Dedication

• We, the members of the graduating class of 1953, very gratefully dedicate this book to the following teachers: Mr. John T. Hubbard, Miss Katherine M. Rowley, and Miss Mary E. Utecht. At the close of the current school year these teachers will retire from the school system.

During their years in this school these teachers have helped prepare us for the future. Mr. Hubbard's instruction in the history of this country, Miss Rowley's expert teaching of the French language and French customs, and Miss Utecht's untiring efforts to guide us to a wise solution of our problems—all these things have helped prepare us for any course that we may choose as our life's work.

We, the graduates, extend our best wishes for many happy and fruitful years.

Tribute to Former Mayor Martens

THE CLASS OF 1953 of East Orange High School has the privilege of paying homage to a fine American, Mr. Charles H. Martens, who, during his thirty-four years as mayor, did everything in his power to improve the city, especially its educational system, giving constant attention to the schools and to the students and their needs. The Class of 1953 thanks him for all he has done to assure good schools for the city and extends to him and Mrs. Martens its very best wishes for many happy and prosperous years.

Foreword

• "The old order changeth"—and whether we will or not, we are borne from yesterday into today, knowing that tomorrow awaits us. Our four years in East Orange High School have helped us to meet, by using our yesterdays and todays, the unforeseen changes of tomorrow. This past and this future the SYLLABUS Board has chosen as the theme for this year's book, leaving the pictures and accounts of the year's activities within each section to serve as a presentation of today.

ANOTHER YEARBOOK. Another graduating class. Sounds like routine, but never can be, for just as each yearbook has its own unique features, so does each class, both individually and collectively, possess characteristics not to be found in preceding or succeeding classes.

The Class of 1953 has evolved from the special and distinctive experiences each member has had from the day he first greeted this strange and wonderful world. As he meets everyday situations, his thoughts and his reactions reflect these influences, for better or for worse. The future happiness and true worth of each individual depend mostly upon the strength of his determination to direct his total talents and abilities toward serving his friends, his neighbors, and his nation.

HENRY E. KENTOPP

IT GIVES ME a great deal of pleasure to congratulate the Class of 1953 upon attaining their goal of graduation from East Orange High School. The joy and elation accompanying this event are the fruition of past endeavors which presage even greater achievements in the future.

One of the satisfying compensations of our profession is in knowing that we, as teachers, have had a part in making those achievements possible. The entire faculty join with me in extending their sincere best wishes for the future success of every member of the Class of 1953.

Class History

1949-50

DO YOU REMEMBER with what curiosity, eagerness, and high hope we entered East Orange High that bright September morning four short years ago? How we were taken on a Cook's Tour of the whole building after the welcoming address of our principal, Mr. Knight? The student's handbook for a guide and our own explorations soon made us familiar with the building. Personalities among the faculty and student body began to emerge, and we soon felt at home in the place where, for the next four years, we would spend the greater part of our waking hours. The first social event, the New Student Party, was a big success, followed by more success on Thanksgiving Day when the Panthers beat Barringer, 24-13, to the delight of the "Old Grads" in the reserved seats. The Pigskin Hop, honoring the football team, was our first regular high school dance. Mention must be made also of the school play that year. Will you ever forget Mr. Bodenchatz' portrayal of The Man Who Came to Dinner or the excellent Christmas Concert with the audience joining in the carol singing! What memories! Our first mid-year exams—the Winter Wonderland setting of the Junior Prom—the P.T.A. excursion to Rye Beach—Backstage at the Opera at the Grad Dance! Before we realized it, June had arrived and vacation was at hand.

1950-51

THEN WE WERE SOPHOMORES welcoming from V.L.D. new friends who soon were in the swing of things. "Jeans" and "jumpers" were de rigueur at the Hobo Hop, but our sense of joy at the dance was soon offset by our dejection when the Old Guard Trophy went to Barringer for the first time in four years. If that was murder, what about the cold-blooded murder that hypnotized the audience watching that year's play, Night Must Fall? Relief was provided by the Christmas Concert with its beautiful candlelight procession. Again mid-year exams were behind us, and how welcome the Junior Prom, better remembered as the Sweethearts' Ball. Little need be said about the sail down the East River from Rye that year. Came and went the Senior Prom—half our course was run.

1951-52

A JUNIOR CLASS IS NOT simply a number of students returning to school for the third year. It is a living thing well worked upon by the environment within which it has developed, and in turn giving out to its surroundings something of its own strength, thought, and spirit. Our class confirmed this truth. We really felt a part of the Red and Blue as we knew it was already part of us. Kartoon Kapers opened the social season, a joy and a success. Things looked promising, especially in the cafeteria where the promise was for Musak with our meals. But before the promise was performed, let us never forget (as if we ever could) the Amateur Show by various teachers and students and the can-can by the Flora Dora Sisters that finally brought the conga to the cafeteria. We took in stride another defeat by Barringer, cheered for our still gallant Panthers, and pitched in to cover the Syllabus deficit with an extra fall dance, The Syllabus Swing. It was a social and financial success, quickly followed by another when Charlie's Aunt, the school play, put a feather in Mr. Mohn's hat and gave our principal a chance to display that hidden dramatic talent. The usual fine concert and club parties ushered in the holiday recess. Afterwards we buckled down for the recurring mid-year exams and blossomed out again at the Junior Prom that memorable, enchanting Evening in Paris. Something new was added to the East Orange-Scott Band Concert when for the first time the twirling squad joined in with a fine mixture of pulchritude and scintillating dexterity. The political kettles were boiling everywhere by Spring, and within the school the G.O. election campaigns were spirited and exciting. Bill Abrams, George Casterlin, Ruth Moran, and Jim Weeks were elected president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. At the Junior-Senior Assembly the class stood in tribute to the Seniors as they filed out, each of us thinking how very soon we would be Juniors no more. It seemed no time before we were attending the Senior Prom, that beautiful Neptune's Nocturne. The reins of leadership were soon ours to hold.

Class History

1952-53

ON OUR RETURN IN SEPTEMBER perhaps we were just another class to the faculty, but we considered ourselves something special—the Senior Class! With the reins gripped firmly, we settled down, in our opinion, "to run the school." A familiar face soon was missing. Mr. Woolson of 228 fame had been appointed principal of V.L.D., and he left to take up his new position. Bob Redman, our new coach, did a great job this year with the "golden eleven"; and although we lost to Barringer on Thanksgiving, we beat Columbia for the first time in several years. Early in the fall we became aware that this was a special year. The school was going to be evaluated. Every organization in the school resolved to make a good showing. The Hayseed Hobble, the first dance of the year, gave us a chance to "grab our pardners and dos-a-dos" as well as fox trot. Our last Christmas season in E.O.H.S. was marked by the presentation of the opera, Amahl and the Night Visitors. How fleeting was our Senior year! The Junior Prom, Oriental Dream, danced to the music of Mike Castoro's Band, highlighted the month of March. The year was no longer flying, it was jet-propelled. The class officers, Dennis Hagerty, Jim Weeks, Lois Sherman, and Doreen Johnson deserve a salute for their fine performance this year. The Grad Dance, Star Dust, will always be one of the fine memories of our high school career. If life is but a play, four of the best years of our lives were enacted in this theatre called East Orange High. We bid her farewell and "pledge devotion true."

From the Class of '53

When to this school we first did stray,
Long, long ago in 'forty-nine,
We didn't think we'd see the day
That we'd receive those sheepskins fine.

But time, as always, whisked along,
Leaving fond memories behind.
Now that those four "hard" years are gone,
We wonder—were they such a grind?

Our childish whims we look upon
As much too silly now to mention;
But we shall ne'er forget the yarns
That us did rescue from detention.

A school's not made of sticks and stones,
Nor a lifetime made of childish pranks.
Today we gained that fearsome knowledge—
And to teachers go our heartfelt thanks.

They solved our youthful problems, too;
They taught us more than work assigned;
Impressed upon us truth's great worth,
And helped us stronger grow in mind.

On fortune's threshold now we stand;
A chapter of our life is through.
We thank you all for a guiding hand.
To all we bid a fond adieu.

Class Prophecy

"GOOD AFTERNOON, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN. This is the events department of the Red and Blue Network broadcasting to you direct from the Clem Tennaro Rocket Works in East Orange, New Jersey, from which the world's first space ship for Mars is scheduled to leave within the next few minutes.

"Head pilots for this epic flight will be safety award winners John Adonis and Dennis Hagerty. Other members of the crew include the hostesses, Joyce Hall, Doris Libby, and Vivian Cardinale; the navigator, Nick DeAquino; a staff psychiatrist, Jim Weeks; and three official observers, 'Bumps' Bowblis, Ernie Jefferson, and Joe DelGuercio.

"The body of this ingenious space ship was designed by the world-famous engineering firm of Foster and Hearst, but credit for the intricate mechanisms beneath the ship's hull goes to Nobel Prize winner in physics and chemistry, Rudy Downs. Responsible for the beautiful interior decorations on the space craft are no less than five experts from the Fashion Academy: Joan Collins, Lois Sherman, Marie Albanese, Irma Wright, and Jean Bankson.

"Many distinguished passengers, representing both governmental and private interests, will make the flight. Among those we can see at the moment are Attorney-General Robert Duncan; female F.B.I. agents Ruth Moran, Jean Regan, and Doreen Johnson; West Point Superintendent George Casterlin and Senator Carl Bulger. These personages all represent the former group, but several civilian dignitaries are also in view. Vincent Bilotta, supermarket magnate, may be seen conversing with literary giants Ruth Ginsberg and Phyllis Goldstein; and just joining the trio is the linguistic expert, Pat Landsperg.

"At the moment, refreshments are being served by representatives of the Dumbroff-Tullio-Ibsen Homemakers' Institute to the huge crowd that has gathered for this event. Donald Webb and his 'Noisy Nine' are providing background music for the proceedings; but now, as we note the hour, we see that we must keep moving right along, for take-off time is almost at hand.

"For several days telegrams, cables, and communiques have been flooding in to wish the adventurers good luck. Acknowledging just a few of them, we wish to thank vocalists Bill Abrams and Pat Wilkins; dramatic star, Dick McCarty; Olympic Gold Medal winners, Frank Jones, Beau Munford, Frank Criss, and Dick Macklin; and national baton-twirling champion, Pat Nelson.

"We should like to mention briefly the speeches of the day, just delivered by Judge Robert Bowser and educational authority Carol Joya; but oh, o-h, even more wires are coming in. Professional basketball stars Dave Jones and Dom Saccente request that information on the possibility of their taking their team on an inter-planetary tour be relayed as soon as available; Dick Ramsey, 'the Wizard of Wall Street,' wishes to announce that he has definitely decided to go ahead with his plans for prefabricated housing on Mars, as soon as this rocket returns to earth, and here is still another message: Cliff Rand, the Ambassador to England, sends a hearty 'Tallyho' to the voyagers.

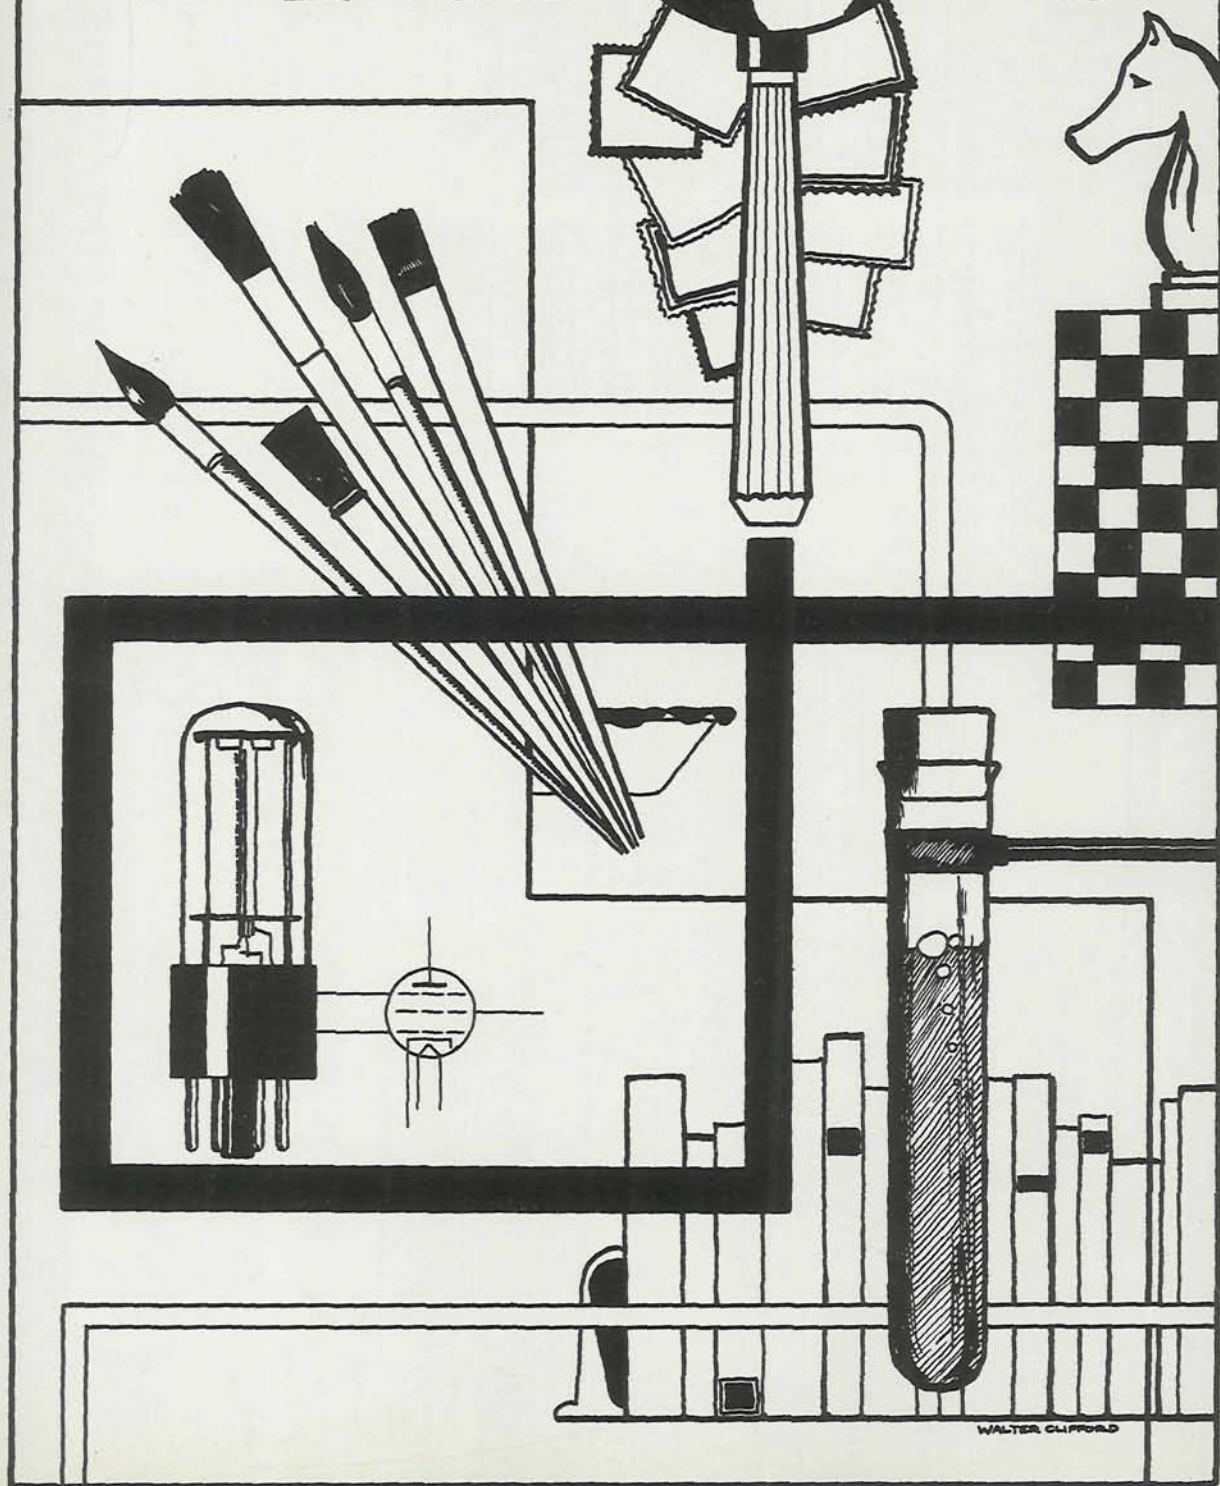

"Everything seems just about ready now. They are preparing to blast off, or to use a colloquial expression of the days way back in 1953, 'to shake the scene.' Lady Flight Engineers Dottie Ike and Joan Farese are signaling that the zero hour has arrived; they are waving goodbye; and now, there they . . . WHOOSH . . . go!

"Remember, this program is being sponsored by the Nolan-Battle-DePalma Golf Club Corporation. All the top pros, like Gloriette Curtis and 'Chief' Bender, use our clubs exclusively.

"Keep tuned in to this station constantly for further developments in this epic event of science and humanity. The space ship is expected back within twenty-five years!"

Girls' Athletic Association

UNDER THE ABLE LEADERSHIP of Gloriette Curtis as president, the G.A.A. has completed another successful year of sports activities.

Among the numerous extra-curricular activities is hockey. Two girls are sent each year to the New Jersey Hockey Association tournament.

One of the most popular after-school sports the G.A.A. offers is volleyball, as interclass and interfaculty games are played. Basketball, bowling, tennis, softball, and badminton are other sports offered by this organization. In almost all of these sports, teams are picked and the girls are chosen on the basis of interest. Modern Dance is another of the activities of the G.A.A.

Highlighting the year was a picnic at Crystal Lake.

Awarded to the most active members of the G.A.A. are keys which are given to the girls in award assembly. Other awards include chevrons, small E.O.'s, and large E.O.'s.

Student Council

THE EAST ORANGE HIGH SCHOOL Student Council for the 1952-1953 school year under the capable leadership of Bill Abrams, President; George Casterlin, Vice-President; James Weeks, Treasurer; and Ruth Moran, Secretary, will be remembered as an efficient, active, progressive body.

Outstanding seniors of East Orange High School, through their membership in the Student Council, made important contributions to the success of the Council as a whole. George Casterlin, Chairman of the Interclub Council, which is composed of the various club presidents, drew up for the first time a school calendar of all club meetings, in order to prevent overlapping of meetings.

Vinnie Bilotta, an ex-cheerleader, headed the Rally Committee which staged successful pre-game rallies, parades, and bonfires at Martens Stadium.

Jim Dawson assumed leadership of the highly important Ways and Means Committee, and Constantine Bowblis revised the East Orange High School Constitution, making it a sound, modern foundation for the school government.

In November, 1952, Student Council representatives from East Orange High School attended the convention of New Jersey High Schools Student Councils held at Rutgers University. It was at this convention that the Student Council representatives successfully sponsored Elaine Keller as State Treasurer of that organization.

John Hearst, as Chairman of the Election Committee, introduced a bill (which later became an amendment to the constitution) providing for primary elections for the four principal offices in the General Organization.

The Student Council during the year continued the music in the cafeteria and sponsored a toy drive, the annual canned goods drive for the children in the Orthopedic Hospital, and a drive to fill Red Cross boxes for Korean children. It also operated the bulletin board in front of Room 102.

None of these things could have been accomplished without the able guidance of Miss Leinonen and Mr. Hitchner, to whom all the students send their thanks.

Social Committee

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Miss Ellen E. Leinonen, the Social Committee concluded a most successful year. Members of the group were Jean Bankson (chairman), Nancy Secol, Walter Clifford, Alex Froelich, Lynne Twinem, Bill Honeker, Nancy Lee Geyer, Don Webb, Jim Dawson, Joan Collins, Pat Landsperg, and Carter Hemphill.

Beginning the social season was the New Student Party, which introduced new students to East Orange High School. Over 200 persons attended the gala event in the girls' gymnasium on September 19. In the true East Orange tradition, the new students wasted little time in getting acquainted with one another, and minutes after the party was officially opened, they were engaged in numerous games. Foremost among the activities was a contest to see who could get the most signatures in an allotted amount of time.

Cornstalks, cowbells, and paper-sculptured hens and cows transformed the girls' gym into "Toby's Barn" for the "Hayseed Hobble" on November 22. Fred Riecke's five-piece band and caller came down from the hills of South Orange to provide country music and entertainment. To make the evening complete, prizes were awarded in such novelty dances as "Hurdle the Bottles," "Rubber Ball Game," and the "Partner Race."

Dancing to the tunes of the Rhythmairs, couples filled the gym on March 21 for the annual Junior Prom. Dazzling decorations mysteriously seemed to change the usual scene into a beautiful ballroom.

To celebrate the end of their school years at E. O. H. S., seniors, as well as lower classmen and some alumni, attended the Grad Dance on June 13. In the beautiful setting, happy dancers seemed to float through space to the strains of the Melody Men. Festivities began when the honored seniors participated in the Grand March. To conclude this final dance for the Class of '53, seniors sang the Alma Mater.

East Orange High School News

CONTINUING TO BE a valuable and necessary part of East Orange High School life, the NEWS ended another successful year of publication, as is indicated by its first-class rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

As in the past, the school newspaper continued to bring students up to date on the latest school events. Working hard and long in Room 213, the editorial staff brought to its readers many new features. Special articles, from book reviews to social columns, were added to appeal to the varying student interests, and bold-faced type was first used in many news stories.

With Cliff Rand as editor-in-chief, Ruth Ginsberg as front-page editor, Dor Ike as news editor, Phyllis Goldstein as feature editor, Dick Foster as sports editor, and Betsy Dumbroff as managing editor, the News, with the co-operation of an excellent staff, completed a most successful year. Striving to bring each student what he wanted, the staff made use of action and still photographs, and of cartoons skillfully drawn by Nancy Secol.

To Mr. Morgan T. Loesch, faculty adviser to the editorial staff, should go extra-special recognition. Because of his excellent guidance these past six years, the student body has continued to receive only the finest type of newspaper. Praise, too, should go to Mr. Arthur A. LePori and his business staff for their efficient work in the financial conduct of the NEWS.

To the editorial and business staffs of next year go our best wishes for a year of success.
