THE 1950

The Student Body
WE, THE CLASS OF 1950, take great pleasure in dedicating this volume of THE SYLLABUS to Mr. Orlando H. Daniels, Miss Marie B. Middleton, Miss Kate McAuliffe, Miss Florence Ordway, and Miss Cornelia M. Polson.

After serving many years in the East Orange school system, these five people will leave East Orange High School this year. During the period that they have been here, they have become well liked by both students and faculty.

Mr. Daniels' cheery smile and kind words, Miss Middleton's sympathy when we were truly ill, Miss McAuliffe's insistence on discipline, Miss Ordway's demand for accuracy, and Miss Polson's teaching of the value of thrift have helped to make our lives, in school and out, much fuller and more adult.

The retirement of these teachers means a definite loss to East Orange. We are all sorry to see them leave, and we wish them the best of luck in their future lives.
A Student's Achievement in high school marks one step in his growth toward whatever goals his abilities, interests, and character may lead him.

Since our class is being graduated in 1950, the mid-point of the twentieth century, we might do well to look back over the last fifty years and see what has been accomplished by former members and by alumni of East Orange High School.

In our book you will find pictures of fourteen people who have achieved success each in his chosen field. These people were once graduating seniors in East Orange High School with the same high ideals as all of us. These people have realized most of their earlier dreams. Let us take our inspiration from them. With the great fields of education open now to all of us, let us hope that some day all the students in the Class of 1950 will be as successful as they have been.

The 1950 Syllabus Board
Although a Native of Auburndale, Massachusetts, Miss Kirch was graduated from Mt. Vernon High School, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. She then attended Wellesley College, receiving her B.A. in 1932 and her M.A. in 1933. Recently she had been doing work at Columbia for a doctorate besides studying modern dancing at the Charles Weidman Studios of New York.

Before coming to East Orange in 1943, Miss Kirch had been chairman of the Girls' Physical Education Department in the Suffern Schools. The summers she spent as director of girls' activities in various cities and camps. Her hobbies were modern dancing, swimming, and the schooling and showing of horses at various riding schools and clubs.

During her seven years here she worked hard and tirelessly to improve girls' sports. Feminine athletics were broadened to take in many new activities, including hockey and modern dance. Those girls who were fortunate enough to have been in her classes knew her as a sincere friend and an inspiring leader. With her death on April 6, 1950, East Orange has lost a wonderful person.
The citizens of East Orange will be delighted to see a yearbook published which reports on high school graduates of previous years whose achievements have brought honor to themselves, to the school, and to the community. If this practice can become an annual affair, in some form or other, we feel confident that the Class of ’50 will contribute its full share of illustrious alumni, who thus help to carry on a proud tradition—well established because of a fortunate combination of talent, temperament, environment, and preparation.

Henry E. Kentopp

The achievement of its graduates is a measure of the greatness of a school. It is my sincere wish that the accomplishments of those whose successes in life are acclaimed in this book will inspire the members of the Class of 1950 to acquire for themselves and for the school their full share of fame and fortune.

1946-1947

Hi, Kilroy!

Since you were here all year, there is no need to tell you how we freshmen marched in and took over on September 7. We were a little bewildered until the New Student Party, but after dancing and singing under Burt Selfridge’s leadership, we regained our confidence and whirled into the big Barringer 50th Anniversary Game preparations. The bonfire rally at the Annex was a tremendous success, with all of us raving rooters screaming through the streets for our team; 34-7 was the score, with the Red and Blue banner flying high. Sadie Hawkins, meanwhile, had run through Dogpatch, the gym, with Little Abner hot in pursuit, at the Sadie Hawkins Dance... and you should have seen the characters that turned up!

My Sister Eileen, under our new dramatic director, Mr. Willard H. Mohn, starring many members of the faculty and veterans, who were quite noticeable around these hallowed halls that year, was a laughable sensation, adding a sparkling touch of merriment to old E.O.’s memories. Soon the first snows of the Christmas season began to fall as the notes of A Mystery For Christmas sounded from concert rehearsals in the auditorium. Lovely pageantry and dances were produced by the Modern Dance Club, climaxing the Christmas story with the appearance of the angels singing Gloria In Excelsis Deo.

Everyone had recovered from the holidays in time to dance among red lacy valentines at the Junior Prom. Two months later East Orange’s first sign of spring, the operetta School For Husbands, appeared. Singing, dancing, and acting combined in this colorful affair.

In June, our own chartered boat, the U.S.S. Americana, cruised up the East River to a happy day at Rye Beach. Very soon after, we said good-bye to our seniors, packed our suntan lotion, and romped off for two heavenly months. I’ll write again when things start popping. ’Bye now.

1947-1948

’Lo, Clem,

Fall fell as always, but now we had grown to the delicious position of sophomores. The football team was good; we won the Barringer game, 12-0. Batons twirled for the first time on the field with five little gals behind them, and the band had a majorette to follow. Two big events highlighted the late fall season: the statewide Hi-Y convention came to East Orange with our gym supplying the Saturday night dance floor; and the Speech Department presented Three-Cornered Moon.

Christmas with the concert, carolling, parties, and dances came and went. The Junior Prom this year celebrated the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, and the A Cappella Choir gave a special performance of The Lonesome Train, a ballad about Lincoln. The leap-run-run and silent fantasies of the first East Orange Modern Dance Concert appeared in February, while March brought the thrills, laughs, and chills of Arsenic and Old Lace.

Some Valley, Mr. Herald A. Jones’s musical variety show, tunefully capped off the year’s entertainment. Another class of seniors left us, with a very nice scoreboard for the gym at that, and summer’s heat signaled our release to the cool, clear waters.

See you next year.
Howdy, Mr. Schmoo,

ALTHOUGH YOUR ADVENT was enough to cause celebration, we just jumped for joy because we were finally upper classmen with a say in the affairs of the world and the right to eat the most at all club parties and the Student Council picnic. Another big bonfire rally at Upsala cheered our always winning team to a Thanksgiving 27-7 victory. Stand Up and Cheer sounded especially good, played by our steadily improving band.

For our gay little social lives, newly opened Youthopia, the best canteen ever in East Orange, had a wonderful year of “Sport Cavorts,” “Snow Balls,” “Tramp Stamps,” and “Bunny Bounces.”

Variations came to assemblies and musical shows through the Vocal Ensemble Group. Their Jingle Bells, Begin the Beguine, and other clever arrangements were lively additions to their respective programs. Further in the music line, the Spring Concert featured Faust and The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers, with real soldiers. South Pacific thrilled Broadway, while the two top productions at E.O. were Remember The Day and Tea Pot On The Rocks, an assembly show which developed into the success of the season.

April showers brought out colorful campaign posters which boosted Herb Hagerty, Bud Atno, and Nancy Edger to Student Council offices. In no time at all, Fiesta! was the cry, and we were off to the Grad Dance in Mexican setting to bid the grads “Adios!”

Golly, there is just one year left.

In Memoriam
Calvin Huntoon

• It was with deep sorrow that we learned of the passing of Calvin Huntoon on July 21, 1948, following a hunting accident in the Maine woods on July 19. During his sophomore year at East Orange, Cal made many friends because of his geniality. He was also very handy and was known for his mechanical ability. His death was a great loss to his friends here in East Orange High School.

"News' views, sponsored by Bennett and Soper, bring you before our regular show five minutes of news of today's prominent people. Yes, of the men and women who hold the interest of our nation.

"Bennett and Soper are makers of that new detergent, 'Unclean.' 'Unclean' will cut minutes from your dishwashing time. Since the dishes will be as dirty as when you began to wash them, there is no need to rinse them. With 'Unclean' your hands are very red. Your husband will think that you spend hours in the kitchen while you really spend the time in the neighborhood Bingo parlor.

"Now for reports on our most famous men and women. Ted Voorhees, producer of Broadway hits, says he has just finished producing the smash play of the season, Lend a Foot. In it will star Jack Hamilton, Joan Libby, Olga LaSalvia, and other top performers.

"The next item comes from Washington. General Eddie Van Brunt in a speech before the Senate investigating committee stated that the Earth need not fear invasion from Mars before the year 2000. We surpass that country in arms, men, and strategic bases. Admiral Teddy Rayment, in a statement following the general's speech, said that the Earth must be prepared for any Martian (Milton, that is) invasion. He also asked General Van Brunt to prove that we are prepared for any future conflict.

"Flash! The Democratic Party of New Jersey has announced that its candidate for governor of that state will be Herb Hagerty. He will oppose Socialist Ralph Borowski.

"Sally Krout, famous newspaper woman, has been appointed as the first woman editor of the 'Pacific Monthly.'

"Agent Bernie Bregman announced that pianists Joan Zarra and Lynn Purcell plan to tour the country on one of their popular duo-piano tours, which will start next month.

"Sent to Spain is Charles Kurebanas, expert on Spanish affairs. He will discuss, with Dictator Aron, plans for making a democracy in that country!"
Shawrk . . . Screech . . . “We are extremely sorry, folks, but we have run into trouble with our new equipment recently purchased from the Douglas Bird Company. Our repairmen Freal Stukey and John Mesch are working hard, but our president Richard Mocksfield says it is not likely they will be able to find the trouble. We will bring you a few minutes of bass viol music, played by Barbara Gresham, until we can repair the technical difficulties. The John Sullivan Schutz program will follow in a moment.”

“Hello once again, people of the audience. This is John Sullivan Schutz, your master of ceremonies, with the show that has all the great stars. Heading the list is lyric soprano Lois Carter. She is known throughout all the United States and Europe for her fine voice. Following her, you will see Frank Capasso, the famous surrealist, who will explain his latest work to you. Then you will see the great comedy team of Bud Atno and Jerry Fahringer. The Flamingos will introduce a new song written by Octavia Ray. Those fellows are Columbia recording artists. The show will end with a tap dance by Ann Rapka.

“Our audience seems to be filled with celebrities, too. Fashion leaders Steph Wagner, Jackie Craig, and Carmella Scaneli are here, as are criminal lawyer Peter Olcott and Judge Henry Schmidt. Behind them are Robert McCarroll, new N.E.A. president, and Barbara Sorensen, his secretary. More education leaders are E. Sales and B. Schultz from the new University of Roettgers. In the balcony we have Norma Patrone. She has just won the world’s typing record of 130 words a minute. With her are runners-up Ginnie Conrad and Dolores Brown. Mortician Bill Marsh and advertising agents Ted Andresakes and Mary Grecco are here also. Grand to see you all turn out . . .

“We are sponsored by Sklower cigarettes. Socialites like Nancy Roy, Jack MacKeown, Tom Ritt, and athletes like Milteer and Whittle say that there is no cigarette like a Sklower cigarette.

“Now to our show. The first number will . . .

“We interrupt this program to inform you that the use of television has been outlawed by the President for an indefinite period because of the bad influence that Mope-Along Picknally has with the children. Thank you.”

Once again The News took its place in East Orange High School life, this time starting on its second fifty years of publication. To celebrate the event, a six-page issue was published, containing several letters of congratulation from such prominent people as Governor Driscoll and Margaret Clapp, President of Wellesley. Subscriptions were taken by the signing of pledge cards. The number of installments for payment was cut down to two instead of four. Although lower than last year, because of fewer students, subscriptions hit the one-thousand mark.

This year The News took on a “new look.” In order to cut down the printing bill, the photo offset system was adopted. This also made it possible for the paper to contain many more pictures than in previous years. Among other new attractions were “The Students of the Month,” a choice made by the student body, and Ted Andresakes’ “Janie,” a comic strip portraying the trials and tribulations in the life of a high school girl.

With Bernard Bregman as editor-in-chief, John Schutz, Barbara Gresham, Al Ike, and Tom Roberts as page editors, Sally Krout as managing editor, and Mr. Loesch as editorial advisor, The News completed a most successful year. Praise too should go to Mr. Le Pori and his business staff for the efficient job which they have done. To the editorial and business staffs of next year go our best wishes for a year of success.

This year the Student Council once again showed the advantages of student government. Under the leadership of President Herb Hagerty, Vice-President Bud Atno, and Secretary Nancy Edger, many worthwhile changes have been effected.

The Council retained the system inaugurated two years ago for the election of homeroom representatives: any students wishing to be on the Council sign their names to a list of candidates. The group is composed of one representative from each homeroom, the size thus being kept as small as possible for efficiency.

The annual Student Council picnic, held in October at the South Orange Reservation, was a good way in which to begin the new school year. In November the Executive Committee represented East Orange High School on the State Student Council in Princeton, New Jersey. From this conference our officers obtained ideas for successful student government and school programs.

Through the efforts of our Council a committee headed by John Schutz held a Barringer-game bonfire rally at Elmwood Park on Thanksgiving Eve. The enthusiasm there was carried over to the victory on Thanksgiving Day. Along with the holiday, however, came a more serious affair—the Thanksgiving baskets for the Orthopedic Hospital. In this matter also the Council succeeded.

The opening of Youthopia, our high school canteen, last year proved to be so successful that it was continued. It has become one of the main attractions sponsored by the Student Council in cooperation with the East Orange Recreation Department.

Among other accomplishments of this year's group were the committees appointed to handle club improvement and student activities. A Ways and Means Committee was formed to handle small items of business.

The officers, members, and advisors thank all who have worked so faithfully to make 1949-50 such a successful year for our Student Council.
The Girls' Study Hall Council continued its activities this year under the sponsorship of the Student Council and the leadership of Mrs. Inez Ensign.

The capable officers this year, Joan Conklin, president, Norma Sinigalliano, vice president, and Carmella Scannelli, secretary, worked with the members in aiming for better study habits and a sense of responsibility in studentsupervised study halls.

This tradition of competently run, studentsupervised study halls is one of which East Orange High School is proud.
The Social Committee

The NEW STUDENT PARTY on October 7 sponsored by the G.O. and the social committee started the social activities of the year. This annual affair included group singing and cheerleading, followed by dancing and refreshments.

The Pigskin Hop was held on November 5 in honor of the football team. Fred Riecke and his country band provided the music for square and round dancing in a rural setting of cornstalks and hay stacks.

The Junior Prom on January 28 was the first formal event of the season. Dancers swayed to the music of The Melody Men in a Winter Wonderland.

The Social Committee is under the direction of Miss Ellen Leinonen and its members are Dorianne Bright (chairman), Tina Wilson, Mary Grecco, Ted Andresakes, Guyon Campbell, Joan Kirkwood, Beth Honeker, and John Darrah.

The social activities for the year ended with the formal Grad Dance on June 10. Beautiful decorations and sweet music provided a fitting setting for this last high school memory of the graduating seniors.

The Junior Red Cross committee, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Gertrude Jennings, sponsored the annual Red Cross Roll Call. We again attained a 100% membership and contributed to the Red Cross fund. The members of the committee are Ardia Kisling, Tom Roberts, Jane Gray, Walter Burkhardt, Ursula Kromayer, Fred Bacher, Claudette Bracy, and David Reifsnyder.

Students in classes and clubs made clothing and knitted goods for foreign children and recreational supplies for the local veterans’ hospitals.
MR. LINDEMAN is noted in New Jersey as an expert on child guidance and family relations and is a judge of the Family Relations Court in East Orange. He has also been interested in Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout work in the Oranges.

Edwin E. Van Brunt
Class of 1923

AFTER GRADUATING from East Orange High School, where he had become known as one of the best high school pitchers in New Jersey, Mr. Van Brunt played for several years with the Boston Braves of the National League. He is now head football and baseball coach at Montclair Academy.

Miss Helen Schifano
Class of 1940

MISS SCHIFANO, an outstanding athlete in her high school days, won the National Women’s Gymnastic Championship in 1948 and was a member of the American team which competed in the Olympics at London in 1948. She is now a member of a professional gymnastic team.
East Orange High’s ’49 baseball squad, under the able leadership of Coach Stan Griffin, started the season under the usual handicaps of a Panther diamond nine, that is, poor tryout conditions plus lack of student support. Despite these shortcomings, however, the team compiled an admirable record, winning seven, dropping five, and struggling to one extra inning tie.

Opening the season against a mediocre Orange nine, the Red-and-Blue blasted out an impressive 7-4 triumph. Elmwood Oval was the scene of odd happenings during the first home game of the year. West Side of Newark jumped off to an early 4-0 lead but this was quickly dissipated as the Big Cats struck back in the fourth and fifth frames to take a two-run edge, which they held until the top of the seventh, when a last ditch Rough Rider rally sent the game into an extra inning deadlock.

Three free passes by starter Ed Van Brunt gave a strong Irvington squad all the advantage they needed to break up a scoreless pitchers’ battle. The Camptowners got a scare in the last of the seventh when extra base blows by Bob Piccirillo, John Farese, and Rudy Gerhard netted the Panthers two runs. but the rally fizzled and left the Red-and-Blue on the short end of a 4-2 count.

Don Ronnie, Columbia mound ace, shackled the Big Cats to seven hits as he hurled the South Orangites to a 6-2 win. A triumph over West Orange prefixed the squad’s meeting with Montclair. The Cowboys rolled over meekly and bowed 3-1, but the Mounties proved not so docile as they rocked the Red-and-Blue by an 8-0 count.

A previously uninspired Orange nine put together a 5-2 win, but the Panthers bounced back with a vengeance and ground a hapless Barringer crew into the dust, the final score 17-1.

Two successive triumphs over Bloomfield and Nutley got the Panthers rolling again, but they bowed to a powerhouse St. Benedict’s by a 9-0 count. The season ended triumphantly as Gerhard, ace of the East Orange mound corps, blanked West Orange on two hits.
By winning every dual meet except one, the '49 track squad established the best record of any of the Panthers' great lineup of athletic aggregations. The Cindermen's only setback came at the hands of a strong Orange team by the slim margin of five points.

Barringer, traditional foe of the Big Cats in any competition, fell first to the E.O. tracksters as they trampled the Big Blue by a 70-47 count. Jack MacKeown, Ted Whittle, and Ralph Garvin were the top point getters for the Red and Blue. MacKeown copped the shot put and discus events, Whittle speeded to victories in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Garvin annexed the high hurdles and high jump events.

From the powerful opening day showing, the Panthers spring-boarded past their next three opponents, gathering momentum as they went. West Side bowed meekly to the tune of 82 2/3 to 34 1/3, and the West Orange hopefuls proved equally weak. The hapless Cowboys were snowed under by the talented array of East Orange tracksters led by Ralph Garvin, who took top slot in the low and high hurdles and broad jump events.

Smashing past a South Side team which found itself dazed on the short end of a 91 1/2-25 1/2 tally, the Big Cats found themselves face to face with a powerful Tornado aggregation. When the dust of the battle had cleared, the Panthers for the first time were forced to sample the bitter fruits of defeat. The Orange and Black had halted the seemingly invincible Red and Blue Cindermen by a score of 61-56.

Weequahic found, however, that the Panthers were not ones to wear the cloak of mourning too long, as the E.O. boys carved out a neat 89-28 win. Nutley fell by the wayside, 77-40, and the Big Cats climaxed their season with a smashing 96-21 triumph over the cringing Camptowners from Irvington.
Paced by the consistently fine play of such able court stars as Don Bacher, Harry Wauters, and Don Armento, the East Orange '49 tennis squad smashed its way to the Group IV, North Jersey State Tennis Title.

Coach Frank Davis' charges compiled a 10-7 record, but of the seven losses, only three remain unavenged by a win as the season progressed. Westfield proved the strongest opponent for the netters, as they trampled the Big Cats by 4-1 and 5-0 counts.

Turning from the hardest to the easiest, we find West Side. The Rough Riders proved easy prey for the powerful Panthers and were left weeping in the wake of 5-0 setbacks twice during the season.

After an opening blanking of West Side the Big Cats made it two straight as they eked out a close decision over Bloomfield by a 3-2 count. This opening splurge was readily stopped by a strong Montclair outfit, and successive losses to Westfield, Columbia, and Thomas Jefferson left the racqueteers in the throes of a four-game losing skein.

Bouncing back with courageous resiliency, the courtsters overcame Bloomfield and Nutley to even their record at the .500 mark. Once again, however, the netsters slipped into the minus side of the ledger as they faltered and fell to Pingry and West Orange.

Thus the situation for the Red and Blue was a black and ominous one as they stumbled from their two straight losses and their 4-6 record to take on an experienced Mounty Squad which had beaten the Panthers early in the season.

Rising with sheer determination from the debris of their early season setback, the racqueteers proceeded to grind the Montclair Courtsters into the very chalk and dust of their own courts, as the Big Cats battered their way to a glorious 4-1 win.

From this dramatic turning point the Red and Blue steam rollered to five victories in their next six engagements, reversing many previous defeats, and sweeping the '49 Tennis Title into East Orange's eager grasp.
This year’s squad of courageous hill-and-dalers suffered the same disappointing fate of Panther crews for the past decade, and possibly farther back than that, by struggling through an entire season without seeing the fruits of their efforts rewarded by a single victory.

Except for 1948, when a slight gleam of promise gave glint to possible future championships, the East Orange cross country teams in recent years have shown no signs of pulling themselves out of the depths of their mediocrity.

One of the outstanding reasons for the failure of the hapless forty-nine harriers was the blow they received even before the season got under way when they learned that they were to lose the services of Ted Rayment, who in 1948 was a consistent sparkplug to the squad. The dark-haired speedster was counted on by Coach Bowden to form the nucleus of his inexperienced hopefuls.

Coach Bowden had little to work with in 1949, as he had but two returning lettermen around which to form a team. The lettermen were Anthony Cortese and Carl Seibert, both remnants of the comparatively great forty-eighters. Anthony was chosen as the team’s captain, and both he and Seibert deserve high praise for their outstanding work in the face of almost hopeless odds.

Struggling through a tough nine-meet schedule, including such powerhouses as Central, Kearny, Irvington, Nutley, and East Side, the embattled harriers gained valuable experience, if little else, for their valiant efforts.

Although this year’s efforts showed little compensation for much hard work, Coach Bowden has high hopes for his inexperienced freshmen and sophomores, and he believes that within a few years the East Orange hill-and-dalers will have a crack crew of efficient runners.
By copping six out of nine games, plus the essential feat of dropping their arch rivals from the depths of Newark, the '49 football squad turned in another successful season under the able tutelage of Coach Ed Lewis.

Pre-season clairvoyants led football partisans to believe that the East Orange squad was destined for a mediocre season, but the Panthers surprised the crystal gazers by blasting a favored Belleville eleven on opening day by the impressive score of 19-6.

Next to feel the might of the Big Cats' powerful claws was West Side. The Rough Riders bowed before the onslaught of the Red and Blue grid machine by a 20-6 count. On the following Saturday, in a close, spine tingling tussle that left Ashland Stadium's screaming thousands breathless, the Panthers edged a well balanced West Orange aggregation on the strength of Bill Marsh's placement, 7-6.

Following this close decision, East Orange had a field day as its fleet quartet of backs tore through gaping holes in a seemingly non-existent Irvington defense. The lightning backs ran rampant all afternoon, routing the hapless Camptowners, 31-0.

Mighty Montclair, undefeated, and boasting one of the best passers in the state in stocky Joe Fortunato, was next to invade the Panther's lair. The Mounties broke the Red and Blue winning skein at four and went on to win the state championship.

Straight from their defeat at the hands of the Montclair team, East Orange displayed courageous resiliency as the team took a tough Nutley outfit into camp, 19-6. Orange gifted the Panthers with their second loss in a close, hard-fought contest which ended with the Tornadoes enjoying a scant two-point edge.

Next on the list was Columbia, and much to the surprise of nearly everyone, the previously inept Cougars blasted the dazed East Orange defenses to the tune of 13-0. The Big Cats couldn't get their vaunted attack rolling and thereby sunk to the depths of despair in absorbing this demoralizing defeat.

Thousands jammed Ashland Stadium to witness the fifty-third game in the great unbroken East Orange-Barringer football rivalry, and in the game thousands saw the lightning backs prove just a little too much for the Big Blue, as East Orange won the game 24-13, and took the lead in the series for the first time in two decades.
Plagued by a deluge of crippling injuries, the '49 boomer aggregation limped to a 4-7-1 record for the season. While the record is in itself unimpressive, it does not tell the whole story of the year's action.

Though the Panther eleven was able to win but four games throughout the entire season, they were classed in the role of spoilers in three of the victories. Montclair, Kearny and Thomas Jefferson will long remember the Panthers. Each of these schools was highly rated Group IV units, and each of these schools fell before the onslaught of the surprising East Orange squad.

Opening the season with impressive triumphs over Verona and Montclair, they fell to defeat against a fighting Chatham aggregation. This set the stage for the Panther meeting with Kearny, a school which had not tasted defeat in 33 straight encounters.

Angelo Priete toed through the only goal of the game midway in the second half, and the Red and Blue held to this slim margin until the final whistle spelled victory for the valiant Panthers and the end of a very long, impressive winning skein for the powerhouse Kardinals.

From this high point the Panther fortunes sunk, as they were barely able to salvage a tie from Montclair and then into their worst defeat of the season at the hands of a merciless Harrison crew, by a count of 4-0.

So within a week, the booters had reached both the high and the low points of their season. After the Harrison trouncing, the Panthers were mired in the throes of a six-game losing streak which they finally broke on the last day of the season by upsetting a highly rated Thomas Jefferson outfit.

Throughout the season the lack of scoring punch was the main problem for Coach Stan Griffin. The able pilot was blessed with the finest pair of halfbacks in the state in Carl Hauschild and Walter Burkhardt, but his forward wall was particularly inept.
Struggling through a mediocre season of 6 wins and 10 losses, the Panther 1949-50 court hopefuls found little to cheer about save for a glimmer of hope for the future.

Under their first real test of fire, after an acknowledged victory over the Alumni, the Big Cats acquitted themselves nobly as they defeated Orange 37-35, but a powerful Irvington five handed the Panthers their first setback by a sound 18-point margin, 42-24.

Not to be disheartened, however, the Panthers scored a stirring eleventh-hour victory over Nutley to keep above the .500 mark. Following this victory, the cagers dropped four straight decisions to Montclair, Barringer, Weequahic, and Orange. Three of these losses were decided by the scant margin of three points and were contests which could have gone either way. Despite these demoralizing setbacks, the Big Cats displayed courageous resiliency in overcoming a mighty Montclair outfit by a 45-42 count.

West Orange, rated one of the best teams in Essex County, was the next foe to face the battle weary Red and Blue, and the Panthers lost no prestige as they held the Cowboys to a relatively unimpressive 32-23 triumph.

Columbia and Bloomfield toppled the cagers deeper into the depths of despair, however, and West Orange, playing host to the East Orangites in the cozy confines of their home court, massacred the Big Cats to the tune of a 51-26 score.

Reeling from their four previous setbacks, into a pre-tourney playoff against Immaculate Conception, the Panthers sank to their lowest ebb as they fell prey to the Montclair five, 27-19. As the season drew to its climax, there came a dramatic reincarnation (just a little too late, however, to please this year’s fans): the Red and Blue cagers showed signs of hitherto untapped life as they upset a talented Columbia aggregation by a 39-37 count and handed Barringer a 53-40 setback. Both of these victories were notable in that the outstanding players in both contests, namely Dick Johnston and Dick Garrabrant, were juniors who will be back next year to bolster Coach Frank Milner’s 1950-51 squad.

This year’s G. A. A., under the capable direction of Denise Sanders, club president, has stressed the importance of feminine sport life and interests in activities pertaining to sports.

Hockey in the fall, under the expert coaching of Mrs. Elsie Kaye, showed great improvement. The Hockeyettes were “creamed” but once and held the very famous and powerful Scotties to a scoreless tie in the final game. This was a tremendous moral victory. The letter ladies sparkled in such games as Spring- field Regional High, Caldwell, and Scott. All games, home and away, were played on a shift system with two teams playing.

Modern Dance kicked its heels, pointed its toes, and aided the water problem with its “Water Study.” The dancers got on the floor, pounded it with their lily white hands with an effect of ocean tides rolling in. All of the dances, including “Stormy Weather,” were taught by Miss Jane Perry, club advisor.

Swimming at the “Y” convinced the experts that our girls are made of half cork.

These Esther Williams from East Orange gained speed and perfection by just crawling along.

Basketball came to the limelight in mid-winter. The girls with the enthusiasm of pros, played local high schools in sets of teams. No one went away with hard feelings because we won and lost one from each school. The schedule was almost as fast as the games. In the middle of this season, the foul shooters began to practise sinking them, and then competed in the annual foul shooting contest held in the girls’ gym.

Bowling attracted many a feminine eye. This year’s group was large, was recharged, was good. The letter ladies improved and gained much needed coordination. Mrs. Shirley Enzer, club advisor, kept individual and group scores at each meeting. In this manner the teams were able to locate the champions.

This year’s all-star line up of club officers included Denise Sanders, Frances Verrone, Sandra Squier, and Shirley Jones.

TO THE 1950 GRADUATING CLASS

This is an inspiring moment in your lives. Behind you are the years that time itself will hallow. Before you lies a challenging world.

If we may draw from years of experience, if we may be guided by what we know to be basic truths, we would counsel each one of you to continue your education, if at all possible. The best opportunities in any competitive enterprise go to those who are prepared with knowledge.

But above all else, be mindful of your responsibility as honorable citizens of our country. It is to you young Americans that we look for the continued prosperity of our nation, for the preservation of its ideals and heritage. Wear this sober mantle with dignity.
