriam Lenhoff, Joan Vallance, and Virginia Bailey. The second success was Miss Civilization, featuring Arthur Anderson and Eugene Marder, two veterans of the East Orange stage, and John Jones, a newcomer, in the roles of the three robbers. They were ably supported by Jeanne Munning, Ordette Blair, Walter Oswald, Joel Cohen, Harry Compton, Joseph Fiedler, William Nell, and Seymour Santlifer.

The annual play, I'll Leave It to You by Noel Coward, a comedy about an upper middle class family faced with ruin, was ably done. Much credit should be given to the cast, consisting of Geraldine Harrington, Janet Lees, Claire Davidson, Harry Compton, Walter Oswald, Joan Vallance, Jean Lackey, Allen Burr, Robert McNally, and Murray Schuhalter for their lively and natural portrayals.

Not to be forgotten are the people behind the scenes, without whom no production can be successful. They include the Lighting Crew, under Lee Prochazka; the Stage Crew under Alfred Pedersen and Mr. Hutson; Properties Committee, under chairman Adeline Goldberg; and the Makeup Committee, under Miss Bjorneby.

● Under the capable management of Robert Wilderman, the News had another successful year. Near the middle of the first term the Board was revised; each editor was then placed in charge of an individual page, all under the careful supervision of the editor-in-chief and his two associates, Nancy Gray and Norman Eisenberg. The page editors, Gloria Bernstein, Marion Kreiger, Ann Schiavo, Nancy Grimm, and Stanley Beck, all worked hard to help make the paper both bigger and better. Not to be forgotten are the entire staff of reporters and the business staff, without whose wholehearted cooperation the News could not have been the success that it was.

Football

● Under the expert coaching of Mr. George Shotwell, a light but fast East Orange football team completed an undefeated season although it was tied once. The team received for this fine record a State Co-Championship with Bloomfield and Phillipsburg. The team's co-captains, Carl Mosso, who led Essex County in scoring the most points; and Edgar Lindstrom, star guard, both received first team All-State recognition.

Opening with Cranford, as has been done in the past few years, the team trounced them 33-0. Carl Mosso scored twice while Jackie Filan ran 80 yards for another score. Both Lenny Daum and Ken Costley scored later in the game on intercepted passes, Costley running 80 yards for his touchdown. On the following Saturday, West Side was defeated 20-0. Although the score did not show it, the heavier West Side team played the Panthers even all the way. Carl Mosso added one more touchdown to his credit.

The team's first Inter-Oranges game came next with West Orange. East Orange scored three first-half touchdowns, and that was all, as the Cowboys were beaten 18-0. Sam Pasapane starred by scoring twice and Jim Tsairis by scoring once when he fell on a blocked kick in the end zone. Carl Mosso and Jackie Filan must not to be left out of this game either, as they brought the ball into scoring position. A weak Plainfield eleven came next and was beaten 27-0. The entire squad saw action in this easy victory.

On October 23, 1942, at Woodman Field, Montclair, ten thousand spectators saw one of the most thrilling football games of their lives. From the opening kickoff to the closing run, the people in that packed stadium saw hard and fast blocking and tackling. East Orange received two points when Bob Dirr attempted to kick from his own end zone but let the ball go through his fingers and out of the end zone for an automatic safety. That 2-0 lead lasted until Bob Behrens, injured star, entered the game. On the first play he tossed a touchdown pass to Carmen Barbarise to give the Mounties a 6-2 half-time lead. The game was not over, however, and in the closing minutes of the game, Carl Mosso climaxed an E. O. drive by plunging over from the one-yard line. Gil Olsen converted to give the Panthers a 9-6 victory.

The East Orange contingent journeyed to Nutley to vanquish its team 26-7. The entire squad saw action. Again Mosso and Filan led the march up and down the field. Orange was the next opponent, and it went down to a disastrous 33-0 defeat. Mosso scored twice and Filan once when he ran 53 yards for the score. Filan passed to Mosso for one of Mosso's touchdowns. Frank Accocella and Artie Goodman also scored, Goodman's coming on a lateral from Accocella.

November 7, 1942, was another milestone in the team's march to the championship. Columbia High, also previously undefeated, met East Orange. From the opening kick-off, East Orange did not lose possession of the ball until they scored. The score came when Mosso tossed a 10-yard pass to Filan in the end zone. Columbia came right back. They marched to a score, with Pryor going over. The half saw the score tied 6-6.

Mosso changed that when he ran 53 yards to give the Panthers a one-touchdown lead; and to clinch the game, Pasapane plunged over after a 69-yard drive.

With the State Championship in its grasp, E.O. met Barringer for the 46th consecutive year. In the mud of Ashland Stadium, Barringer and East Orange played their third consecutive tie, this being 7-7. The Panthers scored first when Mosso ran 40 yards for the score. But the Blue, led by Ed Sexton, scored in the third period to tie the game. Armoud Lembo went over for Barringer on a fake pass.

Thus the team ended a most successful season with a record of eight wins and one tie. This is the fine record that earned them the Co-Championship.

A touchdown, sure, this time.*

Soccer

● Completing the most successful season in a number of years, the East Orange High soccer team ended its season with seven wins, one loss, and two ties. The team also had a few outstanding players. Vic Fucci, goalie who had only four goals scored against him all year, was the First Team All-State goalie. Tony Giliberti, outside left, also was on First Team All-State. Phil Ghee, center forward, was on the Second Team All-State.

Verona was the first opponent this year, and East Orange came from a 2-0 deficit to tie up the game 2-2. Montclair was next, and again the Panthers came from behind to tie them 1-1. Armand Daudelin booted in the tying goal.

The team then shut out Chatham, Montclair, and Summit with all scores at least 2-0. Chatham and Summit were defeated 2-0, while Montclair was shown that the last tie was a mistake. The Panthers scored a 3-0 victory in this game.

Group Champion Harrison was the opponent, and they went down to defeat by the score of 1-0. This goal was really a freak, for it bounced off a Harrison player for the only score of the game. Vic Fucci in the closing minutes of the game made a miraculous save of a penalty shot.

Kearny gave the Panthers their only set back, 1-0, at Kearny. The Panthers had a few chances to score but they muffed them. Kearny went on to be the State Champions. This same Kearny team broke Vic Fucci's scoreless period record at 22 periods.

Chatham, Verona, and Summit were all defeated by shut-out scores, Chatham and Summit for the second time this season. Chatham was beaten 1-0 when Phil Ghee scored on a pass from Mike Frino. In the Verona game, which East Orange won 2-0, both Ghee and Frino scored E. O. goals. Summit, in the last game of the season, was easily beaten by the East Orange boys who scored 4 goals to put in their bid for the Championship. The final score was 4-0.

Basketball

● Completing another successful season under Coach Stanley Griffin, the East Orange basketball team won twelve games while losing only to Montclair twice and to Weequahic once. Two Panthers were outstanding this year. Vic Fucci and George Bender each scored over 100 points.

Opposing a star-filled Alumni five, the Panthers topped the grads 21-16 with a last-period rally. They made it two in a row by easily defeating Nutley 41-20. Vic Fucci's 12 points paced a second period rally that gave East Orange the lead.

The team won six straight games before going down to defeat against Montclair, 30-22. As a starter, the Panthers were victorious over Columbia in a rough and tumble game, 34-24. Orange was the next victim and went down under Fucci's and Bender's 16 and 13 points respectively. The final score was 35-27. Irvington and Nutley were both easy wins. The Nutley game was featured by Bender's 17 points and Anderson's 12. Then came the Montclair defeat which tossed East Orange out of the Number One spot.

Scott was beaten next, 41-22. Then came the all-important Weequahic game. An overflow crowd saw East Orange get off to an early lead, but Weequahic's second-half rally was a bit too much for the tired Panthers, and the Indians were the victors, 39-29.

Orange was beaten for the second time, 38-33, although it gave the E. O. boys a real fight. Montclair's erratic five came to East Orange and gave the Panthers their third setback. Although George Bender scored 11 points in a slipshod game, Montclair won by a score of 25-19.

The Panthers finished the season by four straight wins. West Orange was beaten 34-31 on Joe Dyer's shot with forty seconds to go. Columbia was beaten again, 42-27. The ever-troublesome Bengals were easy prey for the Panther sharpshooters and were at the short end of a 41-17 score. Bill Ready's 17 points paced the Panthers in a second-half rally to defeat West Orange, 35-24, in the final game of the regular season.

In the annual state tournament East Orange met Belleville in the first round, and was defeated in a thrill-packed overtime game 46-44. Kahn and Bender starred for the Panthers, while McManus was the main-stay of the Bellboys.

First row: D. Warner (Manager), J. Tsairis, A. Rees, G. Moeller, A. Pecci, C. Mosso, V. Fucci, R. Araneo. Second row: A. Anderson, G. Calabrese, W. Foster, J. Sanderson, F. Greco, A. Mazzona, D. Wills, B. Ready, Mr. Griffin (Coach).

Baseball 1942

● Although lacking a field to practice on, the 1942 baseball team completed a season in which it won two games while losing eight. In spite of this poor record, the team had several outstanding players. Catcher Frank Greco made the All-State Team for the second successive year. Carl Mosso, left fielder, was the team's best batter and the only one to hit over the .300 mark. Vic Fucci, center fielder, also shone in his fine defensive play.

Kearny defeated the Panthers in the opening game, 7-3. The game was marked by many errors by both sides. Columbia, the team's arch rival and next opponent, bested the East Orangeites, 4-2, in a good pitching duel.

The Red and Blue scored its first victory when it defeated West Side, 8-7, in a thrilling slug-fest which saw many runs and hits. A four-run Panther rally in the fifth inning was the deciding factor for E. O. The Bengals from Bloomfield next met the Panthers and beat them 4-2. Tony Mazzonna was the hitting star for East Orange when he hit a home run in the first inning with no one on base.

Irvington, which was a finalist in the baseball tournament, defeated the Panthers 5-1. The return game with Columbia again was a thriller. East Orange built up a 3-1 lead only to collapse in the ninth and lose 5-3.

Artie Rees, sophomore sensation of the team, then gave East Orange its second triumph by pitching it to a 2-1 victory over Central High of Newark. The arch football rival, Barringer, eked out a 7-6 victory as Art Anderson starred in a relief role. Carl Mosso hit a 320-foot home run with no one on bases in the seventh inning.

The State Championship Montclair team gave the Panthers their only shut-out and gave them a sound 12-0 beating. The season ended when Nutley, although outhit, defeated the E. O. boys 5-3.

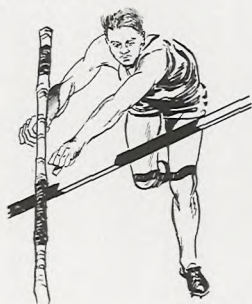

● Spurred on by Carl Peterson, Bob Fiedler, and George Bender, the East Orange track team won three of four dual meets and took first place in the triangular meet with West Orange and Scott. The Cinder men placed fourth in the Montclair Invitation and placed two men in the State meet.

The Panthers opened the 1942 season by trouncing Westfield 71½ to 45½. Peterson amassed 14 points by winning first in the high jump, high hurdles, and 220-yard dash. Bender took a first in the javelin and Fiedler a first in the shotput.

Next, the tracksters totaled 75 points to South Side's 41. Peterson again starred, taking a first in the 220-yard dash and the high jump. Bender took a first in the javelin to stay unbeaten. A new star was developed in David Del Pino, who took first in the high and the low hurdles.

Thomas Jefferson handed the Panthers their only dual meet loss by one point, 59-58. Carl Peterson again paced the E. O. tracksters, with wins in his usual events. Bender took first in the javelin.

Coming back on the victory side, the track team showered a landslide on West Side to win 85½-31½. Woisard, Del Pino, and Peterson each took two first places as the Panthers won 11 out of 13 events.

Led by Carl Peterson, the East Orange track team defeated West Orange and Scott by 42 points. Peterson made 24 by himself in winning first in high hurdles, 220-yard dash, and broad jump, and by placing in the high jump, shotput, and discus. Onnik Tashjian took first in the shotput.

In the Montclair Invitation, as in the state meet, George Bender and Carl Peterson carried all the Panthers' hopes. Peterson took second in the 220, while Bender took second in the javelin throw.

● Showing good possibilities for next year's squad, the East Orange High School Cross Country Team completed a fairly successful season, winning two meets and losing three.

In the opening meet of the season, St. Benedict's Preparatory School defeated the Panther runners, 21-34. The only bright spot for East Orange was that Richard Allen, a sophomore star, took third place to lead the East Orange Squad.

Central High of Newark handed the Panthers their second straight setback by an 18-37 victory. Richard Allen again took a third place to lead the E. O. runners.

Although West Side's Bob Crosbe took first place, the East Orange runners won their first meet, 22-33. Richie Allen, Dave Williamson, Robert Bruning, a freshman, and Ed Woisard took second place through fifth place to give the meet to the Panthers.

Continuing in the victory column, the Panthers defeated Irvington by a 22-33 score. Richard Allen took first place for the only time this season. Dave Williamson and Ed Woisard also ran across the tape among the first five.

Barringer, the school's arch rival in all sports, defeated the runners, 21-34. Richard Allen ran first among the East Orange boys, but took a third place in this final meet of the abbreviated season.

Few high school students know much about our Cross Country Team. With Mr. Norman Whitten as their coach, the runners practice continually so that they are able to run the two and one-half mile course. All home meets are held at Branch Brook Park. Because of transportation difficulties the team is usually made up of not more than seven boys.

The team this year was made up of three seniors, Dave Williamson, Allen Steward and Ed Woisard; two juniors, Ken Boedecker and James Howard; one Sophomore, Richard Allen; and one freshman, Bob Bruning.

At the end of each season the Annual State Cross Country meet is held at Branch Brook Park. If any member of a team places in the first fifty, he is considered good. This year Dave Williamson and Richard Allen both placed in this select group.

● Once again the East Orange High School Tennis team completed a successful season. This team of 1942 won eleven matches while losing only three. All three losses came at the hands of Montclair High School. The last defeat eliminated the team in the quarter-finals of the state tournament.

In the season's opener the netsters defeated Montclair College High by a 4-1 score. Then they scored two consecutive shut-outs by defeating Kearny and Bloomfield, 5-0. Montclair defeated the Panthers 4-1 for the first time during the season. The doubles team of Ed Meyerson and George Ratner won the only East Orange point.

The Tennis team won six straight victories before being beaten again by Montclair, 4-1. Bob Breuno this time won the only point. During that string of victories, Weequahic, Bloomfield, for the second time, Barringer, and West Orange, twice, were defeated by 5-0 scores. The sixth victim in that streak was Irvington, which lost 4-1 to the East Orange netsters.

Following the second Montclair setback, Columbia and Barringer were beaten to end this highly successful season. Columbia lost 4-1 while Barringer was shut out 5-0 for the second time.

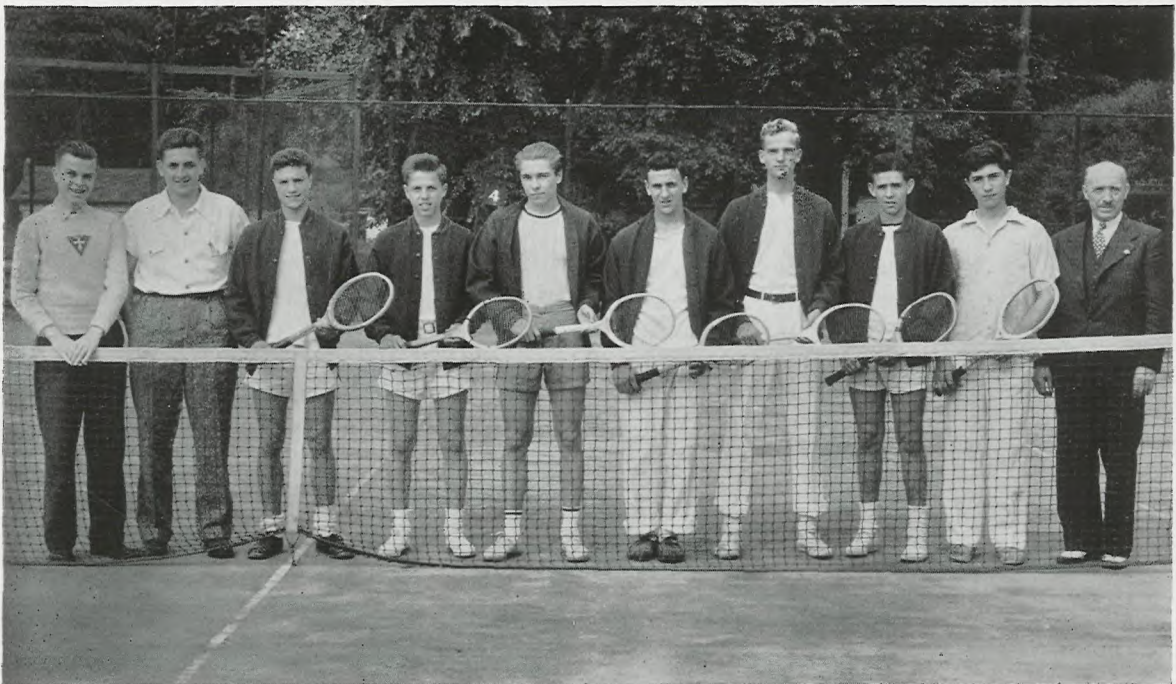

To choose the state champions, the State Tennis Tournament was held at Trenton. Since the team had such a fine record, it was one of the six teams to enter the tournament.

The Panther netsters met Montclair, and for the third time were beaten 4-1. Louis Faust won the only point. The letter winners, Louis Faust, Ogden Cook, Robert Breuno, Edward Meyerson, Myron Fuerstman, William Childs, and Lyndon Abbott, also received gold tennis balls for their fine play all season.

From this year's tennis squad there will be three returning lettermen who hope to be able to live up to the fine record of the previous teams. The returning lettermen are Louis Faust, Lyndon Abbott, and William Childs.

Fencing

● In addition to living up to its reputation as a power in interscholastic competition, the East Orange fencing team, led by captain Joe Parisi, and coached by Al Sully, a former graduate, has done its part in the war effort. This year, the fencers were part of the Victory Corps program, and also competed in regular matches.

Coach Al Sully has done a good job with the seven boys who compete interscholastically. Captain Joe Parisi, number one man and mainstay of the team, can usually be counted on for several points. The rest of the team who should also get credit are: Justin Coburn, Ed Lasher, Art Palumbo, Bob Missowitz, Marvin Keller, and Paul Dolid.

Girls' A. A.

● To state it clearly and simply, the Girls' Athletic Association, better known as the G. A. A., is an organization of the girls, by the girls, and for the girls. Its aim is three-fold: to further participation in after-school activities, to provide a fair means of competition, and to promote sportsmanship and leadership. In order to join the G. A. A., a girl is required to take part in one or more of the after-school activities at least three of the times in which that activity is held. When this has been done, the prospective member is admitted into the Association and becomes a permanent member. As soon as her membership has been completed, she may work for awards, consisting of chevrons with the initials of the sports sewn on them. If five or more chevrons have been achieved by a member, she then receives the supreme award—the much coveted E. O.

Being a democratic organization, the G. A. A., like all others, has its president, vice-president, secretary, and board. The three officers are elected by the members, and the board is composed of the officers and captains of the extra-curricular activities. Officers this year were Joyce Pierrez, president; Audrey Braunsdorff, vice-president; Laure Down, secretary; Anna Mammolite, hostess.

As the G. A. A. has a large membership, it is not only permissible but advantageous for it to have varied interests. Athletics, of course, is the main interest, but it finds time to sponsor such projects in the school as knitting for the Red Cross, making kits for the U. S. O., as well as many others, and also to provide entertainment for other organizations, both inside the school and out.

"I am proposing government by the consent of the governed."

WOODROW WILSON.
