The new addition to East Orange High School is a testimony of an implicit faith in the future and a realization of its ever increasing needs. The community is building with the hope of better preparing each new generation for stronger roles in our democracy so that each may take an important place in shaping the future of the world. The building continues toward final reality and will stand as a symbol of progress and of new horizons.

Miss Evelyn Lundell, in retiring from her position on the staff of the Department of Home Economics, has left the school and students of East Orange with many fond and cherished memories. Miss Lundell came to East Orange High after receiving her M.A. degree from Columbia, and following five years of teaching at Elmwood School. She has taught the girls of East Orange High — and the boys, too, through Modern Living and Bachelor Cooking — for thirty-three years.

Besides planning to take it easy, Miss Lundell hopes to do some travelling and would like to renew her hobby of silver-working. The student body are appreciative of your untiring efforts to train tomorrow's homemakers and we wish you many happy years ahead.

MISS E. LUNDELL

MISS H. TABER

Miss Helen Taber, who is to leave East Orange schools in June, is no longer teaching in East Orange High School. The demolition of the 1890 building included her craft shop, and another room was not available for her looms and kilns. The students who had her are appreciative of her efforts to teach the practical arts, pottery making, and weaving. We are sorry to have to say farewell, but we wish her the best of luck in her new venture in New England.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

After many years of hard work and planning, a goal was finally realized when early this last year, ground was broken for an extensive, modern addition for East Orange High School. A large portion of this achievement can be credited to the Board of Education.

The Board often burned the midnight oil, working with the PTA, the faculty, and the architects to draw up plans for the addition, and after many different plans were submitted, the City Council accepted one of them and appropriated the necessary funds.

Besides crusading for new facilities, the Board also makes all teacher appointments and approves curriculum changes before sending them to the New Jersey State Board of Education. In this way the East Orange Board of Education helps maintain the high academic rating of all East Orange schools.

ROBERT B. REDMAN, M.A.
Principal

As these pages go to print, skilled hands are shaping durable materials according to plans perfected by an extraordinary corps of educators, architects, engineers, and specialists. This new structure will last 200 years or more. It should serve at least twenty generations.

The fruits of educational effort are often considered more fleeting and more temporary. This is a mistake. The sharpening of insight and the strengthening of moral fiber can be far more lasting than steel and bricks and mortar. The benefits therefrom are often handed down from generation to generation. Life's greatest prize goes to him who makes some worthy contribution to our intellectual, moral, or spiritual progress.

HENRY E. KENTOPP

The theme of this year's Syllabus, "Building for our Future," is most appropriate indeed.

Today's newspaper headlines tell us of almost fantastic things that are being created or seem about to be created — intercontinental ballistic missiles, space ships, vehicles for trips to the moon, 2000-mile-an-hour jet planes, synthetic materials, and automation.

These fabulous achievements are the present end products of man's experience, study, research, and planning over the centuries of his existence as he has constantly challenged the unknown.

But these same newspaper headlines tell us of hot wars, cold wars, recession and unemployment, poverty, social unrest, revolutions, and racketeering. While man is on the verge of conquering space, he paradoxically has not been able to overcome many of the social and economic problems that perplex this world.

Thus we have much to challenge us — the continuation of the great scientific advances and the solution of the socio-economic problems that face all people.

At East Orange High School we firmly believe that education is the key to meet these challenges, and we continually try to improve your education by better techniques of teaching, better school facilities, and constant up-grading of our course offerings, so that you can go forward more adequately prepared to cope with life's problems.

ROBERT B. REDMAN

Miss Massiah, Mrs. Hoagland, and Mrs. Tracy keep our records straight.

The student body wishes to give deepest appreciation to the Board of Education, the East Orange High School Parent-Teachers Association, Dr. Kentopp, Mr. Redman, the faculty, and all those who in any way contributed to the planning for the new addition to East Orange High School.

These people have expended much time and energy working with the architects and the City Council, trying to prepare a workable and adequate plan. We know that without their efforts, there would be no such thing as a new addition to East Orange High School.

We Remember . . .

Our first day in high school left us rather bewildered. How large the school seemed! Where were all those rooms? Before long, however, we knew our way around and were settled in our new "home". The first social function of the year, the New Student Party, acquainted us with the rest of our classmates.

Our football team enjoyed a victorious season, climaxed by a win over Barringer, which allowed us to keep the Old Guard Trophy for one more year.

"Grab your partner and circle left" was the cry as we were off to the "Rooster Romp", our All-School Dance, followed closely by our first Christmas Concert, highlighted by the opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors".

Emerging from vacation to meet our first mid-year exams, we heard frightening reports from "experienced" upper-classmen. We soon realized that the reports were grossly exaggerated, and shortly turned our thought to The Junior Prom, "Snowflake Swirl", which was a huge success. Our basketball team enjoyed what proved to be its best record of our four years, winning 17 and losing only 3. The faculty, as usual, won its game over Alpha Hi-Y by a score of 45 to 42.

Broadway came to East Orange with the student-faculty production, "My Sister Eileen", followed by the Spring Concert, including the opera "Down in the Valley". Then the whirl of General Organization elections, the Grad Dance, and the final exams made us realize that soon we should no longer be "low man on the Totem Pole".

Peggy Fitzsimmons gives directions to a visitor.

Sophomores—we were proud of that! We came back to school to greet our new principal, Mr. Robert Redman, who took over after Mr. Knight's retirement. The position of football coach was now open, and Dr. Donald Fuoss came from West Virginia to lead the Panthers to a successful season climaxed with a Thanksgiving Day victory over Barringer, which allowed us to keep the Old Guard Trophy.

At Christmas time we were aware of another change. Mr. George Gilbert was our new music director, and he added his new ideas to the music program, making it even more delightful.

After vacation came those mid-years; and after them came the Junior Prom with its theme, "Winter Wonderland", and its queen, Barbara Larsen. Our basketball squad enjoyed another victorious year, again reaching the semi-finals in the Essex County Tournament.

Spring brought more than hay-fever to East Orange. The student-faculty production was the hilarious Broadway comedy, "The Man Who Came To Dinner". Soon the campaign wagons started to roll for the G.O. election, and when the results were in, Nick DeSantis emerged as president, with Joe DeCapua, Barbara Larsen, and Barbara Jacobitti as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

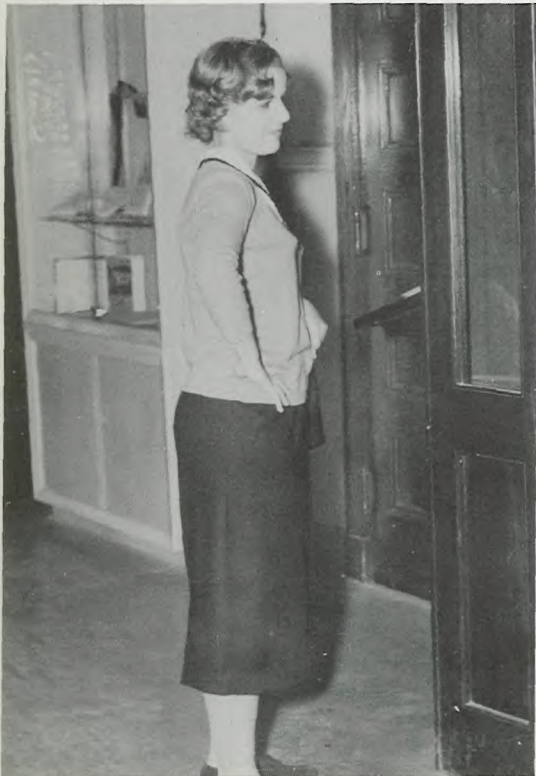

The end of the year brought the Grad Dance, and we realized that the day was coming when we would be upper-classmen.

At last we had reached that long-awaited moment—we were upperclassmen. We looked down benevolently as the Freshmen and Sophomores held their “Howdy Hop”, but we really were proud when one of our number, Shirley Hendricks, was chosen as the first “Football Queen” at the All-School Dance.

Thanksgiving came before we had fully adjusted to our role as second-in-command, and we found ourselves facing Barringer with a 3-won, 5-lost record. Although the score was close, we mourned as the Old Guard Trophy went to Barringer for a year, but we could still look forward to regaining it as seniors.

The Christmas Concert was as beautiful as ever and led us into a whirl of holiday festivities from which we emerged to greet those grueling mid-year exams. In the midst of a blizzard, we found ourselves trudging to a “Hawaiian Paradise,” the Junior Prom, but seeing our own lovely queen, Shirley Hendricks, surrounded by her stunning princesses, Lena Potuto, Constance Catania, Marlene Belgioso, Diane Arthur, Sheila Martin, and Frances Badalamenti, made it all worthwhile.

“Trunk Crime”, the student-faculty production, was a smashing success, and another success, the Spring Concert, followed close on its heels. Since our class was taking over the Student Council, the General Organization elections were more important than ever. Nick Spiezio took the helm in the final ballot, while Marie Sellitto, Judy Quinn, and Lenny Barbato secured the posts of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. Now we realized that after the formality of the 1958 graduation we would be in control. The Senior Prom, held for the first time outside of school, climaxed the year and filled our heads with visions of the year to come.

Receptionist Connie Catania makes every minute count.

Surprises were in store for us as we returned to find our kingdom diminished. Wrecking crews made the “old building” vanish before our eyes, and as seniors we saw the first spade of dirt turned for the new addition—an addition we would never use. Crowded conditions had to be alleviated by overlapping sessions, and we calmly adjusted to a new schedule.

Class elections began the year, and we sailed ahead with Carl Vasta as president, John Gonnella as vice-president, and Louise Yannuzzi and John Martin as secretary and treasurer respectively. At Thanksgiving the Old Guard Trophy was regained in the climactic game of our first undefeated-untied season in 60 years. With this victory, we were assured of State Championship honors, while two of our classmates were chosen as part of the All-State Football Squad.

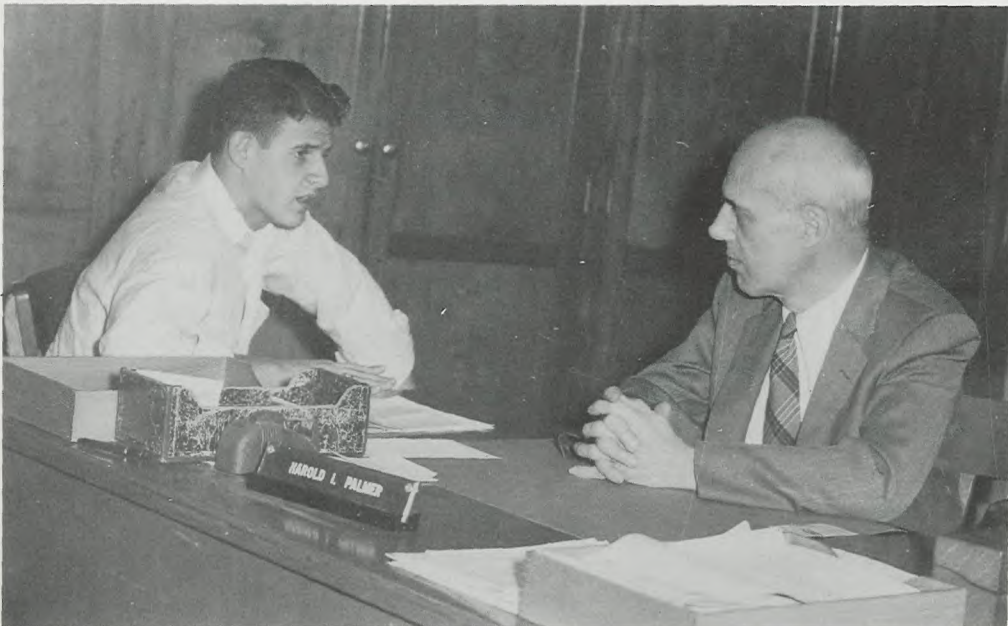

The All-School Dance started the holiday season with its theme of “Happy Holly Daze”, and we suddenly realized that the “Lasts” had begun. We saw our last Christmas concert, took our last long exams, and enjoyed “John Loves Mary”, our last school play. The Junior Prom raced by, and the Junior-Senior Assembly came before we realized it.

As tears of nostalgia filled our eyes, only two “lasts” remained: one, our own Senior Prom climaxing our high school social life; and two, that long-to-be-remembered day—Graduation. To each of us that moment on the platform carried its own special significance and memories—memories which will serve as the building blocks for our futures and as measures of our successes.

L. Yannuzzi, Secretary; C. Vasta, President.

We Built This Future . . .

Hello, viewers! This is your EOBS reporter speaking to you from the spaciouly built lobby of that modernistic new wing of East Orange High School. Tonight some of the most renowned people of the world have gathered here to celebrate the first reunion of the Class of 1959. From all appearances, this promises to be the most spectacular reunion since the beginning of reunions.

First let's look at the program for the evening. The delicious dinner was prepared under the direction of that outstanding dietician Suzanne Eckert. Decorations were supplied for the occasion by Quinton Rowe. The program cover was designed by Alice McGhee and was printed by Al Tennaro and Donald Tranberg.

Glancing at the list of entertainment, I see that we are honored to have with us those noted Metropolitan Opera stars Eleanor Hooper, Wanda Valachi, Fred Benesta, Norman Pinkard, and Allen Hoffman. Fashion queen Shirley Hendricks is here with some of her famous models, including Lena Potuto, Patricia Munford, Diane Arthur, Suzanne LaMartine, and Betty Raiford. Those dance tunes that you hear in the background are coming from that celebrated combo which features Lennie Barbato and Joe Riesebeck at the trumpets, Ozie Myricks on the clarinet, Earnest Norwood on the trombone, Harold Evans at the drums, and Diane Samich at the piano. Also on the program, Nettie Roberts and Becky Burnett are scheduled to do some of their interpretive dances.

As I wander about the room, I notice some of the representatives to the recent World Engineering Conference, Robert Donovan, John Beyerle, Deane Major, and Jacques Meyer, talking with noted architect Ronald Ryan and auto designer Charles Genna. Nearby, a group of teachers are comparing their students. Dr. Frank Molen, head of the Department of Mathematics, is here along with Joan Cooney, Eleanor Johnson, and Lorraine Malson.

Let's go into the trophy room. This looks like an athletic Hall of Fame. Here are baseball stars Ed Roberts and Andy Allen, who paced their team to the World Championship last summer. Talking to them is Ralph Sanders, who recently made headlines by breaking the world's record for the half-mile run. All-Americans Al Volpe and Tony Moschella are recalling their high school football days with Ray Somma, the man who brought the Davis Cup back to the United States, and with roller skating champ Roy Hines. Over on this side of the room, the Harris girls, those amazing stars of the last Olympic Games, are chatting with airline hostesses Lynne Maple and Judy Quinn.

Let's rejoin the crowd in the main room. Oh, look! There is the new Governor of the state of New Jersey, Nicholas Spiezio, who managed to take enough time out of his busy schedule to come up here to be with his high school chums. With him is another state official, Chief Justice Joseph (Buddy) Tieger. Nearby I see photographer Anthony Cantelmo taking pictures of Katherine Webb as she autographs copies of her latest best-selling novel. Dashing all about the room, writing up their stories, are newspaper reporters Helen Gott and Arlene Tyler, with an assist from secretaries Louise Yannuzzi and Carole Angelos.

That conversation in the background is coming from the group of distinguished men seated over there. From what I hear of the conversation, Dr. Robert Greenberger is discussing the future of the world with Professor Edward Kanegsberg, labor leader Hugh McGlynn, and those famed scientists Reiner Schachler and Anthony Cozier, who have just returned from one of their many exploratory trips to the moon.

Our time is almost up, but before I sign off, I should like to thank those who have helped with this broadcast. Our cameramen were Marlene Belgioso and Eloise Nero. Technical assistants were Peggy Fitzsimmons and Tom Pompilio. The program was directed and coordinated by Marie Sellitto.

This evening we have witnessed the reunion of one of the most distinguished classes that ever came out of any school. What will become of them in the future? We shall have to wait to see, but we are all expecting many more accomplishments from the members of this talented class. This is your EOBS commentator, Ronald Ceres, signing off!

FIRST UNDEFEATED, UNTIED SEASON

The 1958 football season will be long remembered by East Orangeites as one which made history and brought great honor and prestige to the school and community. By attaining the first undefeated-untied season since 1899, the Panthers won themselves a berth as co-state champions along with a powerful Plainfield eleven. Trophies and awards rolled in from many newspapers and athletic associations. In the Saylor and Cotillon ratings, East Orange was at the top along with Plainfield; and the Newark News named the two teams as co-state champions. Two members, Al Volpe and Ed Roberts, made first string on the All-State team, while Tony Moschella and Cliff Baskerville made the third team. All four were named to the All-Essex team.

Opening the season with an impressive victory over Belleville by a score of 32-2, the Panther gridmen demonstrated the strong scoring power that characterized the squad during the entire season. Able quarterback Cliff Baskerville piloted the team with precision and accuracy, scoring twice on two short plunges from the two-yard line and passing for two others. He passed to right-end Thurman Davis for a 15-yard play and left half-back Bob Hooper for a 55-yard pass-run play for 12 more points. Andy Allen scored the last touchdown on a blocked pass. Egidio Caruso converted 2 out of 5 points after touchdowns. Belleville's only scoring came late in the fourth quarter with an intentional safety giving them 2 points.

Things looked rough for the still young champs as Nutley scored early in the game when they recovered a fumble and went 5 yards for a TD. East Orange retaliated when Baskerville completed a pass to Davis for 15 yards. The junior quarterback scored twice with two short plunges into the line. Caruso converted 2 for 3 for a final score of 20-6.

West Orange fell prey to the ground gaining offensive and hard hitting defensive of East Orange by a score of 28-6. Right halfback Earl West let loose, scoring three times on short plunges climaxing sustained drives. Baskerville went through the center for another Panther score. Caruso converted 4 for 4. West Orange was the only team to score on the impregnable defensive unit. They recovered their own fumble in the end zone. East Orange lost an excellent ball player when linesman Andy Allen received a broken leg in that clash.

Irvington followed the tide of East Orange's other foes. They were unable to score while E.O.'s Earl West scored three times. On two pass-run plays he covered 60 yards. The sophomore half-back electrified the crowd when he broke loose for a 96-yard run TD. Substitute quarterback Harold Johnson crashed through the line for 6 points. Caruso converted 4 for 4 extra points for a score of 28-0.

With torrents of rain pouring down on an already drenched field, the Panthers went on to beat their formidable foe in their next contest with the Mounties, 14-6. Lightning Bob Hooper scored both times for the big Red and Blue, on two 50-yard off-tackle plays. In this weather Caruso was still able to kick 2 for 2. Montclair scored when a wet ball slithered through the hand of Felix Del Mauro as he was attempting to punt from deep in our end zone. East Orange played a strictly defensive game in the second half, kicking eight times to the Mounties.

Mounting in strength and in experience, the Panthers shut out West Side 25-0. Baskerville copped two touchdowns as he burst into their line. He also passed to Thurman Davis on the run with a pass play that covered 50 yards for a touchdown. Left-end Ed Roberts advanced a fumble for a 15-yard TD. Caruso converted 1 out of 4.

In a field day against Orange, Cliff Baskerville led the Panthers to victory. He scored two touchdowns in that fray on short plunges. End Joe Jenkins also scored twice on a blocked punt and a fumble, and Hooper and West scored on runs of 25 yards and 43 yards respectively. Johnson scored on a quarterback sneak from the one yard line. Egidio Caruso converted 4 out of 5 and Hooper ran for 1 point. Final score, 47-0.

Columbia fell under the pressure of the well-knit East Orange squad. Quarterback Baskerville scored twice on a plunge and an 8-yard run. He also hit Davis for 16 yards to add to the score. Rellah ran 14 yards to score again, bringing the total to 25-0.

Thanksgiving Day brought a surprising twist as the powerful Big Blue fell to the undefeated-untied Panthers by a 27-7 margin. Drives ended in scoring plays with Baskerville crashing the line for 2 TD's and Hooper scoring with a 4-yard run. Rellah plunged 6 yards to score the final TD of the season. Caruso kicked 3 out of 4 in front of a capacity crowd. Barringer scored by blocking a punt in the end zone deep in their own territory.

Twenty-three players lettered for the Panthers this year with twelve seniors playing their last high school game. The outlook is bright for next year's team as 11 lettermen are expected to return.

Assistant coaches Mr. Simpson, Mr. DeSantis, Mr. Cumens, Mr. Von Stetten, and Mr. Adams go over the schedule with Dr. Fuoss.

Coach of The Year

In September of 1956 Dr. Donald E. Fuoss became head football coach of East Orange High School. This year, only three years later, he has brought honor to the school, to the community, and to himself by leading the Panthers to their first undefeated-untied season since 1899 and by being named the Essex-Union Counties "Coach of the Year" by the New York Sunday News.

Born in Altoona, Pennsylvania, Dr. Fuoss attended Altoona High School, where he participated in football, boxing, and wrestling, and as a senior he was captain of the football squad.

After serving in the Army in Europe he attended Catawba College, in North Carolina, where he was an All-State center. While there, he was also president of the student government and an honor student. He was awarded his M.A. in 1948 and his Ed.D. in 1952 from Columbia University Teachers College.

From 1948 to 1952 Dr. Fuoss was coach at Bethany College, West Virginia; from 1953 to 1955 he was head coach at Shepherd College in West Virginia, where he was named "College Coach of the Year" by the West Virginia Sports Writers Association after leading his team to its first undefeated-untied season.

A modest man of many talents, Dr. Fuoss also has written a successful book, Quarterback Generalship and Strategy, and has another to be published this year. He has contributed to many professional journals and magazines. Despite his busy schedule, he still finds time to be a family man and to belong to many civic, fraternal, and professional organizations.

The student body expresses appreciation for the honor brought to the school by its "Coach of the Year."

LEFT TO RIGHT: R. Hooper, A. Schito, J. Harrington, J. Clarke, G. Sager, A. Bennett, R. Pearsall, A. Hamilton, E. West, R. Thiry, J. Daniels, J. Murza, M. Brown, R. Clark, T. Davis, J. Palumbo, R. Paris, W. Bauknight. CENTER: Frank Milner, Coach.

Suffering from a lack of height and offensive strength, the Red and Blue Five started slowly, and even a stronger finish was not sufficient to improve the final six won, ten lost record. High scorer for the season was senior Mel Brown, who rolled up 200 points in the seventeen games for an 11.8 average, followed by John Murza with 129 points, Allan Hamilton with 98, and Ronald Clark with 96 points.

Opening the season at West Side, the Pantherite squad fought a tough uphill battle, falling to the West Siders by a score of 62-44. Ronald Clark shot 16 points on East Orange's behalf, but West Side's Randy Trawick sparked his team with 30 points.

In the team's debut in our own gym, Kearny came from behind and gained 22 points in the second half to win 52-37. The Panthers' first taste of victory came in the next clash when they downed Irvington by a docket of 52-48.

Orange's Bob Melvin provided the difference in the first of the three frays with that team. Melvin scored 24 points to lead his team to a 44-34 victory.

Mel Brown capped the victorious efforts of the Panthers with 20 points in a 57-47 victory over West Orange, but the next three games saw defeat from the strong offensives of Nutley, Orange, and Montclair.

Sparked by the possibility of gaining a berth in the Essex County Tournament, the squad won three of its next four clashes, rolling over Columbia and Belleville, losing a close game to Bloomfield, and winning once more over West Orange.

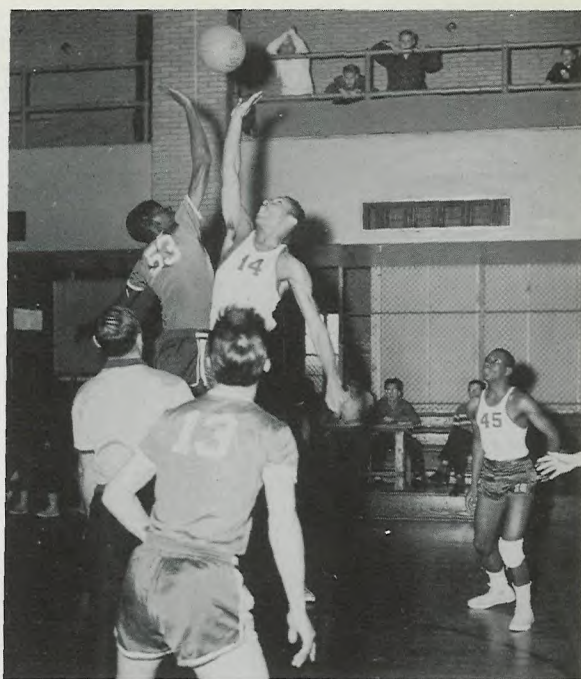

In the second game with Columbia, Columbia revenged its earlier loss with a 48-39 win over the Red and Blue. In the only overtime game of the season, the Panthers eked out a 52-51 victory over the Big Blue of Barringer, but fell to Montclair once again in the regular season finale.

In the opening round of the Essex County Tournament, the Panthers drew Orange as their opponent. Orange had defeated them twice before in regular season play, and once again Bob Melvin, who led his team to the Tournament Championship, was the Panthers' nemesis as he scored 21 points to help his team eliminate East Orange from the Tournament by a score of 47-39.

With three of five starters expected to return next year, the outlook is for a more experienced team with a stronger offensive than this season.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

"Don't wait 'til you're old and gray—Join the G.A.A. today." With this slogan the Girls' Athletic Association began its 1958-59 season showing that sports are not just for the boys and trying to have "a sport for every girl and every girl in a sport."

Ooops, Missed!!!

The G.A.A. officers this year were Barbara Thompson, President; Thomasina McFall, Vice-President; Joanne Cocagee, Secretary; and Sandra Graddy, Hostess.

The fall season offers either field hockey or volleyball. The girls who participate in volleyball are given the opportunity of playing with several other schools. As winter approaches, plans are made for the indoor sports.

Basketball begins in January and lasts through March. The highlight of the season is the student-faculty game with the proceeds going to charity.

Girls who belong to the officials group learned how to officiate at four major sports—hockey, basketball, volleyball, and softball.

At all times during the year, there is badminton, ping-pong, tumbling, and softball. Also, one day a week, there is bowling at the Palladium for all interested girls.

In June the G.A.A. awards, based on participation, are given at a program that takes the form of a recreation day, and new officers are installed. This brings the busy G.A.A. season to a close.

We extend our gratitude to Mrs. Scuderi, Miss Perry, and Miss Allan for their fine guidance and assistance.

OUR STUDENT COUNCIL

Through the commendable work of President Nick Spiezio, Vice-President Marie Sellitto, Secretary Judy Quinn, and Treasurer Lenny Barbato, the East Orange High School General Organization has completed another successful and productive year.

The Student Council got under way with two orientation meetings where Parliamentary procedure and the proper method of drawing up bills for presentation in Council were discussed by Nick Spiezio.

The Banking and Music committees continued with their successful work this year providing a student banking service and cafeteria music, respectively. The possibility of vending machines was also investigated.

For the first time in many years an "open Student Council meeting" was conducted in front of the entire student body and faculty at a Student Council Assembly. Its purpose was to show the rest of the school how the Student Council functions. Many interesting topics were discussed with queries from the audience being answered by members of the Council. Its outcome was gratifying, and it is hoped that Student Council Assemblies will be held every year.

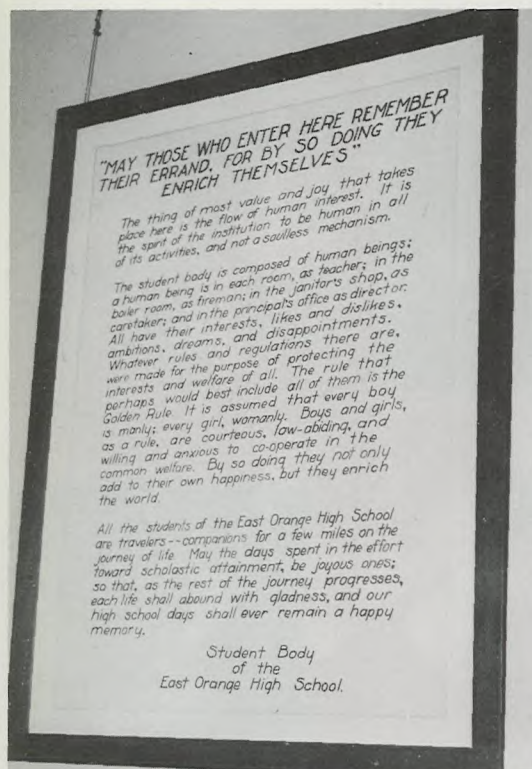

The Investigations Committee, under the direction of Shirley Hendricks, got under way in January. Its duty is to investigate homeroom representatives to see that they are giving students a full and accurate report of all that takes place in council.

A highlight of the year was a trip by the Student Council members to the State Capital at Trenton. There they saw both houses in session and heard Assemblywoman Williams introduce resolution to allow Nick Spiezio to have the floor. Governor Meyner spoke to them and answered their questions for ten minutes during that busy day.

Thus the Student Council of '58-'59 closed with many thanks to Miss Leinonen and Mr. Hitchner, without whose competent guidance it could not have completed such a successful year.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The Social Committee, under the direction of Miss Ellen Leinonen, General Chairman Inese Zeltins, Decorations Chairman Chancey Calice, and Secretary Carole Wollmuth, has completed another fruitful year, not without many hours of hard work and planning. The Committee helps plan and decorate for all the school dances or social affairs.

The social season began on December 6, when the boys' gym was transformed into a holiday setting for the All-School Dance. The theme for this dance was "Happy Holly-Daze", and this holiday feeling was accentuated by the rendition of three lovely Christmas melodies by the Vocal Ensemble. The gay dance music was provided by the school Dance Band, under the baton of Mr. Joseph DiFluri, and we were honored to have some members of Mr. DiFluri's "Buddy Dee" band play for us. All in all, it was a tremendous success.

The Junior Prom was held later this year than in previous years, but that didn't detract from its success as on April 4, the gym was turned into a mood of "Moonlight Magic". The queen and her court of princesses were lovely, and during the crowning ceremony, "The Uniques", who supplied the music, played a medley of tunes that had "moon" as their theme. We were also entertained by the newly formed Boys' Quartet, consisting of Richard Walker, Allen Hoffman, Norman Pinkard, and Skippy Hooper. They sang both old and recent popular numbers and helped make the evening more enjoyable.

At a senior class meeting held in December, the seniors, recalling the success of last year's Senior Prom, voted to have the Grad Dance held for a second year at the Hotel Suburban. A committee of parents and students met on several occasions to decide on business matters relating to the dance. The memorable event took place on June 5, and the coronation of the queen and the traditional senior Grand March added to the excitement of the gala evening.

DEPARTMENT OF VOCAL MUSIC

This year in order to attract more students to the music program, some changes have been made in the music groups. A new mixed group, the Choraliers, has replaced the Spirituals Choir, and Girls' Glee Club I has become the Choral Training class.

The beautiful and impressive Christmas Concert with its traditional processional, "At Solemn Midnight," proved to have a varied program ranging from the gay "Jingle Bells" to the religious "Hodie Christus Natus Est." Also at this time of year, members of the music department travelled over much of the city caroling at some of the schools and at the hospital. On December 22, we watched our own Vocal Ensemble sing on television on Governor Meyner's show.

On February 14, many of our students contributed to an operatic recital held at Clifford Scott High School, where they participated in an adaptation of the famous Verdi opera, "Aida." This required much after-school rehearsal time for all those included.

Highlighting the second semester was the Spring Concert. As usual this evening was light and gay, packed with the fresh, new feeling of spring.

We give thanks and appreciation to Mr. George Gilbert, the school music director, and to Mrs. Elsie P. Davis, who is really more than just an accompanist, for making this a memorable and thoroughly enjoyable musical year.

THE SYLLABUS

We of the Syllabus staff are appreciative of all that has been done to make the 1959 Syllabus an outstanding publication, but the majority of the students are not aware of the labor and problems involved in its production.

When the students receive The Syllabus in June of each year, they receive a product that has had fifteen months of preparation behind it. The story of a yearbook begins with the selection of the editor-in-chief more than a year before the date of publication. The editor is chosen from a group of applicants by Mr. Redman and his committee. The person chosen immediately begins work by attending (in New York) conferences relating to yearbook production. He and his chosen staff look at other yearbooks and attend meetings to get ideas for the new book.

In the fall the work begins in earnest. The pictures must be taken, the copy written, and the dummy or plan sheets prepared. After much hard work and many headaches, the book is ready for the printer. When the proofs come back, the staff reads them and makes corrections before returning the proofs for final printing. When the books are delivered, they must be sorted and matched against the accounts. Then the day finally comes when they are delivered to the student body.

Our deepest gratitude goes to our editorial sponsor, Miss Marion K. Bragg, without whose valuable experience this book could not have been a success, and to Mr. Howard Wolverton, Jr., for his competent work as business sponsor. We are especially proud to have worked with our fine editor-in-chief, Ed Kanegsberg, who has done an admirable piece of work.

THE NEWS

Our school newspaper, The News, was published twelve times this year through the combined efforts of Kay Webb, the Editor-in-Chief; and of the News Board and Editorial Staff, under the direction of Mr. Krueger; and of the Business Staff, under the guidance of Dr. Risinger.

The work on an issue begins with ideas for stories and articles. The pages are planned and the articles written. Then typewriters start flying, stories are cut, headlined, rewritten, proof-read, and subheaded, as the lights in Room 213 burn until all hours of the night and the editors start pulling their hair out.

Finally the paper is ready for the printer. Four days later, on galley day, the final corrections are made and sent back for printing. The papers arrive the day before distribution, and the Business Staff counts and prepares the papers for delivery to the homerooms where they are read by most of the students and faculty. Now the newspaper staff should be able to relax. But, no! The next paper is due in three weeks. So, back to work.

An important step in each issue of The News is the paste-up at which this group works busily.

GIRLS' STUDY HALL COUNCIL

Under the leadership of President Lynne Maple, Vice-President Sheila Martin, and Secretary Carole Angelos, and with the helpful guidance of Miss Ellen Leinonen, the Girls' Study Hall Council completed its thirty-eighth year of upholding its outstanding record in E.O.H.S.

The duties of the chairmen include taking attendance and watching for gum-chewers and girls who annoy the other members of the study hall. This year their job was further complicated by the fact that, because of the construction program, the study halls were held in the auditorium or students' lunch room, which are not so conducive to study as were the regular study halls. Fourth period study had the added inconvenience of having students from third lunch walking and talking in the halls just outside the auditorium.

East Orange High, one of the few schools to have student supervised study halls, acknowledges the fact that the Study Hall Council has proved itself to be indispensable in training study hall chairmen to exercise leadership and responsibility.

COMMUNITY SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

Continuing their fine service to the city of East Orange and the surrounding area are the Candystripers and the members of the Junior Red Cross, which is under the leadership of Miss Gentis and the Junior Red Cross Council. The participants in these activities have given many hours of work to help those who are less fortunate than themselves.

Winning the hearts of patients at East Orange General Hospital, the Candystripers have offered their time and energy in bringing a little bit of sunshine to the shut-ins at the hospital. Under the guidance of Miss Ruth Lindsay, the girls have achieved great distinction as they perform their duties with quiet efficiency.

The organization, begun by Miss Lindsay at Vernon L. Davey Junior High School in 1944, and coming to East Orange High School in 1954, was so successful that the idea of junior nurses' aides has spread to forty-seven states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Israel, and Australia. This is indeed a distinction for the city of East Orange.

The girls perform such duties as giving ice water to patients, taking care of flowers, delivering trays, feeding patients, and running errands.

The other service group is the Junior Red Cross. This year, through the efforts of the Council and the Junior Red Cross representatives in the home-rooms, enough money was donated by the student members to buy a wheelchair which was given to the Kessler Institute in West Orange. The student body deserves commendation for its wholehearted support of this drive.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

In an effort to stimulate more interest in our school's clubs, the Inter-Club Council has proved a useful organ of the Student Council.

Headed by its chairman, Marie Sellitto, and consisting of all club presidents, the Council began a project of "chartering" clubs. Every club must have a copy of its constitution and other information on file in Room 102 in order to be recognized by the Student Council.

Problems such as support, publicity, and club projects are discussed at Council meetings. The Council also serves to set up a workable schedule of club meetings so that meetings do not conflict, and in general, sees that the clubs afford maximum benefit to the students.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club this year started a pen pal project. Yugoslavia, Malaya, Germany, and China are a few of the countries represented on the pen pal list. We also hope next year to welcome to the rank of a perennial organization the new History Club, formed this last year.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

He who is ignorant of foreign languages, knows not his own.

—Goethe

This year will go down in East Orange High's history as a very active one for the language clubs. Le Cercle Francais took a trip to New York City where the members visited the United Nations, ate at a French restaurant, and went through an art museum. The Club also held a Christmas party for its members. At this party, the members played French games and sang French Christmas carols.

The highlight of the season for Los Cervantinos was their Christmas party, held on December 17. Records, dancing, Spanish songs and games, and a reproduction of Christmas in Spain were the main items on the program. The club also gave a skit at the Rutgers University Language Day in the spring.

Circolo Italiano had two parties during the season, a Christmas party, and a "Pepsi-Pizza" Election Party at the end of the season. At the Christmas party, Italian refreshments were served and the members sang Italian carols, danced, and played games.

An important project of all the language clubs, along with the language classes, was the adoption of "language months." Under the direction of the department head, Mr. DeMarzo, a month was assigned to each of the four foreign languages taught in the school. The project started in December with Spanish Month. The Spanish classes and Los Cervantinos made posters and signs and posted them on all the doorways of the school. Each sign had a phrase in Spanish, its English translation, and an explanatory, and sometimes humorous, illustration. January was French month, with French sayings and phrases replacing the Spanish. Latin and Italian took the next two months in that order. Each group also made an attractive display in the trophy case of projects by some of the students or of articles imported from the country represented.

SCIENCE CLUBS

The "Dawn Patrol", with Mr. Piel and Mr. Shaich, apply the principles learned in the 6:30 a.m. television course.

There were many changes in the science clubs this year. Because of conflicting schedules, the Chemistry Club did not operate but a new group was formed for all interested students. This new group, called the "Dawn Patrol" by its members, was not actually a club, but a class with a regular, prescribed curriculum. The Dawn Patrolers awoke in the dark hours of the morning to see the T.V. program, Continental Classroom, a course in physics for this atomic age. They would then trudge off to school, arriving as the sun was rising, and all the members gathered to do experiments and discuss the lesson. Started by Mr. Piel, and directed by Mr. Shaich and Mr. DeSantis, this project was considered a valuable experience by all participants.

The Biology Club continued its busy activities again this year. The biology science fair of last year was so successful that the Biology Club decided to run another this year and open it to all the sciences. This fair was held on November 21, in the students' cafeteria to accommodate the large number of projects. Barbara Lawrence won in the biology category with her project about roots, while Eric Adams took top honors in the basic science category with an Electric Water Table Quiz. First, second, and third place winners in both categories were awarded trophies while honorable mention awards included a subscription to a science magazine. The projects were judged by Dr. Charles Hadley of Upsala, Dr. Rufus Reed of Montclair State College, and Mr. Emil Piel of East Orange High.

The Astronomy Club had many interesting discussions relating to recent astronomical achievements and discoveries. Work was also continued on Project Vanguard, a model rocket designed by the members of the club using features of the various missiles used by the U. S. for space research. This project was started last year and work on the actual model was well under way by the end of this season. The club also took a trip to the Hayden Planetarium in New York and had a party during the Spring season.

OUR SERVICE CLUBS

Providing an invaluable service to East Orange High School are the Projectionists Club and the Library Council.

Members of the Projectionists Club can be seen scurrying through the halls with projection equipment. The members set up the movie or slide projectors and operate them for any teacher who is showing a film or slides. Some of the members work only in Mr. Bowden's office, making out assignment slips for the operators.

The Library Council members assist Mrs. Beebee in the library, checking out books, straightening shelves, and do much of the non-technical work, thus helping the students who use the library and also helping themselves through increased knowledge. The council also had a Christmas party in the Teachers' Lunch-room.

Students who participate in either of these two activities are doing a great service to the school and to the community and are also receiving valuable experience and knowledge for themselves.

The addition to East Orange High School as the architect envisions it in 1960.

Youth Service
Free Public Library
East Orange, New Jersey

The new addition to East Orange High School is a testimony of an implicit faith in the future and a realization of its ever increasing needs. The community is building with the hope of better preparing each new generation for stronger roles in our democracy so that each may take an important place in shaping the future of the world. The building continues toward final reality and will stand as a symbol of progress and of new horizons.
