Syllabus Board

• Since man first walked the earth, he has depended for his survival upon the work of his hands. His abilities have since been so greatly extended that their scope is almost limitless; nevertheless, man is still dependent upon his hands as he participates in the many phases of everyday life. The Syllabus Board has put this fact to use in depicting our high school career; we have portrayed each school activity by showing the hands which take part in that activity. The 1955 Syllabus is therefore a word-and-picture representation of East Orange High School with its "Hands at Work."

DEDICATION

● To Mrs. Elsie Pearson Davis, in gratitude for her great contribution to our education, the members of the Class of 1955 dedicate this Syllabus.

Mrs. Davis was born in West Orange; and, after attending school there, she entered the Institute of Musical Art on a Juilliard Scholarship. After a year's study at the Institute, she married and turned her attentions toward family life. She became active in the First Baptist Church of East Orange, where she found an opportunity to collaborate with her brother-in-law in producing annual operettas. Here also she directed a Scout troop for many years, further displaying her interest in others. She is currently the Music Committee Chairman of the church and is involved in organizing and directing its choirs.

This year marks a significant anniversary for our wonderful accompanist, for just ten years ago last January Mrs. Davis joined Mr. Jones in "324". The deciding factor in her coming to East Orange High is an interesting and significant one: while substitute teaching at Eastern School, she happened to hear the singing of the high schools' music students who were on the annual caroling trip. Upon hearing these several hundred voices, she thought that it would be wonderful to play for such groups. She therefore offered her services at Mr. Jones's Steinway, and she has never regretted it in the decade since then. There are hundreds of students, past and present, who are grateful for her decision, for she can do marvelous things with music and would-be musicians. She and Mr. Jones have been producing, every year, concerts that are splendidly unique and traditionally beautiful. In 1950 they carried over their talents into the production of the All-State High School Chorus Concert. Almost exclusively to Mrs. Davis, however, falls the perennial task of rehearsing all the soloists in our own concerts, as well as our school's All-State Chorus members. In addition to this, where could one find a more efficient bookkeeper, or one with a more prodigious amount of bookkeeping to do?

These are but a few excerpts from a life that is a great unfinished symphony promising many more movements in the future, all with tempos and rhythms as varied as the ones already played. Mrs. Davis's plans for the future include more composing and perhaps serious study of the organ, in addition to continuing right where she is for some time to come.

We who are leaving East Orange High School shall always remember her pleasant smile and calm manner and shall be ever grateful to her for adding so much to our education and enjoyment.

A TYPICAL SCENE IN OUR SCHOOL'S MUSICAL LIFE

The Board of Education

UPON LEAVING EAST ORANGE HIGH SCHOOL, the graduating class wishes to thank the Board of Education for everything it has done for the school during the past year.

All band members and twirlers were pleased with the newly decorated band room when they returned to school in the fall. Taking action on a Student Council recommendation, the Board of Education has been busily improving the school grounds since last fall. A newly installed public telephone is another act for which the class is grateful.

Although the time during which the class could enjoy these additions was limited, it is still nice to know that the Board of Education will heed any recommendation made by the student body and act upon it if it feels it is necessary.

● Seated: Mr. William Hoffman, Mr. Maurice N. Trainer, Mrs. George Ross Starr (President), Mr. Frederick B. Duncan (Vice-President), Mr. Scott Harris. Standing: Mr. Paul V. Moody (Secretary—Business Manager), Mr. William Orts (Assistant to Mr. Moody).

The Hands at the Controls . . .

DR. HENRY E. KENTOPP
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1955:

Your theme, "Hands at Work," is an intriguing one. The world's work could not go without the skilled operation of those four fingers and that opposable thumb. This holds true whether that hand manipulates the scalpel of a surgeon, the controls of a twenty-ton power shovel, or the brakes of a fifty-car freight train. Of course, it is implied that "working with hands" gets improved results when the head cooperates. But the greatest satisfaction to the doer comes when the hands, the head, and the heart, all three, are coordinated. Man's greatest happiness is always derived from an all-out effort, from the feeling that he has given his best toward a worthy achievement. To lose oneself in an effort to render superlative service is the best tonic ever discovered for human beings.

HENRY E. KENTOPP

LEWIS B. KNIGHT, A.M.
Principal

To the Class of 1955:

The theme of this year's Syllabus, "Hands at Work", implies a state of being busy which is characteristic of our school. The hands and minds of many members of the Class of 1955 have not only been busy with school-connected enterprises, but have been engaged in unselfish service in community-wide activities. For them there has been no gap between preparation for and participation in the obligations and duties of citizenship.

Our congratulations to you upon achieving the goal of graduation are accompanied by the expectation of greater accomplishments on your part in a world sorely in need of well-trained minds, hearts, and hands.

IN MEMORIAM

Harold O. Akeson, B. S.

Member of the Faculty of East Orange High School, 1919-1955

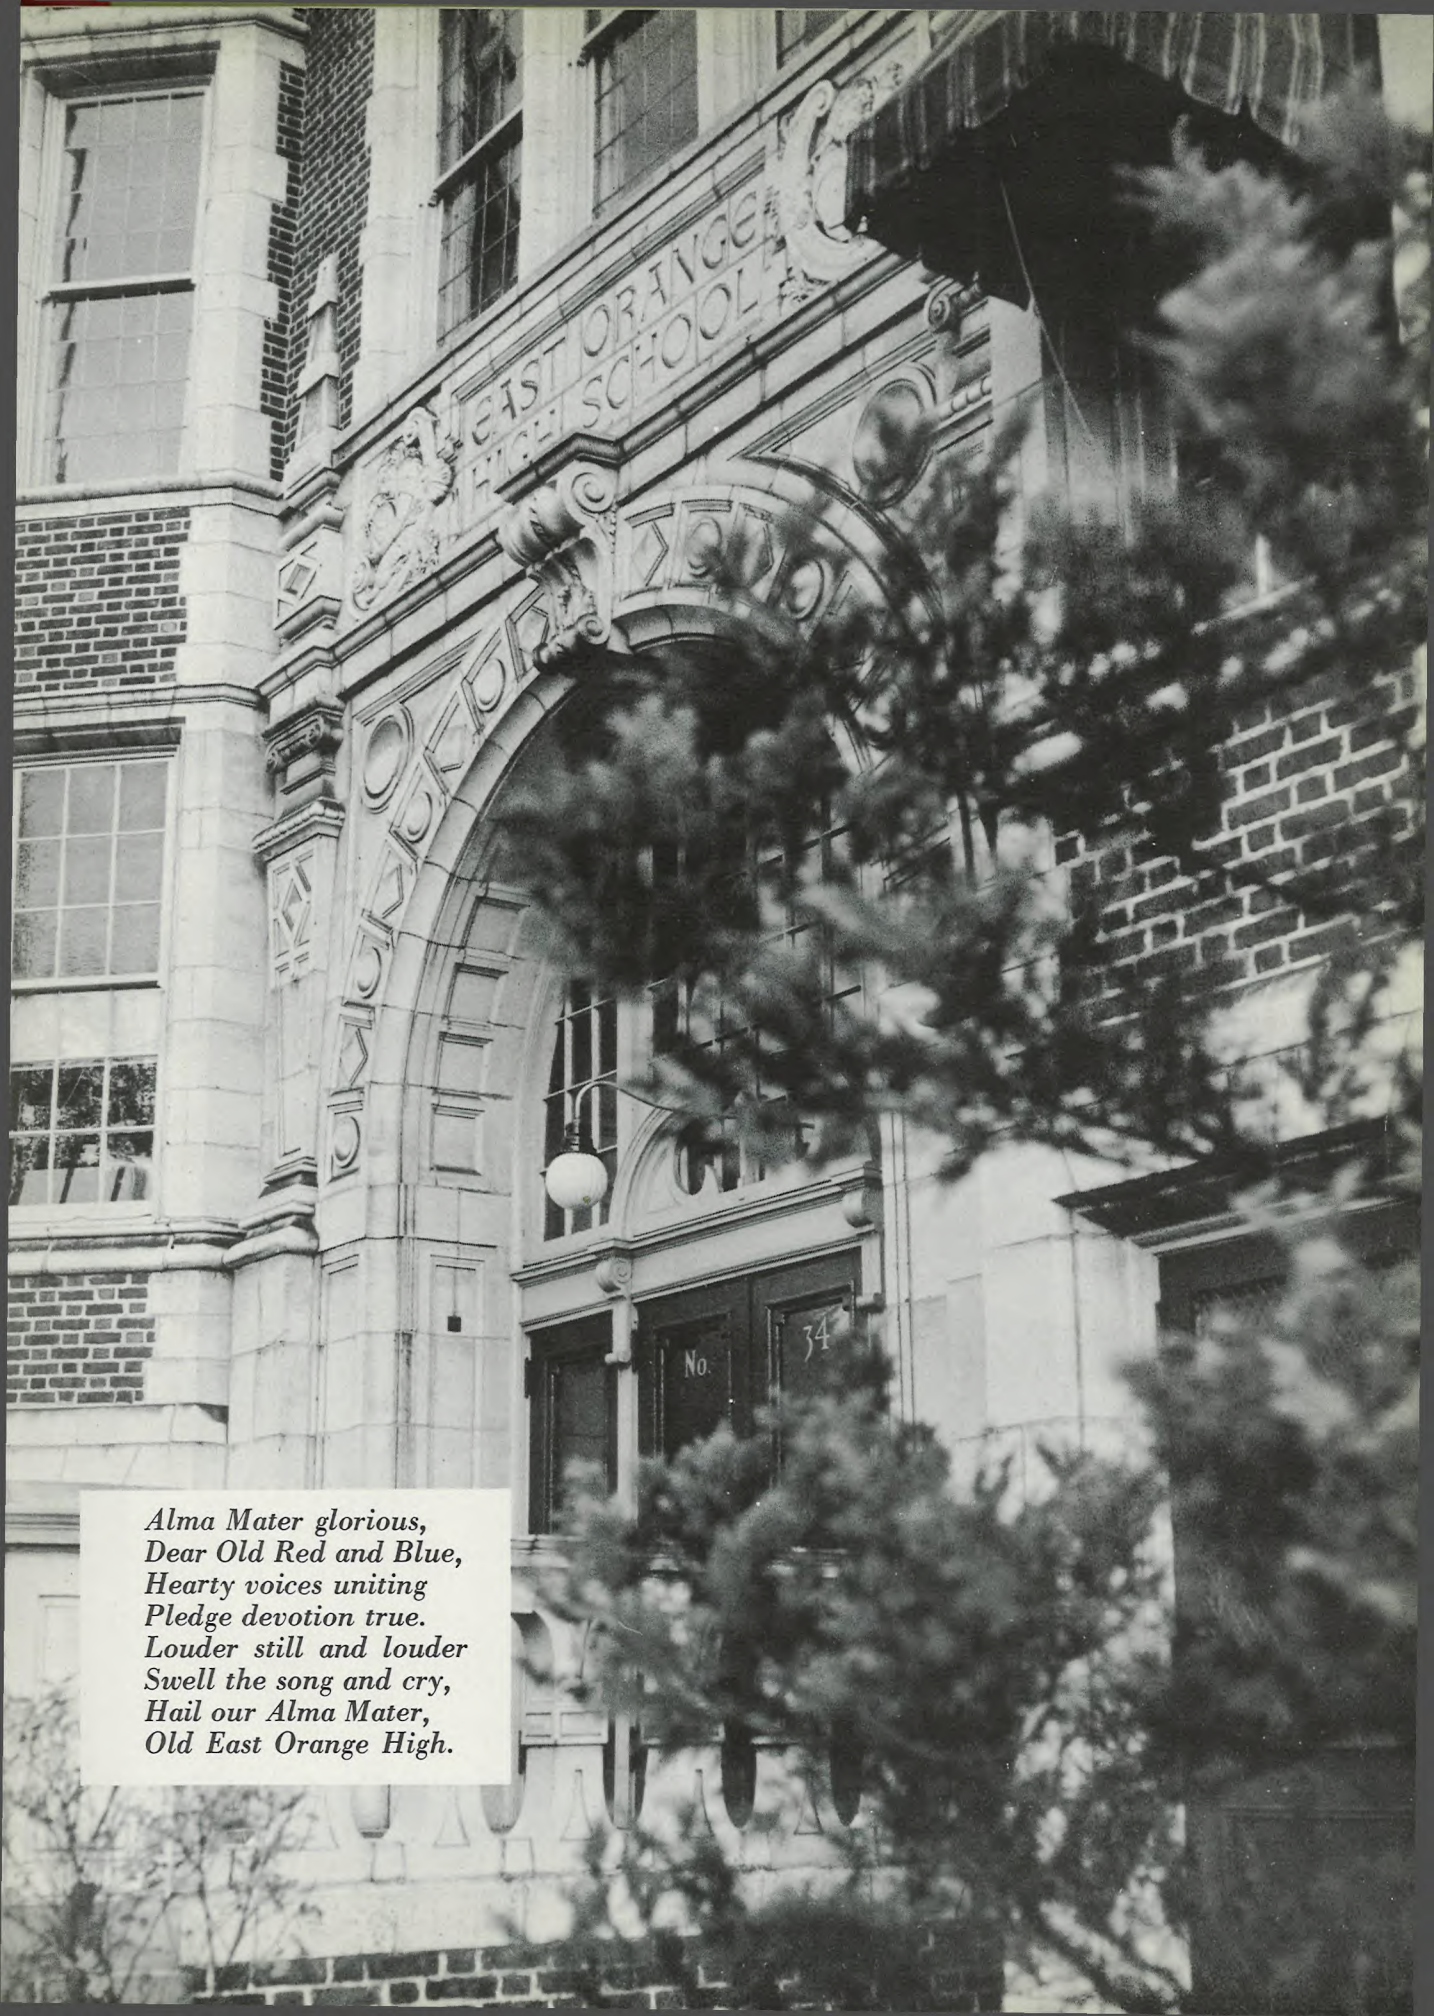

• With sincere regret we have learned of the passing of Mr. Harold O. Akeson on April 20, 1955, after almost thirty-six years of service on our faculty.

Mr. Akeson came to teach at East Orange High School in 1919 upon his graduation from Fitchburg State Normal School in Massachusetts. He taught mechanical drawing and related shop subjects during the years since that time. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from New York University in 1937.

In addition to his interest in his field of work, he enjoyed as pastimes both etching and designing. He had also undertaken the compiling of a volume describing useful articles to be built in the home workshop.

Mr. Akeson will be long remembered by all those people, both faculty and students, who knew him, for his friendly manner and personal interest in each individual won him many friends. Whether in study hall, classroom, or elsewhere, he was continually concerned in the personal welfare of each of his students and was always willing to assist in any manner that he could.

We shall always remember Mr. Akeson as a respected friend and we shall recall with sorrow his going from us.

*Alma Mater glorious,
Dear Old Red and Blue,
Hearty voices uniting
Pledge devotion true.
Louder still and louder
Swell the song and cry,
Hail our Alma Mater,
Old East Orange High.*

The Hands of Time Wrote these

"SUE, remember how thrilled we were that we were finally in high school, and all the times that we got lost?"

"How can I forget it, Al? All the upperclassmen were trying to sell us elevator passes and tickets to Assembly."

"I'll never forget the New Student Party. We met lots of lasting friends and really enjoyed ourselves with those games, group singing, and entertainment."

"Kartoon Kapers was a riot, with every one dressed as his favorite comic strip character."

"Yes, and the Syllabus Swing was a great idea for raising money for the Syllabus, and we all had a wonderful time."

"Although we lost to Barringer, we were soon in the Christmas Spirit when we saw for the first time the Christmas Concert with the beautiful candlelight procession."

"Remember how we roared at our dignified teachers in the Flora Dora chorus line in the Talent Show?"

"Yes, just before the Junior Prom, with its romantic, continental theme, 'Evening in Paris'. And remember the rip-roaring comedy, Charlie's Aunt?"

"The orchestra played for the last time in the combined band and orchestra concert with Scott that year, didn't it, Sue?"

"Yes, the music and combined twirlers were great. I especially remember how the community singing at the Spring Concert created a small-town atmosphere."

"And then came the Grad Dance, with 'Neptune's Nocturne' making a spectacular ending to our first year in high school."

"I certainly did enjoy sophomore year, Carol, didn't you?"

"Yes, all the annual events, like the Christmas Program, Voice Recital, Junior Prom, and the Spring Concert seemed exceptionally good that year."

"They were all good, but do you know what I remember most?"

"No. What?"

"The Hayseed Hobble. I can still hear the call of 'Swing your partners! Promenade!' There was so much confusion, but it was a lot of fun."

"Oh, yes, I remember that. It was great! Don't forget the play, Bill! That was another memorable event. The presentation that year was George Washington Slept Here, with Mr. Bodenschatz and Miss Capraro. They were a riot, prancing around on the stage."

"I don't believe I've ever laughed so much."

"But the thing I remember most about sophomore year, Bill, is the High School Evaluation. I'd never seen students so well behaved before—or since! I didn't know that we could be so good. I bet the teachers wish that every year were an evaluation year!"

"The whole year was over so soon, Carol, that we could only say, 'Another year is behind us.'"

Dates on Our Calendar of Events . . .

"Last year's list of events recalls a lot of good times, doesn't it, Mary?"

"Yes, John. Do you remember how proud we were to be upper classmen?"

"Yes, that was a great year, all right."

"I'll never forget parading down Main Street after we beat Montclair. What a game!"

"And we brought home the Old Guard Trophy after defeating Barringer."

"Wasn't the Harvest Hop a lot of fun?"

"Yes, it was. And the Christmas Concert was especially good that year—and was I glad to see vacation come."

"Yes, but then we had to take mid-year exams. They were tough, Johnny."

"What a time we had at the Junior Prom! That 'Winter Wonderland' setting was beautiful."

"And Lee Sylvestri made a perfect queen."

"Then campaigns for the G. O. elections began. We worked so hard for our candidates. Ed Ross was certainly 'the people's choice', Mary."

"Lee Hillenbach, Nancy Engle, and Bill Honeker proved to be good selections, too."

"After that, time flew; and before we knew it, we were saying good-by to the seniors at the Junior-Senior Assembly."

"Gee, it's great being back home again, Ed, even if it's only for Christmas vacation. College life is wonderful, but I still miss East Orange. Good old E. O. We sure had some great times in our four years of high school. Especially when we were seniors. I can remember that year as if it were just yesterday."

"I know what you mean, Marie. Being freshmen in college can't compare with being seniors in high school."

"Speaking of freshmen and new students—remember our last New Student Frolic? The expressions on the new students' faces? I just hope they appreciate E. O. as much as we did."

"The word 'appreciation' reminds me of something—that memorable day, December 16, 1954, when the lunch bell rang, and with it, the fire gong. Twelve hundred students filed out of the school, to discover this time that it was real."

"Did you know that it was the first fire in the history of the school, Ed? Even though we got a day or so off from school as a result, I think that everybody was happy that the fire did not do too much damage."

"I remember that the opening night of the Christmas Concert came that same evening, and the slogan was 'The show must go on', because, regardless of fire or smelly choir robes, Mr. Jones presented the concert. It really was beautiful, in spite of the difficulties."

"Then came Christmas vacation, and afterwards we were swept up into the gaiety of preparations for the Junior Prom, remember? It was Mardi Gras time. The Katz Korner Band was terrific that night, and the crowning of the Junior Prom Queen culminated a wonderful evening."

"Then came the senior play in March—The Hangman's Noose. It was really very enjoyable and the cast of actors was great—talented, too."

"And then in June came the Grad Dance. The girls looked so lovely in their gowns and the boys so handsome in their tuxedos. I shall never forget that night: the setting was perfect, the music divine, and the Senior Prom Queen beautiful."

"Finally, June 16. The big day had arrived; we were being graduated. When I was a freshman, I never thought I'd make it; and yet, when the time came, it was too soon."

"It's like the old saying: 'All good things must come to an end.'"

PALM READING

Tracing lines of Panther palms to foresee what is to be,
We note amazing futures in our Senior Prophecy.

When the concert halls grow hushed and still,
The hands of Bruno and Blair will thrill
The world with all their talent rare
In a musical treat beyond compare.

For Diane Merrill, a directors' bouquet
For having produced a T. V. ballet,
With star Lois Allen of Rockette renown,
Who is considered the toast of the town.

To Don W. Newton, the Pulitzer Prize
For his optical treatise on the care of the eyes;
While the pen of Fran Fessler rates choice reviews
For her best-selling novel about life on The News.

Splitting those atoms en route to the moon
Are Masetti and Peniston, chemistry's boon.
From the raising of cattle in Montana State
Rancher Ed Ross heads a political state.

Lucas reports for Chicago Gazette
That pilot Bob Edwards has flown a new jet.
Euna rates "Bravo" as a fashion creator;
Mendez is tops as a UN translator.

And when in the year '65 we return,
For reunion in dear ol' E. O. we shall yearn;
We'll compare notes and we'll reminisce
About thee, O Pantherdom, which we shall miss.

This reunion will see Charlie Phillips, M. D.,
Doctors Al Bettencourt, C. Ross, and Glevy,
DeGoria, DeRosa, and Barbara Ruggiero,
As medical giants, alumni of E. O..

The law firm of Ray Petruccelli and Riel
Will relate to you some fabulous deal,
While Policewoman Powers and Stewardess
O'Connor
Boast Presidential awards for service with honor.

Designer Dior is replaced by Miss Kronhaus
Russell is asked to decorate the White House
Called in on the job is Pelouze to assist
Their pills are by Roberts, the famed pharmacist.

The hands of time keep turning about
As Peterkin travels his interesting route,
But while in Paris, he chances to see
Phipps and Koonce at the Conservatory.

Receiving bravos at Carnegie Hall
Is pianist E. Harris on her tenth curtain call.

Critics love Beltramine at a Met debut;
J. Olivier settings gain loud praises too.

Smells of alcohol, tonics, and ether
Will appeal to the senses of Foster and Schaffer;
Starched uniforms for Pierce, Brodbeck, and Guy,
While for the best patients the Fant twins will vie.

Reading the palms of Tom Leach we note
He'll get the "Best salesman of '65" vote.
At Powers' will model Fletcher and Link,
While Madeline Ott will parade in blue mink.

Businessman Krieger will dictate with zeal
To Kathleen O'Toole or Sheila O'Neill
Stenographers Leonard and Sally LePore,
Will type and will work at a clerical chore.

In this prophecy there are definite flairs
For muffins and doughnuts and chocolate eclairs;
In your high chef's hat and starched white coat,
Manganiello and Sal, you'll be bakers of note.

From ruler and blueprint, an architect's dream
Is born through construction of steel and of beam;
For Garrett and Moore, we foresee with delight,
Careers as designers are almost in sight.

Back to the classroom but reversing the scene
Are Markert and Maytner, Kaplan and Greene,
No longer scholars but mentors are they—
Skilled in the knowledge they hope to convey.

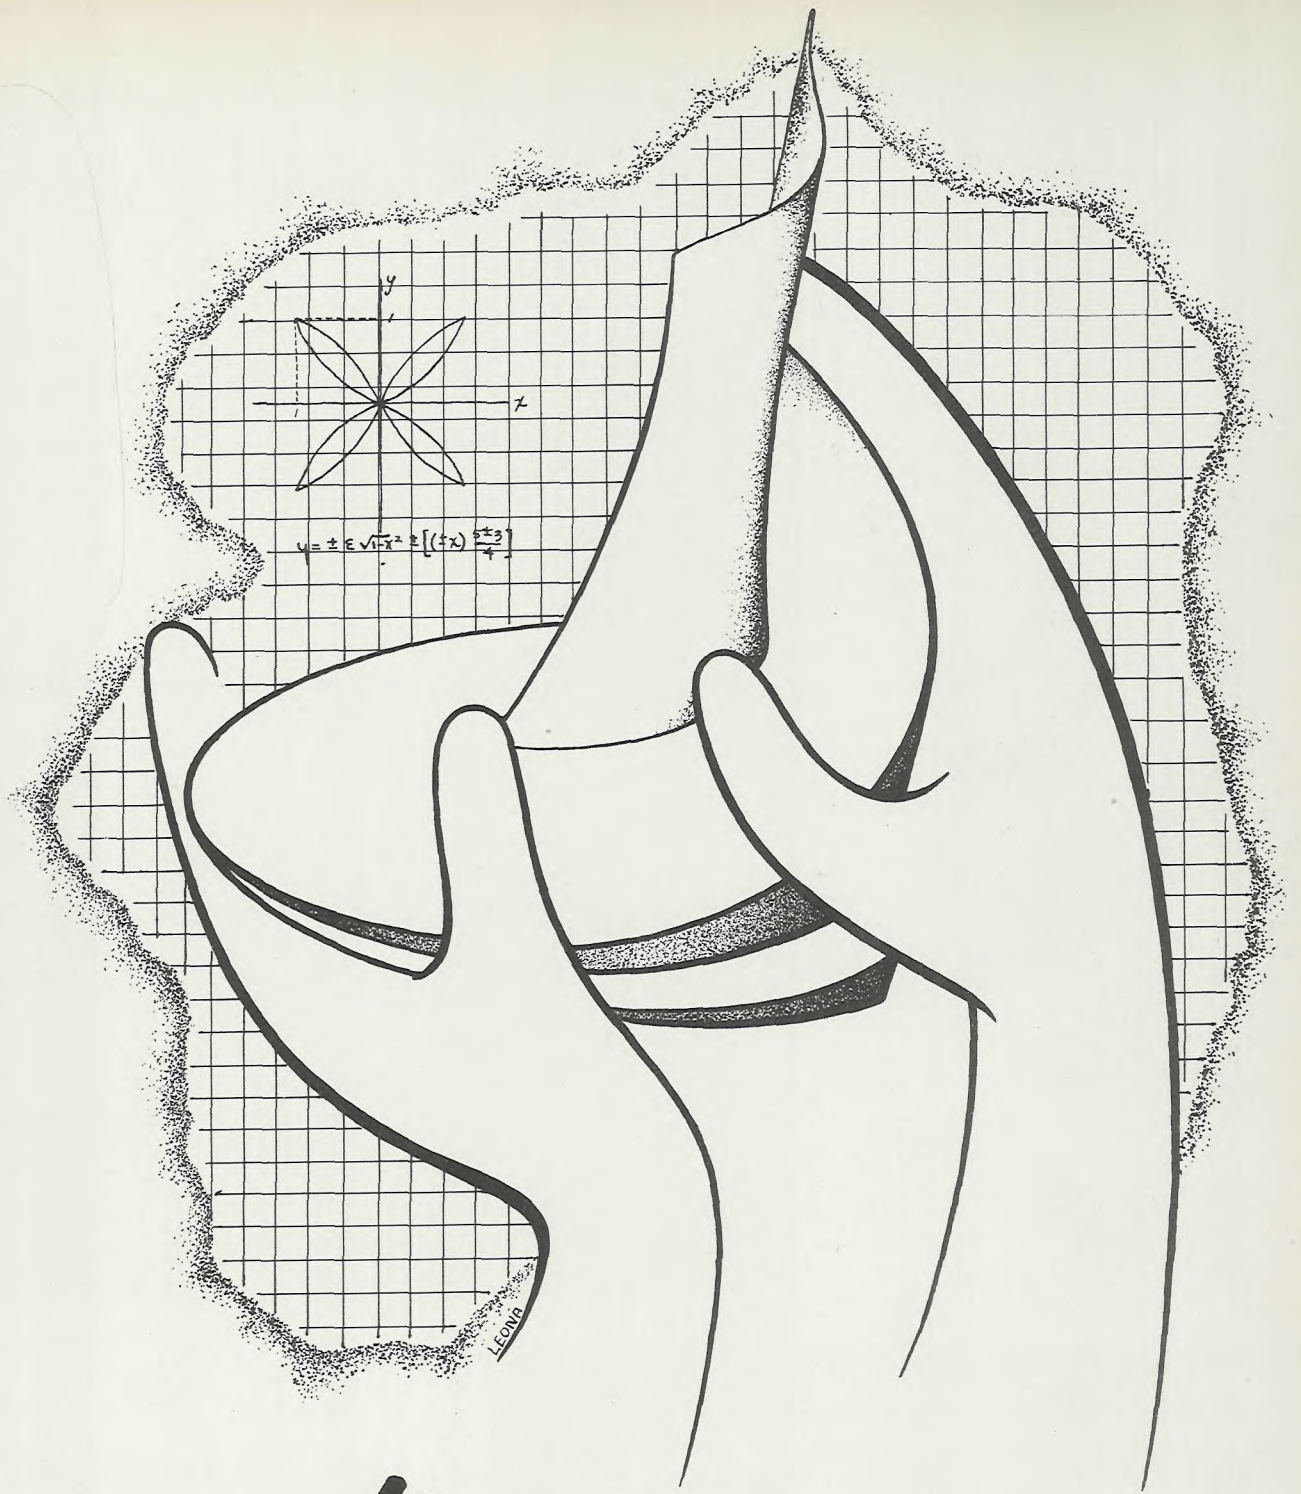

Traveling abroad from Egypt to Greece
Ambassador Hillenbach seeks to win peace.
The world of foreign affairs holds allure
For Redbord and Weber on overseas tour.

Now reading palms at this senior hour
We see teaching success for Barbara Brauer.
Braun receives laurels as merchandise queen,

While Conradi edits Vogue Magazine.
For Bloxom and Collins, twins Nancy and Sue,
Adventures in social work down in Peru;
Enjoying the spotlight of fame near and far
Is the voice of Bob Blakley, musical star.

Adept in the arts of the engineers' school,
In the handling of surveys, compass, and rule,
Are Bankson and Healey, star pupils from Lehigh,
Who'll attempt to build highways up in the sky.

Reviewing these futures, each senior mirage,
We're proud of our classmates and say, "Bon Voyage."

IN MEMORIAM

With great shock and sincere grief we learned of the untimely death of Frank Elia on November 21, 1954. The faculty and student body both feel his loss deeply. His quiet nature and friendly manner were well known to those close to him, and his constant smile was familiar even to those who did not know him well. By the fine spirit which he displayed on the basketball court and the baseball diamond, as well as in all other phases of his life, he exemplified the virtues of good sportsmanship and fair play. We recall with the utmost regret the passing of our fellow student.

Ivanhoe

CHAPTER XIII

The Archery Contest

The name of Ivanhoe was no sooner pronounced than it flew from mouth to mouth. It was not long ere it reached the circle of the Prince, whose brow darkened as he heard the news. Looking around him, however, with an air of scorn, "My lords," said he, "methinks that I felt the presence of my brother's minion, even when I least guessed whom yonder suit of armor inclosed."

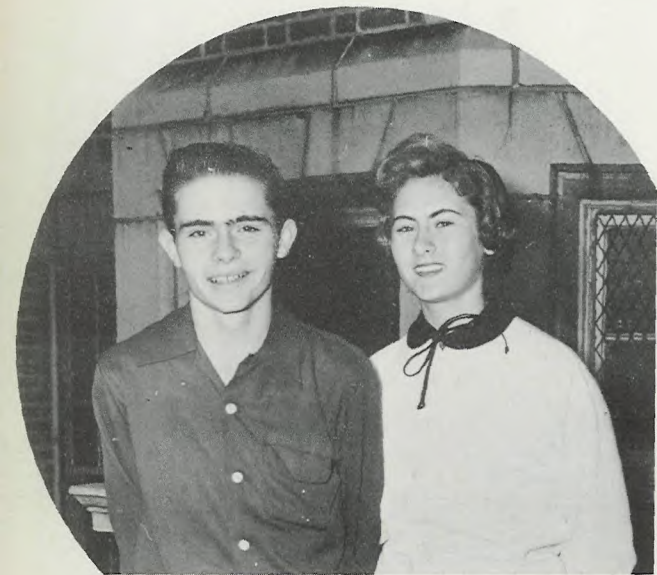

"Front-de-Bœuf must prepare to restore his fief of Ivanhoe," said De Bracy.

"Ay," answered Waldemar Fitzurse, "this gallant is likely to reclaim the castle and manor which Richard assigned to him, and which your Highness's generosity has since given to Front-de-Bœuf."

"Front-de-Bœuf," replied the Prince, "is willing to

The Hand of Leadership...

"WE WILL NOW STAND and recite the Student Council Pledge!" With these words Ed Ross, President of the General Organization, calls the Student Council to order. Ed, with the assistance of Lee Hillenbach as Vice-President, Nancy Engle as Secretary, and Bill Honeker as Treasurer, has led the council through an industrious and successful year.

Al Bettencourt assumed chairmanship of the Leadership Training course, which made its debut in East Orange High this year. The purpose of this course was to improve leadership ability; its membership consisted of representatives, club presidents, and committee chairmen. The course, scheduled to run for a period of thirteen weeks, included in its program a review of the Student Council Constitution, parliamentary procedure, and the purpose of a student council. Al obtained two speakers, Dr. Hamilton McCroskery, who spoke on "Health and its Importance to Leadership", and Mr. Pingui, of the Colonial Life Insurance Company, who spoke on "Living and Getting Along With Others."

While Al enthusiastically carried out his course, several students operated the other branches of the Student Council. The Elections Committee, headed by Tom Leach, conducted the elections of class officers and of the General Organization officers.

As soon as the cold weather set in, Phyllis Vasta, chairman of the Cafeteria Committee, succeeded in obtaining hot chocolate on the menu in answer to the request made by students of the previous year. Al Schreihofer headed the annual canned goods drive, while Marge Bancroft headed the Red Cross gift box drive.

The Student Council is not all work and no play, for it held its annual picnic at which students had an enjoyable time and became acquainted with fellow members.

The News and the Student Council took part in the annual community Chest Drive. They collected the sum of $1,300 in three weeks.

The Council tried to establish a Government Lunch program, which would provide for a complete meal at a low price. This program is possible only if Scott High and V. L. D. adopt it also. Scott is behind us all the way and Bill Bankson, the chairman of the committee, worked to secure V. L. D.'s consent by the end of this year. Bill and his committee did a commendable job in trying to obtain government lunch for us as soon as possible.

Without the able guidance of Miss Leinonen and Mr. Hitchner, the Student Council might not have been successful. All students express their thanks to them.

Study Hall Council

UNDER THE COMMENDABLE LEADERSHIP of its officers—President Kathi Russell, Vice-President Mary Hunter, and Secretary Delora Crews—the Girls' Study Hall Council this year has continued to uphold its good standing in East Orange High School's activities.

Combatting offenses, including chewing gum, talking without permission, and leaving the room for too long a time, is the job of all study hall chairmen.

It is not very often that one finds in a high school a study hall organized and controlled by members of the student body. Faculty members are relieved of responsibility while the leaders of tomorrow are able to exercise their abilities in dealing with others.

East Orange High School's Girls' Study Hall Council is an organization of which every one can be proud, for it takes the cooperation of chairmen and non-chairmen to have such a successful organization.

Social Committee

THE SOCIAL COMMITTEE, under the direction of Miss Leinonen, has used its talented hands to make the social life of E. O. H. S. livelier and more colorful. General Chairman was Delora Crews; Decorations Chairman, Leona Taylor; Secretary, Barbara Cantelmo; and other members were Rae Benesta, Carol Fiore, Tom Leach, Dave Stritmater, George Stewart, Harry Barto, Lenny Lentz, Joe Moore, Carole Brozey, Ginny Merriam, and Vito Cardace.

Hands were busy early in the year, preparing for the first big social event, the New Student Frolic on September 17. In the talent show in the auditorium, gifted Panthers showed the "plebes" their skill, and there was group singing conducted by Mr. Jones. After a journey to the Boys' Gym, where there were refreshments and a social hour, everyone agreed that it was a most enjoyable time.

Amid a glamorous Mardi Gras setting, the honored Junior Class danced to the music of the Katz Korner Band at the annual Junior Prom. February 5 is a date that will be long remembered by those who marvelled at the beauty of the giant chandelier in the center of the "grand ballroom" and watched excitedly the crowning of the Queen of the Mardi Gras. The Social Committee is to be congratulated on its fine decorating job.

Biggest event by far was the fabulous Grad Dance. Highlight of the evening, after dancing to the music of the Rutgersmen was the traditional Grand March, and the crowning of the queen. Decorations in the theme of "Moonlight and Roses" were set off by a silver crescent and rose-covered arbors.

TICK-TOCK, TICK-TOCK. 'Round and 'round go the hands of the clock. Three o'clock—Copy Day time. No time to do anything else. Reporters, typists, photographers, cartoonists . . . 'round and 'round they rush. Darkness settles—work must go on. Tick-tock, tick-tock. Nine o'clock—quitting time (sometimes) until another day.

'Round and 'round go the hands for another eighteen hours . . . another Copy Day. Page planning, headline writing, story writing, rewriting, cutting, adding, editing, eating (the usual supper of sandwiches and cokes from Michael's) . . . All in a day's work—a Copy Day's, that is.

Scratch, scratch, scratch, go the reporters' well-worn pencil stubs (the shorter, the busier). Flip, flip, flip go the pages of Roget's Thesaurus, for headlines are in the making. The NEWS is beginning to take shape. Tick-tock, tick-tock, and the paper goes to press.

One, two, three, four days gone—Galley Day . . . we see the NEWS as it will be. And once again rewriting, cutting, adding, editing, until back to the printer it goes.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday pass. Friday morning—copies of the masterpiece are distributed . . . All through the combined efforts of Advisor Morgan T. Loesch, Business Advisor Arthur A. Lepori, Editor-in-Chief Carol Lucas, Front Page Editor Carol Braun, Feature Editor Kathi Russell, Sports Editor Dave Schaffer, Fourth Page Editor Bobbie Brauer, Managing Editor SuzAnn Diner, and the editorial and business staffs.

ON SEPTEMBER 25 a green East Orange eleven defeated the Bellboys, 18-0. Harvey Amis went over for the first score. Other touchdowns were scored by Thomas and Nelson for our thirteenth win in the East Orange—Belleville series.

On October 2 the Panthers trounced West Side, 32-19. On the first play Hawthorne recovered a fumble and ran 33 yards to score. Brown, Cuff, Munford, and Thomas also scored, with Colvin making two of the conversions.

Steve Thomas, on October 6, led the Panthers to victory over West Orange. Amis scored one touchdown and Thomas and Brown scored two each. Colvin made four conversions, and Nat Brown scored a safety, making the final score 36-6.

Then on October 16, E. O. defeated Irvington, 32-6. East Orange's TD's were made by Thomas, Amis, Marsh, and two by Charlie Brown; Amis and Colvin made the two conversions.

On October 23, the Panthers lost to a strong Montclair team. Although the score was 13-7, the two teams were of equal quality. Steve Thomas scored for East Orange, and Amis made the extra point.

On November 6, the E. O. eleven bombarded the Orange line with little trouble, and many points. Scoring was by Thomas, A. Chiles, Brown, Munford, Amis, and S. Chiles. Colvin made five conversions, making the final score 41-0.

Next, on November 13, East Orange became champions of the mythical Inter-Oranges League by defeating a good Columbia team, 26-0. Touchdowns were scored by Hawthorne, Thomas, and Amis, who scored two, Colvin making two conversions.

On November 20, the Panther fans saw East Orange play its best game in years by defeating the favored Nutley team, 13-6. E. O. scoring was by Hawthorne and Amis, with a conversion by Colvin. This game was truly a grand finale for this series.

Finally, on Thanksgiving Day East Orange and Barringer play their fifty-eighth game. This was the highest-scoring game of the series, as E. O. crushed Barringer, 45-25. Moore, Amis, and Hawthorne made one touchdown each, and Thomas scored four. The two conversions were made by Amis and Colvin.

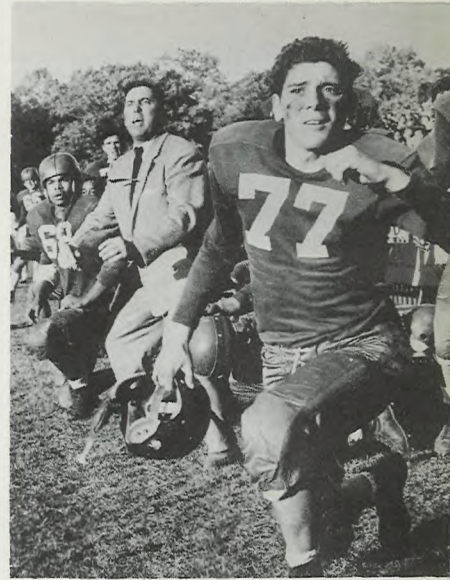

This was a great year for a great team. Although East Orange did not get the championship, it can boast an 8-1 record.

One-hand Push ... Two-hand Set ...

THE 1954-55 BASKETBALL TEAM had its most successful season in many years, winning nine games and losing ten. This is a very outstanding record, considering that our team had to be rebuilt during the middle of the season.

We played our first game on December third, against the alumni, defeating them by a score of 76 to 62. We dropped our first two regular games to West Side, 60-54, and Orange, 52-36. The Panthers then turned the tables by beating Kearny, 64-54, and Irvington, 52-48. After winning these two, we lost six in a row, two each to Nutley and Montclair and one each to Orange and West Orange.

About this time the reconstruction of the varsity began to pay off, as indicated by our victories over Columbia, Belleville, and Bloomfield. After again losing to the consistently formidable West

Orange five, we closed the regular season by taking Columbia and Barringer.

On February ninth we met St. Benedict's for a place in the Essex County Tournament, and we managed to beat them solidly, 59-37. Our best game was played against Montclair, top-seeded in the tournament. Playing an outstanding game, we upset the big Mounties by a 42-38 score. Upon winning this contest, we were matched against Scott High School, a natural rival, for the quarter-finals. A spirited Scott team defeated the Panthers by a decisive score of 60-51, thus eliminating us from further tournament competition.

This was a fine season for the young team of cagers; and prospects look even better for the future, with Lee Sager, Bruce Callen, Seldon Chiles, and John Hatcher returning next year. The team will lose a great asset, however, with the graduation of senior Joe Moore.

Girls' Athletic Association

ALL GIRLS INTERESTED in sports have had the opportunity of joining the Girls' Athletic Association. Those girls who have participated at least three times, thus earning their membership in the G.A.A., have enjoyed a successful year in the organization's history.

A new adviser joined the G.A.A. this year. Miss Filomena Perone, during her first year here, has helped the busy officers strengthen the organization.

To the list of popular activities, including bowling at Emerald Lanes, swimming at the Y.W.C.A., hockey and baseball in the school yard, and basketball and modern dancing in the gym, all of which occur at intervals during the year, has been added an officiating group for seasonal games.

Displayed on the girls' blue gym suits are the chevrons that G.A.A. members are awarded. One chevron is acquired by participating in almost all meetings of one activity. On the chevron is a letter signifying the activity in which the chevrons were won.

Small E. O. letters are awarded to girls who have won five chevrons, while those who have acquired ten receive large E. O. letters. The highest award, an E. O. key, is awarded to any G. A. A. member who has earned fifteen chevrons.

To climax the G. A. A. year, the busy, competent officers, Yvonne Holt and Geraldine Garvin, President and Vice-President respectively, along with the Secretary Kathleen Crichlow, planned the successful annual picnic.
