DEDICATION

WE, THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1952, dedicate in gratitude this book to the following teachers: Mr. Glen Bulger, Mrs. Inez Ensign, and Mrs. Grace Hinni. These teachers will retire from the East Orange school system at the termination of the current school year.

During their years here, they have helped us along inestimably on our life's journey. Mr. Bulger's faithful leadership and diligent teaching as head of the science department; Mrs. Ensign's careful and considerate guidance through our first three years in high school; Mrs. Hinni's tolerance and perseverance when we made mistakes in English and her skill at correcting them—all of these things have steered us, and will continue to steer us on our course into the future.

We, the graduates, extend our best wishes for many happy, prosperous years in the future.

FOREWORD

"All the students of East Orange High School are travelers . . . companions for a few miles on the journey of life."

This portion from the school motto aptly expresses the fact that we are travelers together for a short time on our voyage through the seas of learning and knowledge. These four years in East Orange High School have been but a short portion of the tremendous voyage upon which we have embarked.

To symbolize this journey, the Syllabus Board has chosen as the theme for the 1952 yearbook the ship which has carried us through the four years of our "shakedown cruise."

•Ships have always been a source of inspiration to men. Even in the days of the early sailing vessels which could run with the wind but were helpless in the opposite direction, men had sufficient faith in their ships to sail them to the far corners of the earth in search of new worlds to conquer. At each port these ships unloaded their cargoes of civilization with its attendant problems.

Statistics show that while ships are now equipped with powerful engines, radar, and other improvements, many more continue to be lost in fogs than in storms at sea. Like ships, man in his quest for peace is finding that the so-called simple problems are often the most baffling and the ones which are always with us. If, however, as we continue on our journey in life, we have the faith and courage of those pioneers of the sea, no challenge will be too great for us to meet.

HENRY E. KENTOPP

LEWIS B. KNIGHT
Principal

•My heartiest and sincerest congratulations to the class of 1952 upon the completion of the voyage which they embarked upon four years ago. Graduation for them is neither a haven nor a "journey's end." It is a point of departure for new journeys upon seas not so well charted as those they have recently sailed. May the uncertainties of these new seas be transformed into fruitful opportunities.

As one of their pilots, I extend to all members of the class my best wishes for happy sailing and a successful attainment of the goals of their new ventures.

IN MEMORIAM
ESTHER L. DAILEY
East Orange Public Schools
1926-1952

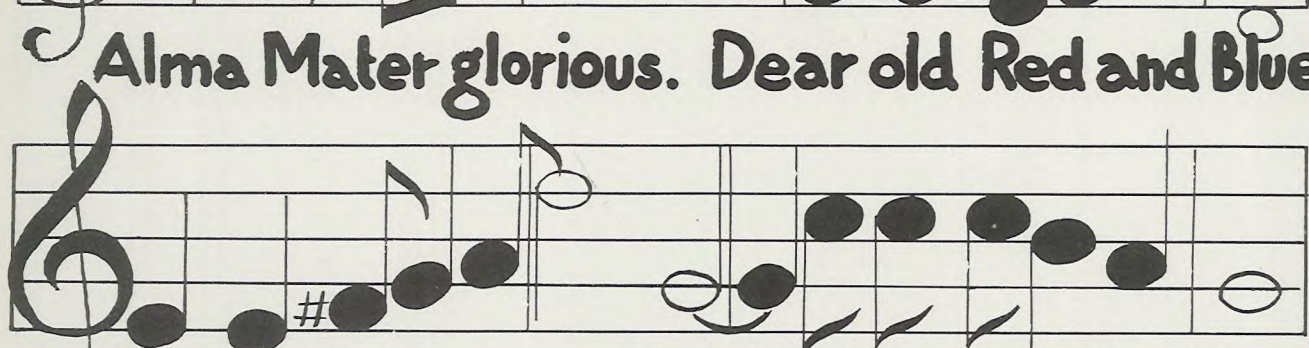

•It was with incredible swiftness that death claimed Esther L. Dailey from our midst on February 9, 1952, after twenty-six years of faithful service to East Orange Public Schools. Even though she is no longer with us, the memory of a kind, friendly teacher, slow to anger and diligent in her teaching, will always be remembered. She gave much time not only to her profession, but to the various groups to which she belonged. In all things she was extremely unselfish, and thoughtful in doing things for both those organizations and her friends. We have suffered the loss not only of a fine teacher, but of an equally fine woman.

CLASS

1948-1949

WIDE-EYED AND IMPRESSIONABLE FRESHMEN, we embarked on our journey through East Orange High School by receiving through the orientation program a glimpse of our future Alma Mater. After the New Student Party, our first social event, we felt more at home. In the fall we watched the big Panthers complete a victorious football season by triumphing over Barringer, 27-7. The girls celebrated leap year in real "Dogpatch" style as they asked the boys to the "Sadie Hawkins Day Dance." Christmas ushered in, along with many festive club parties, the annual Christmas Concert and the caroling in the hospitals. This, our first year, introduced Youthopia, our own canteen, which has proved very successful. The Junior Prom, with Bud Laird playing in a Mexican setting, was the first dance of the new year. Presented by the dramatics department, Remember the Day became a hit production. In March students supported the Red Cross benefit basketball game and dance. As June days approached, we began to anticipate the Rye Beach Cruise which meant fun and frolic galore. What a year!

RETURNING AS "BIG" SOPHOMORES, we greeted our new classmates from V.L.D. The Pigskin Hop, in honor of the football team, opened the social season. Once again we triumphed in the Turkey Day Tussle, beating Barringer 24-13. Presented earlier this year, the hilarious production, The Man Who Came to Dinner, proved to be a side-splitting affair. The theme for the Junior Prom was a Winter Wonderland. The beautiful tinsel-covered chandelier brought forth many "ohs" and "ahs" from the crowd that attended. Before we knew it, spring had rolled around. Amid preparations for final exams, we began to look eagerly forward to the Rye Beach trip. The Grad Dance, featuring the music of Bud Laird and framed in the setting Backstage at the Opera, was a fitting end to the school year.

FEELING THE WEIGHT OF OUR POSITION as upperclassmen, we got once more into the swing of things. In rags and patches we attended the Hobo Hop, the fall dance. When Barringer finished victorious on Thanksgiving Day, the Old Guard Trophy departed from our halls for the first time in four years. Night Must Fall chilled and thrilled an enraptured audience. At Christmas time the traditional candlelight procession at the Christmas Concert lent an added beauty to the program. After a vacation that flew by, we returned to cram for mid-years. A pleasant change after all our sweat and toil was the Junior Prom, the Sweethearts' Ball, with the music of Rick Richards. Spring-time came, bringing with it G.O. elections. At the end of a hotly waged campaign, Fred Bacher, Joe DeKasar, and Joan Engle emerged victorious. Gerry Hall was appointed treasurer. We bade our final farewell to the seniors at the junior-senior assembly, paying them tribute at the end of the program by standing as they filed out of the auditorium.

HISTORY

At Last—MIGHTY SENIORS, now the officers and crew of this mighty ship. Busy at first assuming our new roles with dignity, we soon settled down to work. The football season got under way. In spite of a rousing bonfire rally at Upsala Field, the Thanksgiving game victory went to Barringer. The Social Committee presented two dances this fall: the first was the Kartoon Kapers. The second was the Syllabus Swing, with all the profits going towards the deficit on the Syllabus. There is no need to say that it was a huge success. Students flocked to hear the sweet music of Mike Castoro and his band, who generously offered their services for the night. The week before Christmas was marked with several events. Mr. Jones' Glee Clubs and Choirs gave their usual sterling performances, and on the last day before the Christmas vacation, Santa Claus (who strangely resembled Mr. Robinson) visited several classrooms at East Orange High, carrying with him a huge white pack, and greeted everyone with a hearty "Merry Christmas." After the Junior Prom, Evening in Paris, the days slipped past very quickly. We seniors were becoming more and more aware that graduation was just around the corner. The senior class officers, Rudy Keller, Neal Anderson, Joan Skinner, and Eileen Boyd did a good job this year. The Grad Dance, a scene of underwater paradise called Neptune's Nocturne, was a never-to-be-forgotten affair. As all seniors joined in a grand march around the gym and passed under the huge garland of roses in the form of a horseshoe, we said farewell to East Orange High—happy to graduate but sorry to leave.

IN MEMORIAM Richard Johnson

•It was with great shock and sorrow that we learned of the death of Richard Johnson following a bicycle accident on April 25, 1950. During his freshman and sophomore years here he won many friends with his friendly smile and cheerful disposition. His death was a great loss to his friends here in East Orange High School.

Class Prophecy

•"GOOD AFTERNOON, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN. I'm speaking to you from aboard the good ship Class of Fifty-two, docked in New York Harbor. On board today are many members of this outstanding class graduated from East Orange High School on that memorable day when the liner dropped its permanent anchor. After a week of public inspection, during which millions flocked from all ends of the earth to make their pilgrimage, we are broadcasting a 25th reunion party of the eminent citizens themselves.

"We look out over the waters of the harbor, past the sundeck upon which Ginny Neal and Barbara Holmgren are sunning themselves, and see Bob Jonitz and Werner Quabeck, fortune-hunters extraordinaire, looking around for treasure in the ship's launch, which was designed by Ray Bonkoski.

"Also on the deck are Ron Nolan, Tony DeSantis, Ernie Anderson, and Ted Catino. They have been playing football, but the bladder of the ball just broke. Art Larson has gone down to the main ballroom to fetch that genius of the scalpel, Dr. Joe Libretti, who will operate on the ball, and Rev. John Muir, in case Dr. Libretti fails.

"And now our atomic television cameras are being focused on various parts of this great ship. We go first to the ship's kitchen, where Shirley Sharp is frying chickens, assisted by America's model mother and housewife, Jean Lawson. At the end of the kitchen we see Juilliard's most prominent professor of voice, Jean Lowry, who is aiding the party by slicing dill pickles.

"Focused now in the main ballroom, the camera catches Steve Berg, Fife Magazine photographer and correspondent, and Soupy Campbell, author and editor of the East Oranger, dancing to the swerve and curve music of Mike Castoro and his Mel-tones. Playing a little music of their own in a corner are Jim Milligan on the drums and Marv Fine on the trumpet. As usual the decorations were designed by Leon West.

"Over in a little group in the port alley-way, 'Peeps' LeRoy, well-known Angelos' cigarette girl, Barbara Young, lovely Glevy model, Ann Churla, Broadway Dancing Star, June Brooks, wearing a Fisher creation, and that great designer herself, Miss Carole Fine, are all clustered around the venerable criminal lawyer, George Rich, who skated across the Hudson River in open-water skates to be present at the festivities.

"In a similar corner, only on the starboard side of the ship, are Professors Dave Laifer, Willy Jones, and Bob Ferguson. They seem to be discussing the possibility of teaching from comic books rather than textbooks.

"In that same direction, Fred Bacher, president of Brunn and Daddstreet, and Angelo Preite, U.N. interpreter, are discussing world affairs, while Dodger Manager Sue Gallagher is listening to bowling champ Rosalie Aromando describe a resent high jump record set by Peggy Corrin. On the wall behind them is a plaque denouncing all Dodger fans. It was erected by Ed Quabeck, Don Dimitry, and Lee Dumbroff, with the able assistance of faithful Pirate fan, Marty Waldman.

"Sitting at a table in the middle of the floor is Dolly Kremski, singing hillbilly songs to Elaine Farkas, who recently invented a method for installing lemon cokes in water faucets. Two Florence Nightingales of the class, Nancy Ronan and Joyce Van Dine, are musing over the problems of germ warfare with Dr. Douglas Lipton, scientist and astronomer. Dr. Lipton is also carrying on a conversation concerning plans for a rocket car to help Paul Gianas get to work in the morning with less effort. Bill Macklin has offered to be the special mechanic for the car.

"At the far corner, Mary Haren is demonstrating the influences of advertising with her famous 'Hipana' smile to the child psychologist, Lillian Daudelin.

"Well, folks, this just about brings to a close the telecasting of the 25th reunion of the Class of Fifty-two, but we'll be back in twenty-five more years to see who's left."

Club activities have transported some to fascinating realms and aroused in them interests that may be life-long.

THE GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, under the direction of Miss Edna Scott, continued to bring to East Orange High School a fine program of after-school sports. This program enables girls with athletic interests to pursue these sports while receiving excellent instruction in them.

The season started in the fall with hockey, which all of the girls eagerly anticipated. Blanche Huguenin and Mildred Conrad won positions on the All-State Hockey Team, after some rough competition from the girls of twenty-two other schools in New Jersey.

With the advent of winter, the activities had to retreat indoors; this did not, however, stop the girls from participating in many sports. Miss Scott started the basketball, which eventually ended in the annual Foul Shooting contest. Mrs. Shirley Enzer took the girls to the Bowl-O-Drome once a week for practice. Miss Jane Perry continued to direct the Modern Dance classes, which gave two performances this year, the first in the fall, when all of the classes gave an assembly program. The second performance was in the spring at the annual Modern Dance Night.

In the spring softball and baseball were also offered. Other sports that the G.A.A. sponsored were tennis, swimming, volleyball, and badminton.

The officers for this year, who did a splendid job, were Frances Darzentas, president; Gloriette Curtis, vice-president; and Betty Lou McFadden, secretary. They helped to prove that the Girls' Athletic Association is an integral part of school life.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Row 1—S. Squier, G. Hall, J. Engle, F. Bacher, J. DeKasar. Row 2—J. Van Dine, U. Kromayer, F. Darzentas, N. Secol, M. Porter, P. Landsperg, T. Busichio. Row 3—A. Meyer, C. Fischer, R. Ramsey, J. UNDER THE ABLE LEADERSHIP of President Fred Bacher, Vice-president Joe DeKasar, Secretary Joan Engle, and Treasurer Gerry Hall, the Student Council accomplished a great deal in 1951-1952.

Among these accomplishments was the continuation of the two school canteens, Youthopia and Club Martes, both of which gave some excellent dances during the year. Three successful drives were sponsored by the Student Council: a toy drive, the annual canned goods drive for the Orthopedic Hospital, and one to fill Red Cross boxes for European children. The most successful bonfire rally we have ever had, under the leadership of Gerry Hall, was held at Viking Field. Also in the sports line, buses were secured to take interested students to the away basketball games. The girl cheerleaders were allowed to go to the away basketball games, also for the first time. The school cafeteria was finally spruced up with a fine coat of rose paint on three walls and light gray on the third, and the ceiling was soundproofed. The next day's menu was given in the notices. In addition, the TM sound system was installed. A school jacket with the school colors was selected. And finally, a calendar of monthly events was published and distributed to each pupil, supplemented by the bulletin board near Room 102, the board being the gift of the Class of 1951.

Within the council itself several changes were made. The treasurer is now to be elected with the other three officers. Instead of meeting at 8:30 in the auditorium, the group now meets at 8:20 in Room 214A.

The annual fall picnic, held at Hickory Springs, was a very pleasant outing; and in November representatives sent to the Convention of New Jersey High Schools at Rutgers University reported an enjoyable and worthwhile experience.

The officers, members, and sponsors (Miss Ellen Leinonen and Mr. Don Hitchner) take this opportunity to thank all those who helped make the 1951-1952 Student Council successful.

GIRLS' STUDY HALL COUNCIL

SPONSORED BY THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT and under the direct guidance of Mrs. Ensign, the Girls' Study Hall Council continued to bring student government to the girls' study halls. The organization solves its own problems, makes its own rules for behavior in study halls, and through the Girls' Court, sees that these rules are enforced. Although this system, a pioneer in its field, has not succeeded in many other schools, East Orange High School is justly proud of its successful functioning here for many years.

THE NEWS

THE NEWS brings to a close another year of top-rate journalism as is evidenced by its first class rating in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. As in past years, the school newspaper continued to bring to the student body much news, many special features, and articles on sports. Although there was a slight increase in price this year because of the higher cost of publication, the students subscribed over 80% strong.

Working hard and long in Room 213, The News Editorial Staff brought to its readers during the year many interesting and varied offerings, including Box Drop, Student of the Month, Inquiring Panthographer, and Panther's Progress. Striving to bring to the student what he wanted, the staff made use of action and still photographs, and of cartoons aptly drawn by Nancy Secol and Alan Moretti.

Headed by Susie Squier as editor-in-chief, Lew Schaffer as front page editor, Audrey Campbell as news editor, Adele Meyer as feature editor, Steve Berg as sports editor, and Ursula Kromayer as managing editor, The News, with the cooperation of an excellent editorial staff, remained an integral part of the school life, informing students of all happenings and giving timely editorial opinions.

Extra-special recognition should go to Mr. Morgan T. Loesch, faculty sponsor to the editorial staff, whose value to the paper is inestimable. The business staff also, under the supervision of Mr. Arthur A. LePori, is to be commended for its excellent work in the financial conduct of The News.

Our best wishes for a successful year go to next year's editorial and business staffs of The News.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

MEMBERS OF THE SOCIAL COMMITTEE FOR 1951-1952 were Audrey Campbell, chairman, Ursula Kromayer, decorations chairman, Elfriede Puls, secretary, Susie Squier, Eileen Boyd, Joan Collins, Pat Landsperg, Leon West, Donald Webb, Walter Clifford, Joe Ritner, and Sandy Klapholz.

Beginning the social season was the New Student Party which introduced newcomers to EOHS. Over 200 students joined in singing and dancing and were led in cheers by the cheerleaders. The balloon dance and the potato race were among the games played. After entertainment, which included Tommy Shepard at the piano, dixie cups were served, completing the success of the party.

With the walls of the girls' gym decorated with figures of comic strip favorites, students attended Kartoon Kapers garbed in outfits of cartoon characters. A committee consisting of Mr. Sliker, Mrs. Briscoe, Miss Leinonen, and Audrey Campbell decided that Joan Elliott and Jerry Carlson, outfitted as members of Prince Valiant's Court, had the most original costumes. Mike Castoro and his Mel-tones supplied the music for the evening.

Adding an extra dance to this year's program, the Social Committee presented the Syllabus Swing, a benefit dance with all the profits going to cut the expenses of the Syllabus. It was a "stag or drag" affair with students coming in dungarees and sports shirts. Donating their services, Mike Castoro's band played sweet music while the students danced. A special feature of the evening was the accordion solo by Mike D'Autilia.

Dancing to the tunes of the Serenaders, couples filled the gym for Evening in Paris, the annual formal Junior Prom. Dazzling murals depicting scenes from Paris and a canopy transformed the gym into a veritable ballroom.

Spring Fever Frolic was the festive name given to the spring dance featuring Robin Hood's Orchestra, of Greenwich Village fame. Both square and ballroom dancing were enjoyed by the students.

Celebrating the end of their school years at EOHS, seniors, as well as lower classmen and some alumni, attended the last dance of the season, Neptune's Nocturne. In a nostalgic underwater setting, with King Neptune surrounded by multi-colored fish, coral, and wonders of the sea, dancers floated through space in ecstasy to the strains of the Souvenirs. The honored seniors started by participating in the Grand March and finished by singing the Alma Mater. This Grad Dance was the final festivity for the Class of '52.
