

SCOTT

Our school is a playground full of wonder and sight. Our school is a magazine full of fashions galore. Our school is a campus full of lots of surprises. Our school is a sturdy building full of pride and dignity. Our school is a park full of nature and rhyme. Our school is a wealth of knowledge waiting to be passed around. Our school is a thought thinking of the wonders of the world. Our school is the seed creating knowledgeable students. Our school is the bridge to future careers. Our school is a beauteous sight full of love, magic, and life. Our school is magnificent, joyous, and giving. Our school is full of committed staff. Our school is "family". Our school will always be here.

Clifford Scott enjoyed superb campaign

GROUP 3: Quisanah Noel and Swiyaa Abdullah teamed for 30 points, 14 assists and nine steals to lead No. 12 Clifford Scott to a 71-41 rout of Shabazz.

By Rick Bliwise

Assistant Sports Editor
John Atkinson, the personable head coach of the Clifford Scott High girls' asketball team, readily admits that the 1997-98 campaign came to a frustrating close with a heartbreaking loss to Sparta in the Group 3 state semifinals.
But still, it was a remarkable year for the East Orange school as the Scotties finished with a top 25-3 mark. The Scotties made it to the ECT finals against powerful Columbia, and save for an early season loss to a strong Mendham club, played excellent ball throughout the year. In fact, few clubs in The Garden State played any better.
"I think we surprised quite a few people with the way we played this year," said Atkinson, whose team edged Bloomfield in a semifinal thriller in the ECT at Essex County College in Newark. "Maybe we didn't qchieve all of our goals, but heck, I think our girls just gave a superb effort. They should all be very proud of what we were able to do this winter."

Clifford Scott, which has spotlighted one of the strongest programs in Essex County for some years now, depended on a number of kids this had those kinds of numbers. People winter, but the unquestioned leaders knew coming into the season that she were 5 -foot- 6 senior guard Swiyaa could play tough defense and rebound Abdullah and 6-2 senior center well, but they didn't expect her to Danielle Coleman. It was Abdullah become the kind of scoring threat that who made the dramatic winning shot she became."
against Bloomfield in the ECT, while Coleman developed into a major force in the middle, particularly during tournament time.
"I really have to give Danielle so much credit for the way she played this year," remarked Atkinson, whose team was hoping for another shot at Columbia in the TOC. "Heck, she averaged around 140 PDE 11.5
 rebounds and 7.0 blocked shots, and I an unselfish kid."

such great players over the years as Dana Wynne, complemented Coleman and Abdullah with the likes of junior guard Quisanah Noel, sophomore forward Patricia Williams and senior Sallie Cooper. Cooper, the team's valuable "sixth man," averaged a solid 9.5 ppg .
"I think after our early season loss to Mendham, people really had doubts about us," commented Atkinson. "But we picked things up right away, and began to play the kind of basketball we're supposed to.
"And you know what, even though we lose some top players through graduation, I think we're still going to be a pretty good club next winter. We have some talented kids in the program, and I expect those girls to contribute a lot next season."

COURT NOTES - Cooper, who has also played well in softball for Scott, always impressed Atkinson with her "excellent work ethic."...
Noel teamed with Abdullah to give the Scotties one of the finest backcourts in New Jersey this season...
Atkinson says that the ECT victory over Bloomfield was one of "the most exciting games" that he's ever seen in the high school ranks. The Scotties let a big lead slip away against the Bengals, but still came through when everything was on the line.

Underclassmen join the C.J. Scott High School family and reflect school life in a positive way. Some of them are named "Official Scotties". These young ladies and gentlemen distinguish themselves academically and co-curricularly.

Juniors have an opportunity to be named to Girls' and Boys' State. These selected students spend a week on a New Jersey campus participating in valuable programs through group dynamics. Underclassmen also are given the opportunity to apply to summer programs sponsored by Seton Hall, Stevens, and NJIT for enrichment.
